Agricultural Study May Be Added to H.S. Courses

The Board of Education met on Monday evening, with the following members present: J. B. Belshaw, Chairman; E. G. Bailey, E. Luery, C. F. Linn, Dr. C. F. Watt, F. T. Ward, C. R. Bastedo, Dr. H. H. Alker, J. S. Borton, G. B. Bedford, W. Wright and H. C. Martin.

The chairman of the Property committee, J. S. Morton, reported that the former manual training room has been re-arranged for use as a class room as well as manual training room, and that it was thought this arrangement would prove satisfactory.

Mr. F. T. Ward expressed his gratitude to the Board for their kindness during his illness.

C. R. Bastedo, of the Legal Committee reported that dental inspection, according to the Public School Act, was the duty of the Board, but not in the case of the High School. The latter was left in the hands of the local Board of Health. It was thought advisable to carry out the same method of inspection as had been the case last year. In connection with the grants for the teaching of Agriculture in the High School it was found that the annual grant for each course in Lower and Middle School would be $100. A teacher's grant of $120 per year was also obtainable, as well as a grant for the establishment and maintenance of school garden plots.

Dr. Watt, chairman of the Teachers' Committee reported that one hundred applications had been received for the position vacated by Miss McGuire at the Public School. Miss Jean McCubben had been engaged to take charge of the primary work. Mrs. H. Rollins, he reported, had been acting as supply teacher, owing to the increased attendance. It was felt that she had been very generous in this respect, having been willing to teach for any required time, from one half day each week to full time, at the same time assuring the board that she was willing to relinquish the position in favor of any teacher who needed the position and the board saw fit at any time to engage. Mrs. Rollins' services had been greatly appreciated by the Board. Owing to increased attendance, and as one change was, of necessity, made in the staff, it was thought advisable to engage another full-time teacher, and accordingly Mr. Snider, of Roslin, a former S. H. S. student, was selected to fill the position. The Manual Training grants had been reduced, the first year grants having been reduced by 11 per cent.

It was moved by Mr. Linn, seconded by Dr. Watt that Mr. F. L. Short, former principal be forwarded the manual training grant which was still due from last year.

Mr. Martin explained the Board of Health could recommend Dr. Watt as Dental Inspector to the Dept. of Health. Grants for same could be obtained. The inspection had been a success in the past and it was felt that some move should be taken to interest parents in this work.

Dr. Watt explained the similarity of the proposed Agricultural course to the present Science Course. It was stated that all High School standings remained the same with the proposed course, which would qualify a Public school teacher in Agriculture with no summer course. He thoroughly explained the two courses and asked each member of the Board for their opinion re adoption of the Course in the High School. The grants were, it was thought, sufficient to cover any additional cost, the present equipment being used in the Agricultural course also. Several members were of the opinion that just at the present it was not advisable to change, although the majority of the Board were in favor of the Course if it could be adopted at no additional cost. The Chairman of the Teachers' Committee stated that as a teacher had to be engaged for the Fall term it was advisable to do so right away, while the supply was more plentiful and the choice greater. Therefore it was necessary to know whether to engage a teacher qualified in the teaching of Science or Agriculture. It was stated that 116 schools in the Province of Ontario had successfully made the change, and in one particular instance 53 per cent. of the pupils had returned to the farm. The opinion of several of the members was that many would have to go back to the land before the present economic situation could be bettered. This course would better enable the boys and girls to carry on the farm work because of a scientific study of soils, animal husbandry, etc. (A comparison of these two courses will be found elsewhere in this issue). It was moved by J. S. Morton, seconded by H. C. Martin that the Teachers' Committee be authorized to find a teacher to fill the vacancy and report to the Board for their approval—Agricultural teacher preferred. Motion carried.

A matter with relation to salaries was laid over to the next regular or special meeting.

It was unanimously decided by the Board that the services of Mr. R. Lamb, as caretaker of the two schools be retained.

It was moved by B. Bedford, seconded by J. S. Morton.

MRS. DOBBIE INJURED IN CAR ACCIDENT

On Sunday evening, about 6.30 the Editor and Mrs. Dobbie met with an almost fatal accident, three miles east of Cobourg, while enroute to Stirling from Toronto, by motor. When in front of the Livingstone pony farm, the car struck a rut of ice and the front wheels jumped out. The brakes were applied and unfortunately the highway was very icy at this point, and the car slewed and shot like a bullet off the road. What happened after that, until the car landed on its side in the ditch, after snapping off a telephone pole, is still hazy to the writer. Upon investigation, Barbara, seven months old, who was asleep on the rear seat, was removed from the overturned car and was found uninjured. Mrs. Dobbie received a gash in the forehead and was pinned down by the car and displayed great pluck in directing the rescuers, for in no time a crowd had assembled. The car was lifted up and she dragged herself out and was rushed to a doctor in Cobourg, where her wounds were dressed and it was discovered that she was badly bruised. She later proceeded to Mr. C. B. McGuire's home in Belleville, where she is now awaiting recovery to enable her to be taken to the hospital for an X-ray to fully determine her injuries. The Editor escaped with a little shaking up and outside of a couple of spots that feel as if he had been kicked by a mule and a dizzy head, caused by a slight concussion, is none the worse, and is fortunate to be alive to tell the tale. How the occupants escaped more serious or fatal injuries is a miracle, and had it not been for a piece of the broken telephone pole holding most of the car's weight off Mrs. Dobbie, she would have been crushed to death.

The Dobbie car was following a car driven by Mr. P. C. McGuire, of Belleville, who was accompanied by Mrs. McGuire and Margaret Ann Miss Ruth Martin, who was returning from a visit in Toronto, and Isabelle Dobbie; the latter witnessing the accident through the rear window, and gave the alarm. It was indeed fortunate that there were no other occupants in the wrecked car.

The car was taken to the Wilson Garage, Cobourg, and the only damage was a bent front axle, right rear and front fender, and the right door sprung and one flat tire. There was no glass broken.

Mr. Ivan Martin motored to Cobourg, and brought his sister, Ruth and the Editor, Isabelle and Barbara to Stirling. We appreciate very much the kindness extended us by our friends since the accident. We also desire to specially mention Mr. and Mrs. Barnes, who reside on the pony farm, in front of which the crash occurred, for their kindness in opening their home to us, and who did all in their power to alleviate our distress. Also Mr. Allan, of Belleville, who rushed Mrs. Dobbie to the Doctor and later to the McGuire home in Belleville.

Mr. Bob Bibby has accepted a position at Rollins' Tonsorial Parlors.

DOGS NOT ALLOWED

Hon. Chas. McCrea, minister of the Department of Game and Fisheries, brought down an amendment to the act, before the Provincial Legislature prorogued a week ago, which bans the dogs for hunting deer, moose or caribou in Ontario. This will be unpleasant news to deer hunters in this district, who claim that the depletion of deer is not due to the hunting with dogs, but is caused by wolves.

WELFARE CLUB

The last regular meeting of the Spring term of the Stirling Community Welfare Club will be held next Tuesday, April 12th. The Women's Institute will serve the Club dinner at 7 o'clock in the Community Hall. The program committee has spared no pains to make this meeting the best of the series and have prepared a program of all local talent. It is the desire of the Executive that every member make a special effort to be present at the dinner as a good time is assured.

HOCKEY

Toronto Nationals defeated Fort William hockey team 1 to 0 last night, thereby winning the Senior O.H.A. championship of Canada, as they had defeated the Thundering Herd 7 to 4 in a game played in Montreal on Monday night.

The Sudbury Wolves defeated the Winnipeg Monarchs in the latter city two games out of three and won the Junior O.H.A. championship for the Dominion.

Toronto Maple Leafs defeated New York Rangers 6 to 4 in the latter city on Tuesday night. This was the first game in the play-offs for the World's championship. The second game will be played in Boston tonight and the third game in the Arena Gardens, Toronto, on Saturday night.

STORM DOES DAMAGE

Damage of thousands of dollars is estimated to have been caused in the Quinte District by the queerest and most violent electric, snow, sleet and rain storm seen in this district for years, which occurred on Saturday. The telephone company reports that the damage was the worst incurred through a storm in ten years. The countryside was strewn with uprooted trees, and telephone poles by the hundreds, and wires were down for long stretches along the main highway and section roads on Sunday and Monday. Both the Hydro and telephone crews had to work without cessation from Saturday until Monday in an effort to repair to damaged lines. Several small fires were caused in Belleville and points along the front of the county, by trees and branches creating short circuits, but none was of a serious nature.

THE CANADIAN LEGION

The Stirling Branch of the Canadian Legion appears to be well on its way to achieving its objective. The membership is now thirty and many other applications have been received. The meetings have been well attended and the programs have been enjoyed by all. The members have been making good use of the club-rooms and it is not often that veterans are not to be found therein after 4 p.m. All veterans are welcome at any time. At the last meeting Major C. F. Watt gave a lantern slide address on England and familiar scenes in France. Lt. Col. H. H. Alker was recently made an Honorary President. It was decided that a Church Service should be held to commemorate the three battles in April in which the Canadians participated, particularly Vimy Ridge. Although it was impossible to make arrangements for April 10th, as originally intended, arrangements have been made to hold this service on April 17th at the United Church at 11 a.m. The next regular meeting will be held on Thursday, April 14th at 8 p.m. All members are requested to be present and all veterans are welcome.

St. Andrew's Guild Holds Impressive Meeting

On Tuesday evening in St. Andrew's Church a meeting of unusual interest was held to include all the young people of the district. Both St. Paul's Y.P.S. and the A.Y.P.A. were well represented in the audience and on the program in response to the invitation of the Guild. The large number present were much impressed by the helpful topic and the exceptionally fine music carefully chosen to fit the occasion. A song service of familiar hymns served to promote a feeling of brotherhood and fellowship. Mr. R. W. Meiklejohn, who officiated as chairman addressed a few well-chosen words of welcome to the visitors. This was followed by another hymn and an anthem by the choir. Mr. Craven then read the Scriptures in a very capable manner and Mr. Reid led in prayer. Mrs. J. Butler then favored the gathering with a solo "The Old Rugged Cross" which also fit in very nicely with the topic and was much appreciated. Mr. Dermity gave an interesting talk at this point on the Crucifixion. He traced Biblical history to show that this mode of execution was in use among the Ephesians and Carthaginians, and from earliest times among the Greeks and Romans. It is possible, he stated that the idea was borrowed from the Romans by the ancient Jew in the crucifixion of Jesus Christ. Mr. Dermity brought to the minds of those present a very vivid picture of the horror and shame of such a death. As a climax in his talk he produced three miniatures of the various types of crosses used, namely in the shape of an "X", another "T" shaped and lastly the one known as the Latin cross as used in the crucifixion of Our Lord.

Mr. Allan rendered an organ number, parts of that great oratorio "From Olivet to Calvary" by Maunder. It is seldom we are privileged to listen to such fine music and it was truly a treat. Arthur Duncan carried on with the topic. In his opening remarks he stated that while most of us knew the true meaning of Easter, it must be admitted that we, as a civilization have capitalized on this season to almost a dangerous degree. We find manufacturer's depending a great deal on this season for a large amount of their year's profit. With our eye on the material benefit along these lines, let us not lose sight of its real meaning. From this point on he illustrated his ideas as to why the Crucifixion of our Lord was a necessary part of God's plan. This illustration was carried on by an arrangement of blocks, representing God, Satan, the Will of Sin, and Man. It was well done and proved interesting to young and old.

Mr. G. L. Clute sang a number of the solo parts of the oratorio from "Olivet to Calvary" which is the entire story of Christ's crucifixion. Mr. Clute had very cleverly arranged these solos by linking them together making them as one unbroken story and the music is, of course, the work of that great composer Maunder. Mr. Reid closed the meeting with prayer and everyone felt glad to have been present and benefited by the splendid program.

In regard to the Routley Construction Co. tender for waterworks general contract a resolution moved by Reeve West and passed at a previous meeting was rescinded and a new motion passed and carried to make the procedure in order.

J. M. Magee, tax collector, reported outstanding taxes and a special meeting of the Council was held last night to deal with same.

The following letter was received by the Clerk from John M. Robb, Minister of Health regarding the waterworks:

The regular meeting was held on Tuesday at the home of the president, Mrs. C. Wright, with 21 members present. The meeting opened by singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds". This was followed by prayer by Mrs. Lansing. The 23rd Psalm was repeated in unison. Minutes of last meeting and treasurer's report was given and adopted. An invitation was sent to Carmel Woman's Association to be present at the next meeting, May 3rd, to be held in the evening, in the church parlors. The June meeting will be an open meeting. A very enjoyable reading was given by Miss Hume, entitled "Aunt Nancy's Quilting Bee". Mrs. Shaw gave a very instructive address on "The International Peace Garden". The meeting was brought to a close by singing the doxology, followed by the Mizpah Benediction.

STIRLING W. I.

The April meeting of the Women's Institute met at the home of Mrs. T. Spry, with an attendance of over thirty. Meeting opened with the Institute Ods and two selection from the song sheet with Mrs. C. Cain at the piano. All stood and repeated the Lord's Prayer. Minutes and business of last meeting dealt with. It was decided to have the annual meeting on Friday afternoon, May 10th. The program for April was in charge of Mrs. A. Hammond and Mrs. C. Belshaw. First number on the program was a pleasing duet by Mollie Belshaw and Irene Bronson, "Tip Toes through the Tulips", accompanied by Mr. C. Allen at the piano. Mrs. C. Belshaw gave a good paper on "Beautifying the Farm Home". Many places are beautified by trees and shrubs. Mary Tulloch gave a good recitation. Miss Nellie Kent gave a piano selection "Black Hawk". Mrs. A. Hammond gave a good paper on "Personal Borders". She told about the flowers that start to bloom in early Spring until late Fall in these borders. Mrs. Hammond put on a flower contest. Roll call was answered, by naming a perennial flower. Lunch was served and the meeting closed with the National Anthem.

PRaise for Public Servants

(St. Mary's Journal-Argus)

These are times when responsibility rests heavily upon those who are in public office. From the prime minister down to the township councillor there is apt to be a constant fire of criticism. Some people think of the town or township council as a body of small importance. But after all the local municipal body has to do with the things which affect every day life and is therefore perhaps the most important institution of government so far as the individual is concerned. The rural councillor serves the public for little or nothing. Oftentimes his only pay consists of a lot of bitter and sometimes uncalled for criticism. But he is serving the public well and is a good citizen. The township clerk, too, though he gets a small salary, is a worthy public servant who plays an important part in the affairs of local government. His duties are exacting, requiring much knowledge and experience. The township clerks in this district are able men who take their duties seriously. Their real work is not always appreciated.

(Thorold Post)

Mrs. Annie Maud Cotter, who has resided at the home of her son-in-law, J. J. Porter, Bolton avenue, for several years, passed away last night at an advanced age, and funeral preparations are under way as we go to press. She was at first accompanied by her youngest child, John. One by one the rest followed, and all in time became married and well established in

Let's all be optimists for the rest of 1932. It just depends on your point of view. Be the kind of fellow who always greets you with a grin, and a friendly slap on the back. Keep facing the sun and the shadows will always fall behind you. It does not cost anything to be an optimist. It's just a state of mind.

A kind man does not judge others, he tries to see good in everyone, and what he does. Kind words cost us nothing, yet we often grudge them. The habit of speaking kindly can be formed and what greater eulogy could be spoken of one than to say "She or he is so kind." The editor can rightly use the latter phrase in speaking of many who have been more than kind since the motor accident on Sunday near Cobourg, in which Mrs. Dobbie was seriously injured.

The News-Argus is very sorry to learn that the Deseronto Post is to suspend publication with its issue of April 27th. The Post was a widely known weekly and its Editor, Harry M. Moore, with his comments, has made the Post a much-quoted weekly. This drastic action has been taken due to lack of support by subscribers and advertisers. The weekly paper has been hit hard in the present depression and unless whole-hearted support is given there will be other weeklies follow The Post in suspending publication.

Who's paying Peter? Collections are deucedly slow, in fact quite slow. So say collection agencies, business men and even doctors. In spite of this undisputed difficulty in obtaining satisfaction for just debts we find sports palaces of all kinds holding capacity crowds night after night—and the fans paid for their admission. What in the world is the matter with the sense of moral obligation today? Is it existent, even, we wonder? "Pleasure at all costs, debts be hanged," seems to be the universal motto. What a deplorable condition! When people adopt such an attitude of irresponsibility our whole economic system is threatened. The sooner we jacked ourselves up and realize the trend of modern methods of living the better 'twill be for us all.

Seeking Friends

Almost every person would like to have friends, to go places, to be consulted, courted, loved. The question is, "How do you get that way?" Simple enough it is. Who are the folks that people like, who are in demand, who are always happily busy? They are the ones who are interested in many things and in many people, who have taken up activities, who stir out and try to help in the world's work, to better conditions, to help others. It is easy enough to be lonely, neglected, forgotten. Just become self-centred; do not take up any special interests; do not join with others in trying to put anything across; do not exude loving sympathy and try to give a lift to anybody. Whether you will be forlorn or sought after depends on you. If you are a recluse, you will not meet or know the nice people about you and they will not know or appreciate you. If you sincerely like folks and have kindred interests with them and work and play with them, you will have friends. There's not a chance in the world of a public spirited person becoming lonely.

It is supposed to have happened when Peggy Joyce was having her appendix trouble at a private hospital.

A male patient across the hall was about to be discharged. He received a stiff bill.

Male Patient—Here, here, this is outrageous! It is too expensive.

Doctor—You have a check to complain about the price! Do you realize we placed you practically next door to Peggy Joyce?

Male Patient—Gosh! For that much money I should have been in the same room with her!

Rip up that well worn mattress, Take out that roll of bills, They tell us we're contributing To Jack Canuck's worst ills. Shake out the china teacup That hides your money hoard, Dig up your garden strongbox, Lift out that loose floor board. And then—we blush to mention it— But girls of every rank Should turn their backs and take the bills

From their own First National Bank.

Mother—I don't think the man upstairs likes Johnny to play his drum.

Father—Why?

Mother—Well, this afternoon he gave Johnnie a knife and asked him if he knew what was inside the drum.

Scared Stirling Husband—I can't bear footsteps. I think there's a man in the house.

Disgusted Wife—I don't.

Gladys—What color bathing suit was Helen wearing.

Ethel—I couldn't tell—her back was turned.

Correcting the pronunciation of a friend is probably the most dangerous experiment.  This will not be an entirely satisfactory world unless every woman has a man's shoulder to weep on.  It is predicted that the forthcoming spring style ladies' dresses will fasten in the back. Another coast to coast hook-up to annoy us.  A good name is of more value than a bank roll, but the crook prefers the money.

Housewife—So you have been married before, Mrs. Smith?

New Servant—Yes, ma'am, three times; and if it pleases 'eaven to take this one, I know where I can lay me 'ands on a fourth.

Actor—Why did you give up the stage after appearing in that old Roman play?

Friend—The audience wanted me to be thrown to them instead of to the lions.

MacSponger—Come here, Billie! Don't you know who I am?

Billie—Yes, I've heard daddy speak of you often. You're mother's cousin who stayed here two months one time and never offered to pay a cent for board.

Judge—Are you positive that the defendant was drunk?

Officer (growling)—No doubt.

Judge—Why are you so certain?

Officer—Well, anyhow, I saw him put a penny in the patrol box on Fourth Street, then look up at the clock on the Presbyterian church and shout "It's 14! I've lost fourteen pounds weight!"

The enthusiastic young salesman was warning up to his work. Seizing his prospect by the lapel he said earnestly:

"Yes, sir, these iron window sashes of our will never wear out. Once in, they're there for eternity! And afterwards, if you have no further use for them, you can sell them for old iron!"

Jack—It is said that a very thin partition separates genius from lunacy.

Joe—Yes, a man who is learning to play the saxophone lives in the flat next to mine.

MONEY IN CANADA

The assertion that there is no lack of money in Canada at the present time has been abundantly proven during the last few months. Three distinct offerings of bonds in the space of a few months, and in each case the issue has been quickly and generously over-subscribed.

First came the Dominion of Canada issue of bonds for $150,000,000. In four days that huge issue was over-subscribed to a much greater extent than even the most optimistic had dared to hope for. Soon after, the province of Ontario placed on the market a $25,000,000 bond offering, and this was over-subscribed within a few hours. Last week the city of Toronto made its appeal to the financial markets, and in less than two hours an issue of over $15,000,000 had all been taken up, with overwhelming demands for more.

These facts bear out the oft-repeated statement that there is plenty of money available in this country, if it can only be turned into the regular channels of distribution. It was re-

MADOC JUNCTION

Mrs. Arnold Wannamaker, of Stirling visited her aunt, Mrs. Geo. Clarke during the week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. McCaughan, of West Huntingdon spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Wannamaker, who have just moved here.

We are sorry to hear that Mr. E. T. Williams of Stirling had been taken to Belleville Hospital on account of serious illness and heart trouble.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Fitchett are planning to attend the concert for the Orange Lodge in Holloway.

Miss Lenora Stapley is staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bronson, of Stirling, who have been on the sick list.

Miss Keitha Stapley has been on the sick list but is reported able to be out again.

Rev. T. P. Bennett, a former Madoc Junction boy is now in Palestine and is writing to friends here about his travels.

Mrs. E. O. White, of Toronto also writes that she enjoys receiving the home paper with news of her old schoolmates here.

We are anxiously waiting to see what the papers will have to say about the storm on Saturday and that will likely be news for the far-away folks.

Just Folks

A blazing fire in winter and a garden in the Spring—
A bed of pansy blossoms and a tree where robins sing.
Some trinkets in the corners of the little home we keep,

A few brave years of laughter and the tears that all must weep.
'Tis only these we gather through the time we have to live:
As soon we shall discover these are all this life can give.

Though fame and wealth may lure us; though both of them we gain,
The home must ring out with laughter, or all the rest is vain—
And love must bid us welcome when all the struggle's done
Or patry are the prizes our strength and skill have won.

So let's give some thoughts to tulips and a garden in the spring—
Let's take the time to listen when the robin redbreasts sing.
Let's plan the home for laughter, and let's not forget to keep
The faith we shall be needing when it's time for us to weep.
For if there be no friendships, and loved ones cease to smile,
Then neither fame nor fortune for long can be worth while.

Mount Pleasant asked us to send in an extra budget this week so we started looking for something to write about as soon as we received the paper. News seems to be scarce at least the items that are considered news by our readers here. M. P. also hoped to see us in Belleville, so it seems we are to do both — sort of three in one this week.

Right here we would like to say that we will be delighted to have any of our readers who will phone us or send us items for the paper. But in future we do not intend to send items that are just hearsay.

The meeting on Friday night was postponed indefinitely, although the West Huntingdon speakers were all ready to come, in spite of bad roads. Some of our farmers are still losing valuable stock.

Very few Easter visitors were reported. No doubt another sign of the times.

Mrs. Russell Stapley was called to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bronson Stirling, again last week on account of sickness.

Miss Kellar, of Rawdon, spent the Easter holidays with her sister, Mrs. Deardrie.

Miss Dorothy Juby has secured a position and has been in Belleville for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clarke entertained several of the Mission Band girls last Sunday.

The Mission Band meeting was held in the Church on Sunday after Sunday School. Miss Dorothy McMullen is now President.

As there are no church services to report we might say some of our people heard services over the radio, all so listened to the York Bible Class. Mr. Massey read St. John, twenty-first chapter, and spoke from the words "You Can't Saw Sawdust."

Among the hymns were "Foreward be our Watchword", "Breathe on me Breath of God" and "Onward Christian Soldiers". The choir sang "Lift up your heart, Lift up your voice, rejoice". Mr. Massey's address was as usual inspiring, with appeal for the future. He said a letter signed "Yours for the future" gave him inspiration.

Another listener enjoyed hearing Dr. Clay, a missionary speaking in Syracuse, N.Y.

And another reports hearing the Ontario Educational Association speakers one day last week. Among them was the wonderful Sir John Adams and Premier Hry, speaking from the Empire Club Banquet at the Royal York.

We read an article recently that began by saying "There are no public servants who are so deserving of 'fame' and who yet enjoy so little of it as those 'generals in ambush', the Editors of great or small influential newspapers." And as that has been our own opinion for over twenty years we read the whole article and a "mysterious satisfaction" came to us when we found that the writer's subject was "the illegible writer" and among them were the names of great and eminent writers. Horace Greeley, Benjamin Franklin, Carlyle and others, and the writing was described as a "terror to the human race", a "message of Satan to those who had to read it" while the chirography of another suggested a couple of roosters with spurs inked and set fighting on the virgin sheet; and if some signatures are a true specimen of handwriting, Editors must thank Heaven for stenographers. Horace Greeley was called the great unreadable, with signature all that was intelligible. All this made a wonderful appeal to us for like the writer of the article, after over twenty years of sending in items, the only cloud is our illegible pen the writer goes on to say. The staff, more in sorrow than anger have suggested a special brand of pencil—we ourselves suggest a special brand of paper—anything to save our printers from "the profanity and cussing" that even a Sunday School teacher has been known to indulge in (yes, we mean some printers are Sunday School teachers). But we have to admit our News-Argus staff can do wonders with our original copy, and we are sure this "mysterious sense of satisfaction" referred to will appeal to all humble writers who feel in looking over copy sometimes that they need an interpreter, especially when time is limited and copy resembles "barbed wire lines". Sometimes of course, one suffers from mistakes for instance, says the writer, in referring to a late saintly minister of (King and Simcoe) the printer had sent in "Kind and Simple." Before we end this, we hope the staff will not forget that Horace Greeley and B. Franklin both began life as printers.

(Crowded Out Last Week)
Here is a bit of history quoted from remarks made by Rev. Fred Eastman several years ago that sounds amusing these days of rush and speed. It has been less than one hundred years since a school board in Ohio passed this resolution addressed to some young men: "You are welcome to use the school house to debate all proper questions in. But such things as railroads and telegraphs are impossible and rank infidelity. If God had designed that his intelligent creatures should travel at the frightful speed of fifteen miles an hour by steam, life would have foretold it by the holy prophets. There is nothing in the Word of God about them. It is a device of Satan to carry the souls of the faithful to perdition."

Three former Madoc Junction girls who are far away, namely Mrs. Fred Douglas of Rockton, Cal.; Mrs. Pidgeon, of Alberta and Mrs. Dodds, of Viking, Alberta, often write of their appreciation of receiving a copy of the "Home" paper and this week Mrs. Dodds enclosed a clipping from an Edmonton paper that may be of interest to Stirling friends of Mrs. Chard. Mrs. Douglas writes that roses are in bloom, fruit tree blossoms are nearly gone at Stockton and from the window as she wrote, walnut trees were to be seen with pepper trees, and the evergreen of the eucalyptus, gorgeous California poppies had just been received from a friend in Oakland and gardens next door were a riot of color — pink bushes, purple flag lilies, with tulips and China lilies nearly gone. Mrs. Douglas has only visited Canada once since leaving here thirty years ago, but says although she has made 'the land of gold and golden fruits' her home, she never forgets old Canada and her home friends and wishes to be remembered to all the friends of long ago. But space is fast expiring and chances for mailing are also growing less every week. These verses were enclosed in her letter:

The Hills of Home

They're spread out to the east of us
Like dreams that mark the night—
A fairy fancy feast for us,
Blue shadows of delight.
That lift their changing vision
To the brooding azure dome,
Oh the hills of Calaveras
Seem to me the hills of home.
They're mine so many long years,
Each crag and shrub and tree,
These hills of Calaveras
They're just a part of me.
The hills of North and South arise
To their fair majesty.
And my heart bows down in worship
To their fair majesty.
But the hills I keep in treasure
No matter where I roam,
Are the hills of Calaveras
Which I count the Hills of Home.
Former Dorothy Chard Presented in Senate Chamber

Mrs. Thomas Grindley, before her marriage in Edmonton early in the new year, Dorothy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Chard, was among those presented to their Excellencies the Governor-General of Canada and Lady Bessborough at their first Drawing Room since coming to the Dominion, according to word received by Mrs. Chard Monday morning. The drawing room, which was held on Friday evening, February 5, was in the Senate Chamber, decorated for the occasion with masses of flowers and ferns. Mrs. Grindley wore her wedding gown of parchment satin, with the conventional veil and Prince of Wales feathers, and carried an arm bouquet of cream roses touched with pastel pink. A number of the season's debutantes were presented to their Excellencies on this occasion, among them being Miss Marjorie Peten, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Graham Peten, former residents of Edmonton.

There were over twelve hundred guests at the affair, including among them Major General W. A. Griesbach and Mrs. Griesbach, Dr. and Mrs. H. M. Tory and Dean Boyle, formerly of the University of Alberta. Congratulations to Mount Pleasant in "enduring" for twenty years and we hope to hear more from West Huntingdon in the future. Some of our ladies had beautiful lilies in bloom for Easter in their homes.

School re-opened on Monday after the Easter holidays. At the Allar School four new pupils began their educational career, namely Ross and Ralph Jeffs, Douglas Martin and Bert Sharp. Gladys Summers also started in the Williams School. The youngsters have had a delightful holiday skating, sleigh-riding, making snow-men, etc., which is quite unusual.

Our burg was treated to a heavy thunder storm on Saturday evening for a short time the lightning certainly flew from the telephones. On Friday one could see bare fields and plenty of mud. Saturday afternoon it began snowing and in the evening we had hail and sleet, followed by more snow. On Sunday several cutters and sleighs were in evidence, also one lone auto, which had to be pushed in several places.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Weaver and Frank, of Stirling, were guests on Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Waever.

Many friends at Mount Pleasant were sorry to hear of Mrs. Joblin's illness since she arrived home from the city. Her sister accompanied her.

A few from here attended quarterly service at Wellmans on Sunday morning. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. James Sharp. Quarterly Board was held on Monday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Conger McConnell visited Mr. and Mrs. Cyrus Johnson, at Campbellford on Sunday.

In the Spring a young man's fancy lightly turns to thoughts of love. By the time you read this we presume the thoughts of most people will turn to road conditions, as mud is prevalent everywhere.

The beautiful covering of snow on Sunday morning will surely boost the meadows.

Ornel MacMullen spent Tuesday last week with his friend, Percy White.

Miss Eileen Phillips visited her friend Eileen MacMullen on Thursday and Friday last week.

Your correspondent was pleased to receive a very newsy six-page letter on Wednesday of last week from Mr. and Mrs. David Kiddie, R.R.2, St. Eugene, Ontario. They enjoy reading the M. P. budget in the News-Argus and wish to be remembered to their friends here. During the recent snow storm the traffic was also impassable in their burg, so we presume the storm was general.

Eileen and Ormel MacMullen entertained a few friends on Thursday evening, March 31st, it being the occasion of Eileen's birthday.

Mrs. Percy MacMullen is attending the Presbyterian W.M.S. in Belleville this week.

Y. P. S.

The President, Mr. Willie Jeffs, opened Y.P.S. at Mount Pleasant on Friday evening, using hymn "Where He Leads Me I Will Follow". Miss Edna Thrasher read the Scripture and the President gave a short talk. The first vice-president, Mr. John Coggins, then presided with "For the beauty of the Earth" and Miss Myrtle McKeown read the Bible lesson. Miss Marguerite White sang a very acceptable solo "He keeps me singing as I go." Mrs. Cyrus Summers outlined the topic and Miss Frances McKeown rendered a pleasing piano solo. Mr. Coggins read a selection entitled "Democracy" which was written by the Prince of Wales. After singing "Jesus calls us o'er the tumult" a contest, "Words ending in 'ty'" was staged.

We are enclosing a couple of poems to help fill up space and we are expecting Madoc Junction to make up the balance.

Goodnight

Goodnight to all the world! There's none
Beneath the "ever-going" sun
To whom I feel of hate or spite,
And so to all, a fair goodnight.
Would I could say goodnight to pain,
Goodnight to conscience and her train—
To cheerless poverty and shame—
That I am yet unknown to fame!
Would I could say good-night to dreams

That haunt me with elusive gleams,
That through the sable future's veil
Like meteors glimmer, but to fall!
Would I could say a long good-night
To battling between wrong and right,
And, like a giant with new force
Awake prepared to run my course,
But time o'er good and ill sweeps on,
And when few years have come and gone,
The past will be to us as naught,
Whether remembered or forgot.
Yet let me hope one faithful friend
O'er my last couch shall fearful bend;
And though today for me was bright,
Shall bid me then a long good-night.
Keep A-Go'in'

If you strike a thorn or rose,
Keep a-go'in'.
If it hails or if it snows,
Keep a-go'in'.
'Tain't no use to sit and whine,
When the fish ain't on your line.
Bait your hook and keep on tryin'
Keep a-go'in'.
When it looks like all is up,
Keep a-go'in'.
Drain the sweetness from the cup,
Keep a-go'in'.
See the wild bird on the wing,
Hear the bells that sweetly ring,
When you feel like sighin'—sing,
Keep a-go'in'.

SPRINGBROOK W. I.

The March meeting of the Springbrook W. I. was held on Wednesday last week at the home of Mrs. A. Haslett, with an attendance of over thirty. The meeting opened by the singing of "The Maple Leaf" and the "Institute Ode", followed by the repeating of the "Lord's Prayer" in unison. The roll call "a simple remedy" was well responded to. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and adopted. It was moved by Mrs. H. A. Bunt, that a plant be sent to Mrs. Blecker, district president, who is ill—seconded by Mrs. Baker. The following program was then carried out. Community singing "Old Folks at Home" was entered into by all. Readings were given by Miss Evelyn Bailey and Mrs. Geo. Eastwood. Evelyn Bailey and Nellie Webb did some demonstrating along the lines of first aid. Dr. Sutton, of Peterboro, who was to have given an address, did not arrive. In his absence slips of paper with different topics written on them were given to five members who then delivered impromptu speeches. These were as follows: Mrs. A. V. Brown—"That reading is better than travelling as an education"; Mrs. H. A. Bunt—"That travelling is better than reading as an education"; Mrs. Geo. A. Bailey—"Spring is here, how will I start my flower garden?"; Mrs. T. H. Webb, "My place in a community"; Helen Bateman and Cora Bailey—"What books can do." These were well worth while, showing that there is plenty of talent and ability among our W. I. members. A discussion of books followed. It was decided that the Institute have an exchange of shrubs and slips of plants at the April meeting. Community singing was then enjoyed by all. A contest "A dinner party menu" was put on by Mrs. Geo. A. Bailey and a suitable prize, a box of coloured Easter eggs was presented to the winning group. The program was brought to a close by the National Anthem. A dainty lunch was then served and a social half hour was enjoyed by all.

FRANKFORD MAN PERFORMS HEROIC DEED

The many citizens of Frankford and vicinity will be deeply interested in learning that a former resident of Frankford, now of Delta, Ontario near Brockville, exhibited a great deal of bravery in rescuing little Marlon Warren, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Warren, of Delta, on Thursday afternoon, March 24th, from a watery grave. The child was out walking with her mother and by some means got separated from her. Mr. Byron Ostrum noticed the child on the top of the dam of the Upper Lake where the water was rushing over it two or more feet deep, and immediately Mr. Ostrum pulled off his coat and ran and diving into the water, rescued the child when she was only two feet from going over the dam; the latter connects

About forty citizens of Delta met at his store and presented him with a purse of $25.00 in recognition of his brave act, which he was loathe to accept and the general opinion is that he should have been given a life-saving medal. Mr. Ostrum used to conduct a drug business in Frankford a number of years ago and was highly respected.

LIFE insurance benefits.... can be Proved while you are still ALIVE!

LIVING policyholders of the Sun Life were paid in benefits during 1931 $68,000,000 — THREE TIMES as much as beneficiaries of deceased policyholders.

This was due, partly, to the fact that trained Sun Life representatives when selling insurance, counsel their policyholders how to secure a dual advantage — the maximum benefit to THEMSELVES, and the greatest protection to their DEPENDANTS.

The insured no longer have to "die to win".

The wisest insurers vigilantly protect their policies and allow nothing to impair them. The Sun Life enjoys a remarkable record for the persistency of its business — largely the result of sound advice and expert service to its policyholders by its representatives.

Sun Life representatives sold $528,000,000 new paid for insurance last year, making the Company's total business in force over Three Billions — an impressive reflection of public confidence.

Today prudent men are not only taking on MORE life insurance; they are doing so after consultation with competent representatives of such a company as the Sun Life

SAW A MISTAKE IN PAPER

We made a mistake in last week's issue of the Sentinel, says the Glen Elder, Kansas, Sentinel. A good subscriber told us about it. The same day there was a letter in our post office box that didn't belong to us. We called for ninety-eight over the telephone and got 198. We asked for a spool of number fifty thread and when we got home we found it was No. 60. The train was reported thirty minutes late. We arrived at the depot twenty minutes after the train time and the train was gone. We got our milk bill and there was a mistake of ten cents in our favor. We felt sick and the doctor said we were eating too much meat. We hadn't tasted meat for two months. The garage man said the jitney was missing because it needed a new timer. We cleaned the spark plugs and it's running fine ever since. Yes, we made a mistake in last week's paper.

THE BORROWING NEIGHBOR

County publishers have problems of their own and their own fine devices for solving them. One is indicated by the following fable which is going the rounds of the press just at present.

"Once upon a time a nickel nurse sent his kid to borrow the neighbor's paper and the kid upset a hive of bees and soon was covered with lumps. His father ran to help him and caught his chin on a clothes line and sprained his back, fell and broke a $25.00 watch. The clothes pole fell over the car and smashed the windshield and mother rushing out to see what occasioned all the excitement, upset a five-gallon churn of cream into a basket of kittens, drowning all of them. The electric flat iron burned through the ironing board, setting fire to the house, and firemen broke all the windows and chopped a hole in the roof. The baby at a jar of pickles and got cholera morbus and the doctor's bill was $15. During the excitement, the dog bit a neighbor's kid and the calves ate the tails off four night shirts on the clothes line.

NEW REEVE FOR DUNGANNON

Nomination for the position of Reeve in Dungannon Township due to the death of the former Reeve, Frank Kelusky, a short time ago, was held in that township on Monday, last week, and J. L. Churcher, a former Township clerk, who resigned from that position to accept the nomination, was the only name proposed. He was accordingly elected by acclamation and at the next meeting of the Township Council will be installed in his new office. The new reeve has had a wealth of municipal experience and will no doubt acceptably fill this important office.

BEAUTIFYING OUR HIGHWAYS IN THE INTERESTS OF TOURIST TRAFFIC

(By Henry J. Moore)
Highways are built as a rule for economic reasons, either to facilitate quick and efficient interurban transportation of merchandise or of passengers between local or distant points. It is not very interesting to dwell upon the economic side of the question for any length of time, significant, perhaps, to say that highways create revenue in the forementioned ways and also as a result of the sale of licenses and drivers' permits. Highways cost money to build, they should therefore, raise money to pay for their construction and maintenance. Perhaps in the past we have not fully realized that apart from favoring the transportation of goods, and in thus opening up our country; in bringing prosperity to town and country alike; in favoring education through the creation of channels of communication, there is another way in which highways function, and to an equally as great or greater degree: That of encouraging and actually bringing in a vast number of tourists, a good class of people, not only from nearby provinces, but from the entire United States and elsewhere, thus proving, perhaps the largest source of revenue.

What the tourist traffic means to Ontario can only be conjectured, it is so immense, its effects so far reaching. It has given food and employment to thousands of Ontario residents. It has been the cause of the construction of thousands of buildings along our highways; it has resulted in benefit to the lumber merchants, the farmer, the fruit and vegetable grower; its ramifications have reached out until almost every branch of industry has been benefited, and has done something more, it has created interprovincial and international friendships and has brought the people of two great countries very close together as friends.

All analysis of the traffic upon our highways would probably reveal that passenger cars far outnumber any other form of vehicle. This means that a large number of people use the highways as a means of pleasure. Most tourists do and their name is legion. These tourists are wise; they select the best and most attractive places for their visits, and use the best and most attractive highways. In this respect the beautification of Ontario highways has become a necessity, and although much has been done there is still much to do.

The greater the measure of beautification, within reason, the more attractive will our highways and province become and this applies to every highway and province, and apart from the revenue to be derived from the influx of tourists or from any other source, there are ways other than this, in which their beautification is justified, as I shall later point out. Not long ago we thought that flowers and other beautiful things with which we learn to adorn our habitations, were luxuries. Trees were only incidents. If in the way of construction, we removed them without compunction, even if only minor expense was incurred in saving them—this less than fifteen years ago—but Kilmer said "Only God can make a tree." We were a race of vandals, but a growing and better sentiment, and the demands of the times are teaching us that flowers are not luxuries and trees are priceless. That the inspiration of their beauty is a vital force which animates men, which attracts that inner something with the force of a magnet, and asserts our maddened rush toward the things which at the best, are prompted by selfishness, and which, after all, though they may feed and clothe us a bank account, can never feed the soul. In order to keep what remains of the natural beauty along our highways we must cease our vandalism.

I have seen men removing the last old tree from their one or two hundred acre farms—the last tree! Some years ago I saw some men cutting down an oak, a most wonderful specimen. Mighty men! How they did work! In a few hours, the wonderful God-given thing was felled, and as I looked over the farm not another was to be seen. "Men," I said, "let us get down on our knees and count the actual rings in the trunk." Counting as carefully as possible, we counted one hundred and ninety-two. "Men," I remarked, "it took God all these years to grow the tree, you destroyed it in half a day and it is the last on your farm. The older of the men looked at me and said, "Gee! I wish we hadn't cut it down." Too late, old man. "The ways of men are narrow." You valued the tree at so much money, $150 perhaps; it was worth $10,000, as the last of its kind on your property. Sadly I turned away. Why do so many men do this? Then to my mind sprang the following thoughts, and which I have endeavored to put into verse.

Vandal Man
Barren the hills and barren the plains
Swept by the winds and washed by the rains,
Gone from the earth the wonderful shade,
The kindest thing that God ever made,
Gone the glory that once we knew,
Beautiful trees that the Vandal slew.
Gone are the haunts of our childhood hours,
Where grew the lowly woodland flowers,
Bliss of love by their Maker given,
Who perfumed them with a breath of heaven,
Vandal Man it is true they are gone,
No love of flowers in a heart of stone.
Gone are the birds, that once we knew,
That lived in the trees, you know you slew.

Welcomed in 1000 Stirling and District Homes

In exile they sought a shelter from death,
They had to fly from the wintry breath,
Vandal Man you drove them away,
No love for birds in a heart of clay.
Cone are the rivers, for one by one
Their life's blood dried in the Summer sun;
Tombstones of granite sullen and grey
Mark the course where they purled their way.
Vandal Man, you know it is true
The rivers dried, when the trees you slew.

Vandal Man, do you know there's a land,
Where the palm trees shade the sunny strand,
Where wild birds sing and flowers bloom,
And rivers chant in the evening's gloom?

But angels guard its gate so fair,
And vandals may not enter there.

The highways of Ontario must be more than a means to the making of money by the Government or by the users thereof. It is not sufficient that they be good and smooth surfaced. Without beauty there can be no inspiration to resident or tourist alike as he journeys from place to place. Trees and shrubs and flowers were made to soften the harsh places and to clothe the earth, to beautify that which is ugly, to arrest the attention of the lawless and turn their thoughts to better things. Beauty inspires, inspiration creates ideals, gives us better thoughts. Environment is a character moulding influence. It moulds the characters of individuals and individuals mould that of the nation. We must either become lovers of beauty or remain in the vandal class. The moral factors in the lives of nations are the factors which alone can safely guide their destinies.

Roads of Friendship

Let me now point out the ways in which the beautification of highways is justified other than through money making channels. Highways and roads of friendship, national and international friendship. Tourists spend their money, it is true, and receive value for it, but through the medium of beautified highways they receive full measure and running over, because this is something which they do not pay for. It is a gift. Beautiful highways are friendly highways, just so friendly that the tourist cars, trucks and cars break through, something and a feeling of gladness in his heart. Beautiful highways indicate to him the advance of the intelligence of the people who live in the country or province which he visits. In Ontario they indicate whether we are careless or apathetic or whether we are alive to the possibilities of our day. Beautiful highways are an indication of the state of civilization to which we have advanced.

Badly informed persons advocate the planting of trees and shrubs close to the roadbed of the provincial highways, others desire to save every bush and tree on the light of way irrespective of whether such are beautiful or not. They do not realize that such may be detrimental to the welfare of the roadbed, and may even be the means of causing fatal accidents. It has been advocated that telephones poles and hydro poles be placed behind the trees where necessary to erect them, and that the trees be planted close to the ditch.

These practices may have been satisfactory before the coming of the automobile. Modern methods of travel demand wide roadbeds and in Canada a freedom during Winter and Spring from ice and slush. Canadian conditions and California ones are entirely dissimilar. People say that in California they do so and so; in Canada, however, it is necessary to plant trees as far from the roadbed as possible on the right of way, and that they be spaced far enough apart so as not to cause expensive drifting of snow on the crown of the roads, which prevails, sometimes in Winter, during a thaw ice forms and causes accidents. Sometimes as on gravel roads the snow is held by the trees and shrubs late in Spring with the result that other parts of the road dry up, traffic becomes heavy and when the snow covered parts thaw out, the trucks and cars break through, somebody, therefore, has to pay for the folly of planting trees and shrubs close to the roadbed. Trees should be planted behind the poles and so far away that at any time only a minimum of clearance will be necessary. They should be placed where aligned 75 feet apart, this arrangement allowing the roads to dry very quickly.

Listowel—F. Wellington Hay, leader of the Ontario Liberal Party from 1921 until 1923, and a member of the Federal Parliament from 1924 to 1930 died from heart failure at his home here on Friday. Mr. Hay returned from a visit to Toronto on Wednesday night, and as usual spent Thursday at his place of business. Thursday night he retired, apparently in good health. Early Friday his wife was awakened by his heavy breathing. Medical aid was summoned but he died shortly afterwards. A native of this town, the late Mr. Hay spent virtually his entire life here. He became associated with his father in the grain business of which he was head at his death.

Cobourg — Robert A. Chagnon of Pontiac, Mich., escaped death when he leaped from his automobile a few seconds before it was struck by a C. P.R. flyer at the Kingston crossing east of here on Saturday. Chagnon was travelling to Montreal to attend the funeral of his father. Approaching the crossing he saw the gates were down and applied the brakes but the light covering of snow on the highway made the wheels skid and the car broke through the barrier stopping on the tracks. Chagnon opened the door and jumped clear just as the express struck the car, wrecking it completely. The car was removed to Wilson's garage, the driver proceeding to Montreal by train.

Special News For Farmers

Cow testing is very important. Not all cows that give milk are profitable. The only way to make sure of these unprofitable cows is by the systematic use of the milk scales and the Babcock test.

Only land that will respond to good treatment should be cultivated at all. There are many thousands of acres in Ontario that will not produce farm crops profitably and should be reforested without further waste of time and energy. Every farmer can secure this year any number of trees for reforestation purposes by applying to the Forestry Branch at Toronto. Application forms are available at your local agricultural office.

Gail Must Be Right for Use in Hot Beds

"The soil used in hot-beds should be the best for the purpose that it is possible to obtain," states an official of the Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. The success or failure of a highly prized crop may depend to a very large degree upon the attention given to the proper preparation of the soil. Soils that are too fine in texture will not drain properly, and such a soil, while it may be amply rich in plant food, may lack only the addition of a little sand to make it satisfactory. On the other hand, a deficiency of humus will have a tendency to allow the soil to compact which is likely to prevent even root development, and also does not permit a proper distribution of moisture through the soil.

Sow Clean Seed

A recent survey shows that weeds were responsible for a total loss of between 150 and 200 million dollars in Canada last year. The direct loss in crop actually displaced or killed out by weeds was over one hundred millions, while the remainder was made up of freight charges for carrying weed seeds along with grain, clover, and other crops, loss of moisture depreciation of farm value due to weeds and the increase in cultivation necessary where these soil robbers were present. To mitigate this loss the land must be cleaned up. Careful pre-seeding cultivation will clean up ordinary fields, while partial summer fallow and the sowing of smother crops like buckwheat, rape and turnips are recommended for very bad patches of such tenacious weeds as twitch and sow thistle. A clean seed bed, plus clean clover seed and clean seed grain of a high standard of purity and germination, will give a big increase in yield over the other kind at practically no more cost. Only clean, plump, vigorous seed, tested and approved by Government authorities, should be used.

Barley For Horses

Barley can be economically used for feeding horses in grain mixtures up to 25 per cent. It gives best results with horses at work and the inclusion of bran or a feed of alfalfa, or alfalfa and timothy hay, will prevent any of the undesirable results attributed to this grain.

When well boiled, with the unabsorbed liquid taken up with bran, with the addition of a cup or so of molasses and a pinch of common salt or a tablespoon of Glauber's Salts barley forms one of the best conditioning feeds for a horse, fed two or three nights weekly, or even each night for a period.

Ontario Farm Statistics

A considerable decrease in the number of horses and cattle on Ontario farms and an increase in the number of sheep and poultry featured the farm statistics just released in connection with the 1931 census. The following comparisons between 1931 and 1921 are given:

	1931	1921
Horses	578333	699048
Mules	411	N9
Cattle	2487824	2633562
Sheep	1035153	978892
Swine	1379943	1386081

Woodlands Important

Scattered woodlands through the countryside supplying the owner with cheap fuel and logs help the general living conditions of the owner and his neighbors. They help to control the flood danger and act as reservoirs that augment the water which appears as open springs or flows as underground streams that are tapped by the wells. They are effective windbreaks and beautify the countryside.

Provision should be made for the replacement of the old trees which will eventually be cut or die of old age, if it is decided to keep a field in bush. This may be done by natural reproduction or by planting.

Many woodlots have no natural production because they are pastured. The stock browse the seedlings each year as they germinate, break and mutilate the saplings, pack the soil and injure the roots of the large trees. Continued pasturing means the gradual disappearance of the woodlot.

A new stock of seedlings will be appearing this spring and will be destroyed, as in former years, if fence does not keep the stock out.

The fence may be fastened to the trees by first nailing a wooden strip to the tree and attaching the wire to the strip. If shade is desired in the pasture field, some of the trees may be left there.

If the woodlot is very open and the owner does not wish to wait for natural reproduction, or the trees now on the woodlot are not desired in the future crop, he may secure trees free from the Ontario Forestry Branch. Apply to the local Agricultural Representative or the Forestry Branch, Parliament Buildings, Toronto, for tree application forms and literature.

Trim the Raspberries

Trimming of berry bushes is a very important task. In the early spring the canes of red raspberries should be cut back a little at the tops. Some of the canes have branches and these should be cut back to a length of at most ten inches. The thick canes bear the most fruit. Thin out the canes in the hedgerow so that they will stand about six inches apart. If the plants are left in hills, leave about eight canes to a hill. In the case of black raspberries, the stand of canes in the hills had best be left undisturbed, but they should be cut back more severely than reds.

Women's Institutes as an Educator

Twelve hundred Women's Institutes in the Province usually give some consideration, during March and April, to formulating a program for next year. The Institute year ends in April, and the educational program for the following twelve months is usually completed in May, or early in June, printed copies being placed in the hands of the members. The general practice is to have an address, paper or demonstration or real practical value to the housewife, at each meeting. Most branches aim to have something to hear, something to see, or something to do, for the following is a good example of one such meeting.

Motto—The Doors of Opportunity are marked "Push and Pull".

Roll Call—A Canadian Product, Where Found and where used." Canadian Vegetables—Their Food Values.

Canadian Vegetables—Ways to Serve.

Canadian Apples versus Imported Fruit.

Discussion and Recipes.

Paper—"Famous Canadian Women".

Two humorous recitations.

Community singing.

Social half-hours with afternoon tea at the close.

The opportunity to hear from women of experience of methods which have proven effective, and to take in the discussions, have added materially to the efficiency of country women in the housing, clothing and nutrition of the family. Where the Department of Agriculture groups with literature on foods, health, etc., and provides instructions for Short Courses, it will ready be seen that the Institutes are of real educational value to the rural women and girls.

A. Y. P. A.

The general meeting of the A. Y. P. A. was held in the vestry last Monday evening. The meeting opened with hymn 624, followed by prayer. The minutes of last meeting were read and adopted. The roll call was then given. The feature of the evening was moving pictures given by Mr. Jos. Wilson. The first picture, "Westbound", depicted the ocean voyage from England to Canada via the Anchor-Donaldson liner. The picture showed the various amusements on tennis, badminton, ping-pong, etc., that are enjoyed while on board. Other activities were also shown. A comic picture was next shown, which proved quite amusing. "Jasper of the Lakes" was the last picture to be shown. This dealt chiefly with scenery of lakes, forests and mountains, with beautiful falls and deep canyons. After the picture was completed the President moved a vote of thanks to Mr. Wilson, which was seconded unanimously. The meeting closed with the singing of "God Save the King". The next meeting will be a social evening in the vestry.

ST. PAUL'S Y. P. S.

St. Paul's Young People's Society met in the church parlors on Monday evening under the direction of the devotional department and with an attendance of 89. The President, Mr. Harry Hulin, was in charge of the entire program. Miss Donaldal Richardson read the scripture lesson, taken from 11th and 12 chapters of Ecclesiastes, also giving a brief synopsis of these chapters. The President led in prayer. Mr. Arthur Wilson, West Huntingdon, gave a very outstanding address, taking for his subject "The choosing of the right path in life". The speaker's remarks were addressed mainly to the young. Some time in everyone's life there comes the time when one must decide which road they take and the first road mentioned was "Pleasure and idleness." The speaker very clearly depicted from some of Billy Sunday's illustrations that it is the easy road to travel, but in the end leads to destruction. The second road is the "Street of Gold". This road is travelled by those who make gold their God. The third road opened to the young is called "Fame". The speaker, by quoting incidents in the lives of Moses, Joseph and Daniel, clearly showed to his audience that lasting fame is only acquired by following the dictates of one's better self. The last road is the "Road of Service". This, of all the roads is the only safe one. God placed us on earth to accomplish some task. If we fail the work will never be done. Happy is the one who discovers his life's work and is endeavoring to fulfill his mission. Mr. Arthur Duncan favored the audience with a delightful solo entitled "Abide with Me". Mrs. L. Munro gave a very interesting reading on the subject "First Things First", based upon the Lord's Prayer. The President put on a "ring" contest, red and white divisions gaining equal honours. The mizpah benediction closed this very interesting meeting.

COUNCIL MEETS

In October 1927, Assistant Provincial Sanitary Engineer, Mr. G. H. Burn, made a sanitary survey of the Village of Stirling, copy of which is enclosed herewith, showing 78 per cent. of the wells in the Village to be grossly polluted. You will note that the recommendations of the Departmental Engineers, based on the sanitary survey, were as follows:

(1) That the Local Board of Health of the municipality inform all owners of wells sampled, as to the results of the analyses of samples secured during the survey, and advise them that in all instances where the analyses showed 10 or more B. coli per 100 c.c., the water should be boiled before being used for drinking.

(2) That the municipal authorities employ the services of a consulting engineer, or firm of engineers, to report upon a waterworks system for the Village.

(3) That a satisfactory system of nightsoil and garbage collection be established and the use of flytight pail privies be insisted upon.

You will note that the above were recommendations, not orders. May I further bring to your attention that the Order issued in January of this year was not initiated as a compulsory order by the Department. It was issued only and entirely on the unanimous request of the elected representatives of the citizens of the Village of Stirling.

I am aware that two years ago a vote of the people on the question of the installation of waterworks in the Village, was adverse to such installation, but it is quite possible for public opinion to swing from one position to another since that time and the natural inference in the case of the Village of Stirling would be that public opinion had changed, otherwise there would surely have been some voice of opposition in the Council. Another point which occurs to me is that the vote was taken on an expenditure of approximately $70,000.00; the proposition presented in the request for the Order involves an estimated expenditure of less than $30,000.

My Department in issuing the Order did so entirely with a view to facilitate the carrying into effect of the wish of the people of Stirling without such necessary expenditure as would have been involved in the taking of a vote.

A delegation has today visited my office, bearing a petition signed by a large number of residents and ratepayers in the Village of Stirling, opposing the installation of the proposed waterworks system and I should be glad if you would give this letter sufficient publicity to ensure the cit-

MISS McGUIRE HONORED

St. Paul's Young People's Society met in the church parlors on Monday evening, under the direction of the missionary department and with an attendance of 110. The President in charge of the devotional period, Mrs. W. Mose, reading the Scripture lesson, 103rd Psalm emphasizing the spirit of gratitude by telling the interesting story entitled "The Road of the loving Heart," an incident in the life of Robert Louis Stevenson. Rev. E. W. Rowland led in prayer. Mrs. Ernest Munro, 2nd vice-president presided over the remaining program. Miss Betty Conley favored the large audience with a delightful solo, "Goin' Home." The President, Mr. Harry Hulin took the Missionary topic taken from the Study Book, "Korea, the land of the Dawn," dealing most fully with the condition of the Christian church at the present time, and its outlook for the future. The speaker in enumerating the factors which bring hope to the future paid special tribute to the high calibre of the Korean Christian leaders. This is a world task, and the measure of their success depends to a great extent upon the Christian character of the nations which influence Korea. Mr. Jerry Clute in good voice rendered the sacred solo, "Leave It with Him."

The outstanding number on the program was a presentation to Miss Lillian McGuire, of Belleville, on behalf of St. Paul's Young People's Society. Mrs. Munro taking charge of a setting for this occasion, called upon several members to come forward to the platform with Miss McGuire, who was chosen Princess. Mrs. Munro in reading this fascinating fairy story, had different members present the princess with small gifts, then two of the princess, namely Maurice Bell and Fred Joblin presented Miss McGuire with the Young People's gift—a mahogany cedar chest. Miss McGuire in a few well chosen words feelingly expressed her deep gratitude, and appreciation. Maurice Bell captivated the audience with a banjo solo, accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. W. Rowland. The "singing" contest was prepared by Miss Grace Wright, and put on by Mrs. A. Shaw. The Blue division gained the honors.

The Mizpah benediction closed the most outstanding meeting for some time.

ST. PAUL'S W. M. S.

The W. M. S. of St. Paul's United Church held their monthly meeting on Tuesday afternoon with the President presiding. The meeting opened with singing the hymn "O, Master let me walk with Thee," was followed with prayer by Mrs. C. Lansing. The minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and the treasurer gave her report. The resignation of Mrs. Lindenfield as literature secretary was dealt with and Mrs. Snowden was chosen the new secretary.

The roll call was then answered with verse of promise.

Mrs. Hagerman then conducted the remainder of the program. The hymn, "The Church's one Foundation," was sung and Mrs. Mose read the scripture passage taken from the 20th chapter John, after which Mrs. E. W. Rowland led in prayer. Mrs. J. Butler rendered a beautiful solo, "Just As I am," which was much appreciated. Mrs. C. Macklin, the President, who was the delegate to the Presbyterial, then gave her report. The convention was held in John St. United Church, of Belleville on the 6th and 7th of April with Mrs. Gay, of Foxboro, the Presbyterial President, presiding. There are 95 auxiliaries in the Presbyterial with a total membership of 2995. On the evening of the 6th, the Presbyterial was addressed by Miss Claylie, a returned missionary from Formosa, and Miss Rourke, an evangelistic worker, on furlough from Japan.

Mrs. P. H. D. Anderson, of Newburg, was chosen President of the Belleville Presbyterial in place of Mrs. Gay who resigned.

A vote of thanks was given to Mrs. Macklin for the splendid report of the convention.

The meeting was brought to a close with the singing of hymn, "Jesus shall reign where'er the Sun," after which all repeated the Mizpah Benediction.

SALES TAX 6 PER CENT

The News-Argus received information on Tuesday from the Department of National Revenue, Belleville, that on and after April 7th, the sales tax was increased from four to six per cent.

DISLOCATES SHOULDER

Mr. George Bailey, Stirling's veteran barber, had the misfortune to fall down stairs, leading to the cellar in his barber parlor, on Saturday night. In the tumble he dislocated his shoulder and was shaken up. It is fortunate no further injuries were suffered.

TAX ON LONG DISTANCE PHONE CALLS

Effective on May 2nd, a new tax of five cents on all long distance telephone calls over fifteen cents will be levied throughout the Dominion. Local calls will not of course be subject to tax, neither will calls from Stirling to the exchanges in the district, where the toll does not exceed 15c for three minutes of conversation.

BOX FACTORY TO OPEN

Munro Bros. proprietors of the Stirling Cheese Box Factory, are busily engaged at present making preparations for resuming operations for the season. It is expected the plant will be going full steam ahead in the next week. Although prices are low a good year is predicted and this firm has received sufficient orders for heading to keep them busy supplying throughout the summer. The Stirling cheese box has gained a reputation for quality that cannot be surpassed.

S. H. S. TATTLES

The pupils are all becoming anxious about this disagreeable weather that has made the campus rather wet and muddy. As a result they cannot indulge in their outdoor games but have to remain in the Assembly Hall all the noon hour. The piano keys and pedals are showing the effects of this strenuous work.

The second set of examinations was finished before Easter holidays but the third set will not begin until the middle of May.

VETERANS—LEGIONAIRES

The annual church parade of the veterans will be held on Sunday, April 17th, at 11 a.m., in St. Paul's United Church for the purpose of commemorating the battles fought by the Canadians during April, particularly Vimy.

We expect that the 21st battalion pipe band will be with us and delegations from Campbellford, Belleville and other districts.

All veterans of this district are urgently requested to be in attendance and to assemble at the Club rooms not later than 10.45 a.m. The Legion meets to-night.

WITH THE BOYSCOUTS

Last scout meeting was held in the school auditorium on Thursday, April 7th. The meeting was in charge of the Patrol leaders and the Troop leader. About 25 Scouts were present. Clinton McGee attended the meeting and gave the boys several valuable pointers on the art of self-defense. Games brought to a close a very enjoyable evening.

The registration cards are here and will be given out next meeting. The boys are also asked to prepare for tests.

Community Club Adjourns Until Next November

The Community Club held its final meeting until next November, in the Community Hall, on Tuesday night. Over fifty men were present and the members of the W. I. served the tasty banquet.

The program consisted entirely of local talent and was greatly enjoyed by the men present. When "Innerman" was satisfied Chairman Dr. Walt called the gathering to order with the toast to the King.

Secretary H. Hulin informed the men that only forty "yes" cards had been returned of the hundred and thirty sent out, which did not speak highly of the members' interest in the Club. Treasurer J. E. O'Donnell reported a balance of approximately $75 in the treasury, to be carried over until the November meeting.

During the banquet and program community singing was enjoyed with R. A. Patterson in charge, assisted by Charles Allen, pianist.

An interesting part of the program was an illustrated talk on the Postal Service given by Postmaster F. T. Hulin. The slides had been furnished by the Postal Department and gave the gathering an insight of the handling of his Majesty's mail. Jerry Craven operated the lantern loaned by Mr. J. S. Wilson, Agricultural Representative and the pictures were thrown on the wall. The first were pictures of Hon. Arthur Suave, Postmaster General and Mr. L. J. Gaboury, Deputy-Postmaster General.

In his introductory remarks Mr. Hulin emphasized that the Postal service was the friend of the civilized world and Santa Claus the year round. He outlined briefly the history of the Post Office up through the years from back in biblical times. Benj. Franklin gets the credit for establishing the first P.O. in Canada at Quebec after taken over by the English. Later offices were opened in Montreal and Three Rivers. In those days the Postmaster would extend the service only as money was made to warrant same with the result the service was checked. However in 1851, the service enjoyed a boom and until 1867 it was extended by leaps and bounds and from then until now, the Postal Service has developed into one of the country's greatest assets.

The following are a few of Mr. Hulin's remarks, taken from his talk when the slides were being shown and should be read with interest by everybody. Most of the slides showed activities in city offices, such as the belt conveyors of letters and parcels sorting, collecting and delivery.

Affixing Stamp
There is a right way and a wrong way of affixing stamps. The right way is to moisten the envelope, not the stamp. Moistening the stamp removes the mucilage and causes the stamp to fall from the envelope before it has gone very far. When this happens the Post Office has no means of knowing that the postage has been prepaid and the letter is then sent on and double the apparent deficient postage collected from the addressee. Incidentally this is perhaps the real reason why the Post Office has never carried out the suggestion of having the mucilage flavored; that would be a direct encouragement to follow the wrong practice and so if you want your stamps to stick to the envelope—stick to our advice—moisten the envelope itself.

Incorrectly Addressed Letters
This will give you some idea of the kind of thing the sorters are up against. In writing home to Italy, Giovanni wanted to show off a little of his knowledge of English and so he put the words "All right, good-bye for ever," at the end of his letter. His friends rather naturally assumed this to be part of his address and addressed him accordingly with the result that another letter went to the Dead Letter Office. This next incorrectly addressed letter is not quite so amusing but is one example of the many thousands we have to handle each month. As a matter of record there are some 20 million incorrectly addressed letters handled each year in Canadian Post Offices. Rather a black mark against Canadian citizens generally and against businessmen who are just as bad offenders as anyone with whom we have to deal.

Air Mail Service

The need for economy has given a temporary set-back to this service, but in the years to come it will undoubtedly play a most important part in the development of the country. It is being retained as a part of our service to outlying places particularly to the Mackenzie River District where mail service required 72 days to complete it is now cut to about 72 hours.

Rural Couriers Sorting Mail

In rural communities the rural courier plays the part of the letter carrier for he too has to prepare his mail before he takes it out over his rural mail delivery route. We have no difficulty persuading the farmers to install letter boxes because the erection of a roadside box is one of the conditions incidental to the granting of a delivery service. Undoubtedly the introduction of a rural mail delivery service has proven a real boon to the Canadian farmers. There is still another way in which mail is delivered and that is through lock boxes in the Post Offices and there is just one word of warning and that is be sure to lock your box after removing the mail. We have pictured here the carelessness of one boxholder who was so engrossed with his mail that he walked off without closing the door of his box. If, as a result, later on any of his mail was lost he would be the first to

TIME EXTENDED

The time for the purchase of 1932 radio licenses, which are $2.00, has been extended until June 1st, a month longer than last year when the licenses had to be purchased by April 30.

NAMES OMITTED

In the report of the local high school, published in our issue, of two weeks ago, the names of Margaret Bateman and Jack Ormiston were omitted from the first form list.

TAKE WARNING!

Some one who has been dumping garbage in the driveway at the village dump, south of the fair grounds, is going to get in wrong if this habit does not cease at once. Last year the council paid $27. to clean up the dump, and placed a lock on the gate. The latter has been broken, and the next party caught, depositing garbage on the driveway will be fined.

'MERTON OF THE MOVIES'

This is an honest to goodness play, not a talkie, or a movie and is to be presented on Tuesday evening next April 19th in the Stirling Theatre by the Y's Men's Club, of Belleville.

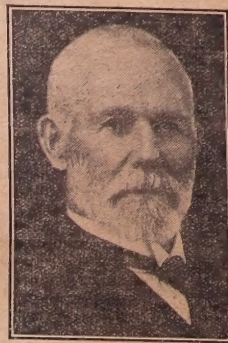

The Stirling Bowling Club is always anxious to serve Stirling in whatever capacity it can and has been successful in securing this production for Tuesday night next. The play has already been staged in Belleville and was pronounced an excellent production. "Merton of the Movies," provides an evening of real entertainment. It is extremely humorous and can be enjoyed by everyone. So if you want to have a real laugh don't fail to see it.

The cast is supported by several well-known artists, such as Miss Leona Riggs, soprano; Mr. James Barker, tenor; and Mr. Harold Howard baritone. These artists need no introduction to the people of Stirling and the surrounding community.

So if you have not yet secured your tickets, do so, at once. They may be secured from Mr. T. W. Solmes, or any member of the Stirling Bowling Club. They will also be on sale at the wicket of the theatre on Tuesday evening.

The play is worthy of a high admittance fee yet the Stirling Bowling Club have had the admission fee reduced so that, even in this period of depression it is in the reach of everyone. Thirty-five cents entitles you to the best seat in the theatre—no reserved seats. So come early, avoid the rush and secure good seats.

This play is to be presented in Campbellford and Tweed. It has been presented in Concession and Belleville already this season.

THE LATE WM. MEIKLEJOHN

One of this district's well-known residents who passed away at the home of his son, Mr. Sanford Meiklejohn last Friday, Rawdon, aged 86 years.

ST. ANDREW'S GUILD

On Monday evening under the leadership of Mrs. R. Meiklejohn (literary President) an interesting meeting was held.

A debate was given "Resolved that the movies are an advantage."

The affirmative brought out points—How restful to sit in a comfortable chair after a tiring day and enjoy the picture; we have such varied pictures we have something to appeal to each and all; they present a real side of life from the current events to the future picture which depicts the comedies and tragedies of real life; a Mickey Mouse Comedy is a source of delight to the youngsters; Marie Dressler is in her way a wonderful person. She makes thousands forget their troubles. She was born in Chicago, nearly sixty years ago. Her first acting was in a small church concert such as we often have here. Old ladies, also crippled children and the famed war veterans get a great deal of pleasure out of the pictures—why deprive them. Much better be an ardent movie fan than a poker shark or a bridge fiend. We have undesirable shows at times, we admit, but although we have scoundrels in the land we do not exterminate the race. The best of people, even our ministers attend pictures occasionally. It is not an expensive form of amusement. Every man for his own job. We can't all be doctors, teachers, lawyers, merchants or radio announcers. You cannot put a square peg in a round hole. Why take away the life work of Ramon Navarro, Lewis Stone or Will Rogers. They all have their own sphere. We stage small plays in our own local halls instead of in Hollywood.

The negative side—in order for a picture to be popular, it must be sensational. They are amusing to some and disgusting to others. The ancient Romans so craved sensational amusement that they crowded their amphitheatres with people who were satisfied with nothing but blood shed. The young receive wrong impressions. Actors and actresses live most demoralizing lives. Fatty Arbuckle was banished from the screen for killing a woman in a drunken brawl. They cause people to crave excitement and are an expense when people go nightly. Constance Bennett gets a salary of $3000 a week. This causes her to be high-bred. She has had several new models of husbands as she changes to suit her whims. Movie attending encourages late hours. The screen dazzles the eyes. People neglect reading. People sit in the bad air in the afternoon instead of playing golf, tennis, bowling, skating or walking. Snap-stick comedy is not educating. Young people get the idea of short-cuts to success and will not start at the foot of the ladder and strike for Hollywood. Harold Barker upheld the affirmative and James Ward, the negative.

Tronald Eggleston gave a talk on King Edward VII. Iva Chambers gave facts from the boyhood of King George.

Morris Bell and Chas. Allen gave a piano and banjo duet, "Roll on, Missisippi."

Helene Murdoff gave a pleasing piano number.

Arthur Duncan sang "When we come to the end of the day."

Mrs. Murdoff's S. S. class gave a chorus, "Follow Jesus."

The scripture lesson was read by Jack Tulloch.

Watch for "The Human Alarm Clock"

A. Y. P. A.

The social meeting of the A.Y.P.A. was held in the vestry on Monday evening. The meeting opened with hymn 409 followed by prayer and roll call. The minutes of last meeting were read and approved. Mr. Byers thanked all the members who had taken part in the services in the parish on Sunday last. After the business part of the meeting was over, the rest of the evening was spent in social entertainment. Teams were chosen by Harry Morrow, Carl Cooke and Reg Coombes. A contest "Places of Note" was put on by Mrs. Belehaw. The last two teams tied for honors. A game "Scissors" was put on by the president. Another humorous game "Consequences" was also given. At the conclusion of the meeting a dainty lunch was served by the members of the social committee.

CURRENT COMMENT

The new budget has made no changes in the tariff, and the latter will still remain a debatable question.

Fashions change from time to time, but there is still no difference in pockets of trousers—they remain "bulged-less."

We noticed last week where a man had turned up in Toronto after an absence of some years and who had legally been declared dead. Just another error of the law.

The News-Argus extends congratulations to the Macdougall and Hastings Star who celebrated their fifty-fifth and fifty-third anniversary respectively, with last week's issue.

With so much friction in the matrimony sphere, no doubt there are some who claim that the man who is lucky in love remains single.

We predict a rush in the manufacture of ice-cream scoops now that a sales tax has been applied to the frozen delicacy. Smaller cones will likely be in vogue this coming summer.

There is to be a government tax on long distance telephone calls. Surely the telephone companies will not be blamed for this by some of their irate subscribers who have been ever ready to condemn the "hello" people in the past.

This will be good news to motorists in this district. The Town of Trenton has decided to repair the highway from the C.N.R. tracks to the northerly limits on the Frankford road. At present this section of the highway has the rocky-road-to-Dublin surpassed for bumps.

Announcement has been made that coal has dropped $1. per ton. Seems queer the miners would wait until the winter was over before making the reduction. However they may be fooled, if the predicted cold summer becomes a certainty.

The prophets are busy now predicting summer weather. The latest report is that we will have a cold, miserable damp summer, with little sun-shine, and that overcoats will be worn in June and July. So folks don't put the heavy in moth-balls yet!

Hon. Mr. Ferguson, High Commissioner, has returned to Canada, having paid his own expenses from England to refute statements made about him in the recent Hydro probe. We wonder if he can throw any light on the Aird $125,000 donation, and if he can—will he?

Hockey fans in this district were pleased that the Toronto Maple Leafs defeated the New York Rangers in 3 straight games for the Stanley Cup. This "mug" has never been decided by three games before and speaks highly of the Leafs as a hockey team.

The son of a newspaper editor, who had just graduated from college and was ambitious to follow in his father's footsteps, asked his dad to give him some advice about how to run a newspaper. The answer was "You've come to the wrong person, my boy, ask any of my subscribers."

The highway between Stirling and Foxboro was in bad shape over the week-end and several cars had to resort to "Old Dobbin" for relief when they became mired in a bog hole. However Road Master Bob Wright has been busy and has the road now in passable condition. Residents who went to Belleville were compelled to go via West Huntingdon, on Friday and Saturday.

The snow fences along the highways are rapidly being removed. They were placed at different spots in an endeavor to check snow drifting on the highway. However with the recent snow-storm that caused a blockade, there seemed to be many drifts that had fooled the "fence-placers."

Spring is here accompanied by April showers. We were informed that frogs had come out of their winter hibernations and were already croaking in the pond. Robin red-breast is here and the only thing necessary to make the signs complete is to see the farmers breaking up the land behind the plow.

Radio licenses are doubled and radio inspectors have been fired by the government. The country needs the money, and radio owners shall have to find other means to eliminate static, than by reporting to an inspector. More cost with less service, seems to have replaced the old slogan "Better goods at lower prices."

A wise man makes the best use of what he has—and smiles," says the Gananoque Reporter.

Tweed News—Certain people in Stirling are threatening an injunction against the completion of the proposed village waterworks system. While there was opposition in Tweed at the time the local system was laid, everyone appears to be quite satisfied with it now and there are few who would be content to go back to the old state of affairs.

Some of our merchants complain about people going out of town to do their shopping. Can you blame them when you never tell them what you have to sell or what you want for it? The merchant who tells the people what he has to sell and what he wants for it is the one who is going to get the business.

Again Canada is to copy the United States. This time it is in paper currency. Reports come from Ottawa that new notes are to be issued the same size as the American dollar bills. The proposed new notes are smaller and are supposed to make handling easier and more economical. If they could just apply a little "stickum" to the surface to keep the dollar bills from slipping through one's fingers, it would be received by the general public with greater enthusiasm.

The Dominion budget has been submitted by Hon. Mr. Rhodes, Minister of Finance. How do you like the new taxes? There were few, if any, means overlooked whereby additional taxes could be garnered from the people. One tax that should have been levied would be the taxing of parliamentarians for taking up so much space in Hansard and the pleasure some of the members seem to get out of hurling anything but complimentary adjectives at each other should be assessed an amusement tax.

The section of the Municipal Act dealing with the licensing of transient traders is in need of revision. For instance if a peddler who pays no taxes to a municipality wants to dispose of his wares all he has to do is to canvass the town, take orders and deliver the goods later and no license can be charged by the municipality. In effect that loophole in the Act deprives the small town of its just dues and passes the benefit on to the big cities where most of these hawkers live.

Bowmanville Statesman—The cementing tie of the community is the local paper. It is the vehicle by which the people are informed of progress made; gives the news, thus making the district an enjoyable place; it affords the merchants a medium of advertising that reaches the people who will shop with them; it informs the buying public of bargains close to home; it is the real community builder. Community papers fill a distinct gap left by the city papers. They have a real need and to stay. A prosperous, interesting paper is a manifestation of a community spirit that will push obstacles to progress aside.

Premier Squires, Newfoundland, is apparently a bear for punishment. He was dragged through mud near the Parliament buildings in St. John last week and also he was threatened with a ducking off the wharf in that city, as a result of a change in public opinion. Even with this experience he refuses to resign office, as was requested, thereby soliciting more abuse. Premier Squires may be deserving of such treatment, although we are not prepared to say, nevertheless he merits certain praise in being brave enough to withstand an attempt to bully him out of the premier's office.

"Lindbergh pays $50,000 asked; Son not Returned," said a heading in the Daily Press on Monday. My, the police force over in New Jersey must feel—it not they should—ashamed in permitting gangsters to control the return of the Lindbergh baby, kidnapped on March 1st. Now the kidnapers demand gold in place of currency, and as they have had their way thus far—even though the police have been on the case—their demands will no doubt be fulfilled. We have come to the conclusion that the Yankee police force is nil and that gangland reigns supreme across the border.

It had been generally supposed that the carbon monoxide gas thrown out from the exhaust pipe of an automobile was dangerous to human life only when within a closed garage. The other day, however a Toronto man was killed by these deadly fumes while stooping down behind his car to jack it up. Probably his face came directly in line with the exhaust pipe and the result was almost instantaneous death. This tragedy conveys a lesson to other motorists. It is not an uncommon thing for a car driver to have to jack up the rear end of his car, or to have to work around the wheels while on the open road. The lesson of this accident is always to turn off the engine before attempting any work of this kind. Carbon monoxide gas is swift and deadly in its operation and it should be the care of every car driver to see that he runs no risk of coming within range of its death-dealing fumes.

The Public Library

The report of the Stirling Public Library for the month of March published in last week's issue through the courtesy of the Librarian, Miss Wava Wallace, demonstrates the ever-growing sphere of usefulness which this institution serves in the village and community. For the last year or two there has been a steady increase in the circulation of books from the Library. This would indicate that, perhaps with more leisure time on their hands, hundreds of citizens are taking advantage of that time to do more reading of books. This in itself is highly commendable. The reading of good books provides a liberal education which lasts through life. Tastes, of course, differ. Some people would not venture beyond the realm of fiction. But the records of the Library show that there is a decided demand for books on religion, sociology, useful arts, literature, history, travel and biography. These are books which are intended to broaden the mind, to give their readers new outlooks on life, and that is something which is greatly needed in these days when there is apt to be too much introspection. It is encouraging to find that more and more people are using the library facilities provided for them. Stirling is fortunate in that its library is of such a high calibre. The selection of books for such an institution is no light responsibility, especially in these days when there is so much that is doubtful on the literary market. It must be remembered that all classes of people share the benefits of the library, including both adults and juveniles, and it is highly essential that there be a proper balance in the books provided, so that the library may provide not only recreation, but intellectual food which will fulfill the true purpose of the institution.

RAWDON RIFLE CLUB

The annual meeting of the Rawdon Rifle Association, No. 743, was held at Springbrook on Friday evening, April 8th. Captain John McKeown presided. There was a good attendance. The auditors' report showed the Association to be in a flourishing condition financially and reports of officers showed the past year to have been the most successful in the history of the Association.

The following officers were elected for 1932: Captain, John McKeown, Range Officer, Isaac McInroy; Secretary, J. F. Baker; Treasurer, C. S. Eastwood; Caretaker, Chris. Burkitt; Score-keeper, George Wellman; Auditors, Roy Brown and Wallace McInroy.

The dates of the shoots were set as follows: April 27th, June 1st, 8th, 15, 22nd and Sept. 5th, 1932, the four shoots in June to be the official shoot for Dominion of Canada Rifle Association prize. This prize will be awarded to the member making the highest aggregate score at the above four shoots, provided however that previous prize winners are not eligible.

It was decided to pay prize money as in 1931 which was as follows: the special prizes for each shoot, 1st, $1.00; 2nd, 50c; 3rd, 25c; also prizes on aggregate of seasons shoot as follows: 1st 5 members, $1.00 each; the next 10 members, 75c each; next 10 members, 50c each; next 15 members 25c each if member attends at least two shoots, provided that any member winning $1.00 or more special prize money shall not be eligible to receive aggregate prize money. The special prize money shall be paid according to the standing of the score at the end of one single day's shooting for ranges completed that day only.

The dues for 1932 were set at $1.00 per member.

A special committee was appointed to put the targets in first class condition make any repairs necessary on the range, and purchase any needed supplies. A special social committee was also appointed to take care of program at the annual social evening of the club and thus relieve the executive committee of this responsibility.

It is hoped that a team from the Lakeland Rifle Association will again come to this range to compete with a team from this association sometime during the summer.

Six thousand nine hundred rounds of ammunition have been received and the rifles are expected to arrive this week. Everything seems to point to another successful year.

12,720 WORKERS STILL ON ROADS

The Ontario government has spent $8,000,000 since last September on unemployment relief in the north, according to Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests. Some 12,720 men are still employed on relief projects, including the trans-Canada Highway camps. The government is gradually reducing the number, he declared, and negotiations with the federal government to continue some branches of activity after May 1 are now being carried on.

Most of the men, the Minister said, had managed to save "nest eggs," through the department's policy of co-operation with the banks. Bank clerks had gone to the various camps, he said, and many workers had established bank accounts.

It was planned to complete the section in the Ottawa Valley east from North Bay, as well as to concentrate on the western section of the highway from Vermillion to Kenora, he declared.

NEWFONDLAND PREMIER REFUSES TO RESIGN

St. John's, Nfld.—Defying unemployed demonstrators who threatened to throw him in the harbor, and disregarding advice of several ministers, Prime Minister Sir Richard Squires has refused to resign. At one o'clock Thursday Sir Richard told newspaper reporters he had absolutely no intention of tendering resignation. It is expected he will ask for dissolution of parliament and run a dominion election. Governor Sir John Middleton on Saturday announced that a royal commission would be appointed as soon as possible to enquire into certain occurrences at the Colonial building on Tuesday. The commission will have full powers to enforce attendance of witnesses and compel them to give evidence in regard to riots that broke up Tuesday's session of the Legislature and forced the prime minister to flee the city.

In another published statement the governor thanked all war veterans and others for invaluable services in helping to maintain public peace following the disorders and expressed appreciation of the manner in which they have upheld the noble tradition of the Royal Newfoundland Regiment and Royal Naval Reserve of Newfoundland.

WEST HUNTINGDON

Sir Isaac was ill last week and so could not get his brains to work in right direction, consequently no news items were sent in from our little burg, so this may account for our budget this week being of a mixture of last weeks news and this.

Some of our people are still entertaining Mr. Flu. We are hoping when the nice warm days appear, he will know enough to take his sneak.

Mrs. William Donaldson, of Trenton, is spending a few days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kingston.

The Trail Rangers held a most interesting meeting at Mr. Kenneth Kingston's on Friday evening last week. Mr. Tom Ward, of Stirling, was present as guest speaker, and gave the lads some idea of Boy Scout work. He also taught them some new games and tricks. The lads are looking forward to having him out again. A number of visitors were also present including a few girls. Mrs. Kingston treated the lads to a taffy feed at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Phil Carr and Alvin and Lea spent the week-end at Massauga.

The depression is bringing us back to some of the things we heard when our fathers tell of the good old days. In that, we are beginning to depend more on our neighbors. For instance a number of amateur barbers have come to life and you can get a good hair cut for the old-fashioned "Thank You." Perhaps if this so-called depression brings into existence that old time neighborly friendliness, it will be doing a good turn after all. If we could just get a hold of some of those good old grandmothers now, who were nearly as good as doctors we would be well away. We were just wondering if it would not be a good idea, if we were to begin looking for some good to come of these hard times, instead of grumbling. How much happier we'd be.

BUYS PAPER AT DESERONTO

The Deseronto Post will change hands on May 2nd. This valuable newspaper plant and everything that goes with it was purchased this week by Mr. B. L. Dettlor, who retired a year ago after a successful business career as baker and confectioner.

Maurice, who started with The Post at the conclusion of his high school education five years ago, was born in Deseronto and will be twenty-five yrs. of age in June. For a time he was lino type operator on the Napanee Beaver and from there went to Toronto and graduated from the Radio College. He is well-known as an all-round athlete being a star lacrosse, rugby and tennis player and helped Napanee senior hockey team win the Kingston City League championship last winter.

GRAND JURIES

(Goderich Star)

The abolition of grand juries in Ontario is favored by Colonel Price, Attorney General for Ontario. He said in the Legislature that they are a needless and expensive appendage, and he will have plenty of support in his contention.

About the only thing which can be said in favor of grand juries is that they are an added check in criminal cases against a miscarriage of justice, which is remote. Otherwise, grand juries hold about the same place in our judicial system as does the Senate in the political arena. The average man regards both as something of a joke.

Take the inspection of public buildings, for instance—buildings which Government inspectors are paid to do nothing else but to inspect. Take the Huron County House of Refuge, which is all but inspected to death, as we have said on a previous occasion in these columns. An inspector, a very competent one, is paid $300 a year to keep an eye on this building. A committee of the County Council visits the institution four times a year at an additional cost of $300 or more a year. Then a grand jury comes along three or four times every twelve months to look the place over, at a cost which is difficult to estimate.

It is a case of check, double check and triple check, and they all find that the officials are doing great work, and that the institution is in fine shape. The only complaint we have heard is that the enamel on some of the dishes from which the inmates eat their meals is missing and the suggestion was made that these dishes be redipped or replaced. At last report the suggestion has not been acted on. If the committee was served its quarterly "banquet" from these worn-out dishes prompt action would probably result.

In any event sufficient money is being wasted on inspection each year to buy enough granite dishes for the House of Refuge to last half a century. If the "economy council" of 1932 wants to do some more whittling let it cut out a few of these needless committees. Such action would help much to restore waning confidence in the sincerity and usefulness of county councils.

The sixth annual meeting of Belleville Presbyterian of the Women's Missionary Society of the United Church, of Canada, convened in John St. church, Belleville on April 6th and 7th with ninety-four accredited delegates and a total attendance of two hundred at the afternoon sessions and three hundred in the evening.

The president, Mrs. S. C. Gay, presided and after greetings were voiced from several organizations from Branch conference and Presbytery, Mrs. J. Graham, of Trenton, very graciously replied. During the session splendid reports of the different departments of the work were given. On Wednesday afternoon Holy Communion was partaken of by over two hundred. In the evening two splendid missionary addresses were given by Miss Mabel Clazie on Formosa, and Miss Luella Rorke, Japan. Both of these speeches gave vivid pictures of their work on foreign fields.

Thursday morning a feature of special interest was the department conferences when each group talked over their own particular work.

Following this the election of officers took place and Mrs. Albert Lewis, of Camden East, fittingly installed the newly elected officers. Mrs. (Rev.) Caffey, of Plainfield, engendered a responsive feeling in the quiet hall hour.

In the afternoon, Mrs. C. A. Gallery took charge of the solemn memorial service for thirty-seven deceased members and at that very time the funeral service of a W. M. S. member, Mrs. John Orr, of Phillipston, was going on.

Mrs. Bruce Finlay presented Miss Eleanor Foster on behalf of Bloomfield Mission Band with the banner. Mrs. S. C. Gay gave her farewell address and as a tribute to her untiring efforts in our Presbytery Mrs. Farnsworth spoke of her wonderful work and Mrs. Hooper made the presentation of a lovely bouquet of American beauty roses on behalf of the Executive of the Presbytery. The new president, Mrs. T. H. P. Anderson, of Newburgh spoke a few words of greeting. During the sessions solos were rendered by Mrs. G. McKinnon, Mr. James Bankier and a duet by Messrs Bankier and Howard.

Delicious meals were served by the ladies of John St. church and on Thursday the weather was ideal. This intensely and instructive meeting closed with a prayer by Miss Hannah Paul, of Newburgh, who is a retired missionary.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Miss Edna Thrasher entertained Misses Isobel Turner, Betty Locke and Mildred Sharp on Sunday.

Mr. Will Hagerman spent a few days last week visiting Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White, he also was a guest at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Jeffs, Mr. and Mrs. Earle McAdam and Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Hagerman.

Mrs. J. Richardson and Ross, of River Valley, spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooney.

Since the rain the roads are becoming very soft and one of the hills on the fourth line is simply impassable for cars. On Sunday evening, a young man and his lady friend from a nearby burg stuck in the hill about 7 p.m. and was given assistance. Monday morning another car glided up the hill and parked in the same spot much to the annoyance of the driver. However with the help of a nearby farmer he managed to get on his way. Last year this hill in question was given a coating of crushed rock, a shovelful in a place but it wasn't enough to keep the mud from oozing up when the frost went out and at the time of writing we warn motorists to be aware. Many of the farmers living a long this said road are wishing they could do their own statute labor and if so they would not need to be isolated for two or three weeks each spring because of bad roads.

Friends were pleased to learn that Mrs. Orval Jackson and baby returned from Belleville Hospital to her new home at Hoard's last Thursday.

Miss Elda White returned home on Sunday having spent the past week and a half with friends at Salem.

Ormel MacMullen was a dinner guest of his friend, Howard Cooney, on Saturday, and enjoyed a feed of maple taffy.

Miss Olive McConnell visited the Williams School on Friday afternoon and spent the tea hour with Miss Edna Thrasher.

During the Presbytery in Belleville last week Mrs. Percy MacMullen was the guest of Miss C. Clarke, on Victoria Avenue. On Wednesday morning her correspondent enjoyed a sight-seeing tour through the Ontario-Intelligence office and viewed all the phases of preparing a daily newspaper. As a souvenir of the occasion she was given her name in type, which we hope will bring us luck.

Master Ray White entertained on Saturday, it being his ninth birthday. The guests were James Hoard, Donald, Kenneth and Douglas Martin. We wish Ray many more happy birthdays.

Mrs. John Reid is holidaying with her sister, Mrs. Ernest Honey, at Wellcome.

Mr. Willie Jeffs opened Y. P. S. on Friday evening with "We've a story to the Nations." The Devotional talk was given by Mrs. Roy Thrasher dealing with four words "Pray, Study, Go and Give." The missionary vice president, Miss Olive McConnell followed with "Oh, for a thousand tongues to sing," and Mrs. Allan Bailey offered prayer and Miss Myrtle McKeown read the bible lesson. Miss Edna Thrasher gave a vocal solo. Mrs. Jas. Sharp outlined the topic along Missionary lines. Miss Mildred Sharp sang a solo and Miss Isobel Turner gave a piano solo. After the closing hymn Mr. Dave Bell staged an interesting contest entitled "Musical Romance."

For the benefit of those who read our column we wish to state that full report of over eight columns dealing with the W.M.S. Presbytery will appear in this week's issue of the Picton Times. A large number of copies of the Picton paper were sold to the delegation as the local Daily was unable to supply space for a full report. The Executive of the Presbytery were grateful to the "Picton Times" for publishing a lengthy report.

Friends here received word that Mrs. (Rev.) Honey broke her ankle last week when an elevator at Eatons went out of commission.

Thanks "muchly," Madoc Junction for all of that write-up but where oh where has Sir Isaac gone? Too bad we could not have enjoyed a visit together while in the city but the time slipped by hurriedly and there were so many interesting things to remember and ponder over. We were greatly taken up with your article last week "re eligible penmanship." After we read it the second time we also caught that "mysterious sense of satisfaction" and were glad that folks of fame were noted for their poor writing—maybe there's a chance for us to be famous yet. In our high school days we could pen lines very nicely but as days go by and we write and write and write some more, very often to us it is but a scribble and we do wonder sometimes how it is that our worst copy always gets in the paper correctly and our good copy is almost sure to have a mistake. Perhaps after all Editors and staffs can decipher poor copy best. Someday in private M.J. we will tell you of a blunder a poor fellow made with our copy once but it's too sad a tale to relate here. Another time a young man who had recently attended a Hallway party set up "Rows of Witche eyes, as the name of a Missionary hymn, "Rows of mite boxes" and were so shocked—well I guess and yet there's lots of fun in this game of reporting if you can only find the funny side.

Mr. and Mrs. George Weaver entertained guests to tea on Sunday evening.

Just here we would like to give a synopsis of the work accomplished in 1931 by the Press secretary as she reported it at the Presbytery: 82 auxiliaries out of 95 reported; 50 reported regularly each month; 3 have lined up for work in 1932; 3 are resting on their cars for this year; the balance reported one or more meetings; Y. W. A's reported 15 meetings; C. G. I. T. groups reported 46 meetings; 6 circles have started in for work in 1932 in this department also 1 Mission Band. The auxiliaries sent in 1360 items of missionary news to the sixteen newspapers in this Presbytery an increase of over 460 items, sure we have cause to be joyful. The Presbytery press secretary reported over 80 items to the newspapers mentioned, the Toronto Dailies and the Missionary Monthly. During the year 194 personal letters were written, 86 reports to the questionnaires sent out a total of 407 items of mail. All auxiliary press secretaries are asked to be particular in answering letters re the work. Let your slogan be promptness. Editors' dearest stale news. Since union press work has grown immeasurably and to-day it stands in the forefront of missionary endeavor.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar McKeown and Francis attended the funeral of Mr. Wm. Melkjohn, at Rylestone on Sunday. Interment was made in Stirling cemetery.

At the close delicious refreshments and orangeade were served to the guests.

TAXATION KILLING THE FARMER

(Kingsville Reporter)
The mounting cost of government with its heavy burden of taxation and the decline in the price of farm products has driven many a farmer off a once productive farm.
This in itself is a pathetic story, for abandoned farms increase the delinquent taxes and add that much more to an already overburdened community. There was a time when the farmer was listed as prosperous, and when a nation emerging from a war had world wide markets, but these have been curtailed.
Some people have an idea that a farmer is fortunate, that he is able to live because of the many things that are raised on the farm, but when the taxes increase as a result of governmental costs, both state and nation, and year in and year out conditions

Too Much ACID

MANY people, two hours after eating, suffer indigestion—as they call it. It is usually excess acid. Correct it with an alkali. The best way, the quick, harmless and efficient way, is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. It has remained for 50 years the standard with physicians. One spoonful in water neutralizes many times its volume in stomach acids, and at once. The symptoms disappear in five minutes.

You will never use crude methods when you know this better method. And you will never suffer from excess acid when you prove out this easy relief.

Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians for 50 years in correcting excess acids. 50c a bottle—any drug store.

The ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia tooth-paste.

BOARDING OUT PROPOSED FOR MENTAL PATIENTS

Over 4,000 Patients in Foster Homes in Erlangen, Germany—Cheaper and Better for Patients

Canadian mental hospitals contain about 30,000 men and women. Their keep now amounts to over $10,000,000 a year. The yearly increase is about 1,500 patients, which means a further annual cost of more than $500,000 to say nothing of $3,000,000 which must be spent for new hospital buildings.

Merely building more hospitals will not solve this problem. Furthermore the cost will soon become more than the public can stand. An interesting alternative is being tried at Gheel, Belgium, at Erlangen, Germany, and other European centres.

This method consists of placing of patients in foster homes. At Erlangen for instance the experiment was begun 21 years ago. The mental hospital was crowded and there was no money for a new building. So six patients were placed in selected homes in the community. The results were very encouraging. Gradually, as householders lost their fear of mental patients and learned how to care for them, others were boarded out. To-day there are over 4,000 patients in boarding-houses in the vicinity of Erlangen—about 4 times as many as there are in the hospital from which the whole thing is worked.

Patients are given a preliminary period of observation and care in the hospital before they are boarded out. Regular supervision, depending upon the particular needs of the patient, is supplied by trained workers from the hospital. The patients are practically as free as they would be if afflicted with tuberculosis, or any other physical disability. There are some drawbacks, of course, but these are more than balanced by the advantages. In the aggregate the system works very well. The cost is about one-fourth less than hospital costs—and the expense of building new hospitals is also saved.

Here is a fine chance for one of our provinces to take the lead in establishing this very necessary system in Canada.

(Information on any point not covered here will be given in later issues if you will address your questions to "Mental Health", 111 St. George St. Toronto, Ontario.)

TROPHY WON BY WOOLER LEAFS

The final game of the play-off in the Frankford hockey loop was decided Monday, last week, when Frankford Royals and Wooler Leafs clashed at the Frankford arena, the Leafs winning a close checking game 4-1. On Friday, April 8th, they were presented with the trophy at Frankford where a dance was tendered them.

The game started off at a fast pace with the Leafs pressing right from the bell and in the first minutes of play O'Malley made several spectacular saves that appeared to be sure goals. With three minutes to go in the first period M. McCoil scored on a pass from F. Moran. McCoil again scored in the second and third period and also had an assist on the last goal scored by C. Rutman. The Royals only score came at the opening of the third period, Turley taking a pass from V. Loney and going in close he gave Rutman no chance to save. Eight penalties were handed out by referee Eowan, of Trenton, four going to each team.

The line-ups—LEAFS—Goal, G. Rutman; defence, L. Whitney, F. Moran; centre, E. Houlihan; wings, H. McCoil, L. Redcliffe; subs, C. Rutman, S. Teal and R. Hazlewood.

Royals—Goal, B. O'Malley; defence Patrick, Montgomery; centre, Chard; Wings, J. Rose, E. Patrick; subs, H. Turley, V. Loney and F. Loney.

become more and more aggravated, we are not surprised to read that herds of cattle are dying of starvation in certain provinces because the owners cannot feed them. It costs to feed a herd and when prices received for milk will not pay the feed bill what is the owner to do?

Farmers want their overhead reduced, and when that overhead of government is reduced it lowers the burden of taxation. Lift this from the shoulders of the average farmer and he will succeed. Give him a chance to pay off on his farm without a foreclosure at this time, and he will succeed.

Special News For Farmers

Free Trees Available

Many farmers are taking advantage of the opportunity to secure trees from the Forestry Branch this spring for reforestation purposes. The former limit of 3,500 trees for one individual has been rescinded and the land owner can secure as many as he wishes for reforestation work. The limit of 500 acres for windbreak purposes still applies. The trees are sent out the latter part of April, so that interested farmers should act quickly. Write to the Forestry Branch, Parliament Buildings, Toronto and secure an application form with the necessary instructions.

Weekly Crop Report

Bruce County reports fall wheat to have come through the winter well, although showing some browning on top. Quite a percentage of clover in Flgin, particularly sweet clover has heaved badly. About 25 per cent of cheese factories are running in Frontenac. More seed grains have been cleaned at the local cleaning plant in Grenville than ever before. Fall wheat and clovers are in good condition in Huron Several southern counties report sales of dairy cattle to United States at good prices. Preparation for spring work is the order of business on most farms at present. All machinery is being repaired, with purchases of new equipment at a minimum. Eight cars of agricultural lime stone were brought into Peel county in the last year. A considerable number of hogs are being marketed in Peterboro. Sheep owners in Prince Edward report a splendid lamb crop.

Favor Hullless Oat

Farmers in Haldimand County are quite enthusiastic over the new Liberty Hullless Oat, a variety originated at the Central Experimental Farm at Ottawa some time ago. As a result of selection and careful cleaning they are now able to produce a crop which in total weight of real feed per acre exceeds Banner and is particularly recommended for young livestock and poultry. On the farms of A. E. Hoover of Selkirk and A. Mehlenbacher of Cayuga yields of over 40 measured bushels of hullless weighs close to 50 lbs. compared to around 30 for the ordinary variety. While there seem to be distinct possibilities in the hullless oat as a food for human consumption so far growers are satisfied to cater to poultry, hogs and calves. For this sort of stock the new oat seems to be greatly superior to the ordinary kind as there are no wasteful and sometimes dangerous hulls. Prof. A. W. Mason, of O.A.C., reports an average yield at Guelph of 54.9 bushels of 34 pounds each for Liberty Hullless and 68.3 bushels of Banner per acre during the past five years. Banner during the same period averaged almost 30 per cent hull, which according to authorities is not worth more than straw in feeding value. Deducting this hull and figuring on a weight basis, Liberty Hullless has averaged 1,867 pounds per acre at Guelph compared with 1,642 for Banner. Liberty Hullless is slightly shorter in the straw than Banner and matures about a week earlier.

Care of Hatching Eggs

This is the time of the year when the farmer with a good poultry flock finds hatching eggs in big demand. Too much care can not be exercised in culling eggs which are intended for hatching use. A metal bucket should not be used because the very least contact with a hard surface may cause a check or crack in the shell. Straw or burlap gives protection. There should be plenty of nests available to the hens, from 12 to 15 nests per 100 birds. When culled hatching eggs should be kept in a cool room. Gorm growth starts at a temperature of 69 degrees and the room in which the eggs are kept until delivered to the hatchery should not be more than 50 to 60 degrees. Eggs should be delivered to the hatchery as soon after they are collected as possible.

Clean the Henhouse

With the coming of spring the hen house should be cleaned thoroughly. Doubtless there are breeding places for lice and mites that should be routed out and destroyed before the warm weather comes to increase the pests by thousands. Firstly, remove all the perches, nests, feeding hoppers, water containers and other movable equipment. Clean out all the litter and then sweep the floor and walls to remove dust, cobwebs and other dirt. After the first job has been completed, the interior of the chicken house should be washed with hot, soapy water. A broom is a good tool for doing this task well and quickly. Spray the walls and floor with some good disinfectant. The house should be thoroughly dried and ventilated before the chickens are allowed to enter.

Dairymen Organize

Eastern Ontario Dairymen producing milk for the manufacture of cheese recently organized a new association with the object of (1) Working for the consolidation and amalgamation of present manufacturing plants and having these operated throughout the year instead of during the summer months; (2) the establishment of storage facilities for cheese and to arrange for "a more equitable and up-to-date system of marketing"; (3) to work for the elimination of the duplication of milk and cream transportation costs; (4) to improve the quality of the raw material supplied to cheese factories.

Collective Purchasing

The question of farm supplies should be attacked from a community standpoint, according to George R. Paterson, of the Ontario Marketing Board. It is a different problem in one community than in another, since the type of farming enterprise common to a community varies. The dairy farmer purchases commodities that differ from what is a common buying practice of the fruit grower. The poultryman's needs differ from the mixed farmer and so on.

The first essential step to be taken by a Purchasing Association is a survey of the situation. If the farmers in the community served by the Association are purchasing too many feeds that should be grown at home and if the variety of feed purchased is too great, steps should be taken to rectify this condition. Dairy farmers in a community should strive to grow the feeds which can be best grown at home and which will best suit a dairy ration. An abundance of high quality protein roughage should form the basis of community effort. If the soils are suitable to a program of this kind well and good, but if clovers and other legumes require to be aided in their abundant growth by drainage, improved tillage and possibly a soil corrective then steps may be taken collectively through the purchasing association to provide the materials required to effect the change. Then the supplementary feeds should be made to be uniform in type.

Fruit and vegetable growers have a variety of opinions on systems of fertilization and disease control. The best authorities on these subjects can readily be consulted and collective purchasing made exceedingly simple if sprays and fertilizer formulae are standardized more than they are at present.

In working out a program of this kind it may well be borne in mind that through efficient collective purchase one of the heavy items of cost of production is pared to the bone and the margin of profit enlarged.

Lately credit or the financing of collective purchases must be sound. The organization or individual who pays cash has immediately cut the cost of production. The man who asks for credit is handicapped at the start and in the large majority of instances will never catch up.

BEWARE OF SUBSTITUTES

Here's A Game For all the Family (or Your Guests)

SOME night, when the family is complete, or when you are giving a party, ask everybody to give answers to these questions:

Question	Fill in Answer	Question	Fill in Answer
1. What product would you use for gargling, to kill throat and mouth germs?	7. What toothpaste bases its appeal for use on its declared ability to remove the film which forms on the teeth?
2. What brand of cheese is best known to you?	8. "No matter how much housework you have to do, you can easily avoid the embarrassment of Domestic hands—so say the half-century-old makers of a skin cream. What kind of cream is it?"
3. "French women rarely allow water to touch their skin, but prefer cold cream for cleansing." What cold cream is said to be the purest and best for skin-cleansing?	9. A certain advertiser says that when you are constantly tired and overworked, Fatigue Poisons accumulate in your system. He makes a drinking cereal which fights fatigue poisons. What is the name of this beverage?
4. It is said that Canadian women are using more white soap for all cleaning and dishwashing. What white soap was named?	10. After 30 years of experience in ham-curing a meat packer says that "Four great improvements came dramatically from a new method of smoking the hams"—improvements in (1) flavor, (2) tender quality (3) pinkness of color, and (4) firmness. The new way is called "Ovenized." What hams are "ovenized"?
5. If you wished to color your finger nails to match the color of your gown, what preparation is available for such a purpose.
6. There's a certain floor wax giving a surface which neither scraping feet nor scrubbing chairs can mar. What is its name?

You can make your own questions by studying the advertisements in this and other newspapers.

Write out the questions, and pin the sheet of paper on the wall. Offer a small prize to the one who gives the most correct answers inside 30 minutes.

You'll have an evening with lots of merriment—and some useful instruction—in it

Millbrook—After a lingering illness Charles W. Richards, proprietor and co-editor with his son, B. L. Richards of the Mirror-Reporter, died Wednesday morning last week, at his residence, Centre Street, in his sixtieth year.

Napanee—Wide search is being made through this district to-day for Harry Smith, of this town, who has been missing since last Wednesday. About a month ago Smith was rescued from his burning home after having been almost suffocated by smoke.

Capeol—A shortage of $1614 has been found in the treasury of the Town of Capeol, according to the final report of a special audit made by an Ottawa firm. Town Clerk-Treasurer A. Brundage who has been ill, has returned from Pembroke.

New York—The Evening Post says it was informed Monday afternoon that Col. Chas. A. Lindbergh has been cheated out of $100,000 in his efforts to secure the return of his kidnapped son. The source of the information, The Post said, is a high police official in New Jersey.

Thorold—With hunting flying and whistles shrieking, the steamers New York News and Chicago Tribune and the motorship Thorold left here on Monday at two-minute intervals for Chicago, opening navigation on the upper half of the Welland Ship Canal. The Imperial Oil tanker, Royalite arrived at Port Colborne Saturday night from Sarnia.

Marmora—There is quite a hay famine in the Marmora district just now so that hay has to be imported from Frankford and Rawdon township. As one of the importers remarked "It is a case of selling hay while the demand is good." Dr. R. E. Lumsden, who is running a flour and feed store is courteously linking up prospective buyers with those who have hay to sell.

At a recent get together of the Frankford storekeepers a decision was made to keep the shops open Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays for the remainder of the summer and fall months. The practice started this week with the shops continuing business until ten o'clock. Frankford storekeepers know that there is business to be had and they intend to keep it in their village and not let it get out of town.

Mrs. Alex Douglas, 35, resident north of Grafton was instantly killed and also the horse which she was driving, when struck by C. P. R. passenger train No. 20 eastbound. It is understood she was watching a westbound C.N.R. freight train and did not notice the eastbound passenger train which was proceeding on the tracks which she was crossing. Mrs. Douglas had brought her father, T. Ladu to the C.N.R. station at Grafton, he being enroute to Kingston to enter the hospital. The train leaving Grafton at 10:05 a.m.

Tweed—L. M. Smith deputy minister of highways, stated that the department is proceeding to have work completed on six miles of the Actinolite-Port road, where the contract company failed financially. The bonding company will be called upon to complete the work. This contract was let to the York Construction Co. and was for about $75,000. About 175 men had been employed in work. Under the terms of the contract, which was let as a relief project, the bonding company is called upon to complete the work, where the contractor fails. Men employed at the work and the government are protected by provisions of the bond taken from the contractor.

Tweed News—It's a far cry from Tweed, Ontario to Lethbridge, Alberta, but word was received yesterday that two young men arrested in that city, have admitted the theft of a large number of articles from the stores operated by M. J. and Ray Quinn last fall. Their admission followed their arrest in the western city on other charges. At the time of the theft in Tweed, District Inspector Lougheed of the Provincial Police sent out circulars all over the Dominion describing the goods stolen. It was revealed that the men, both of whom reside in Western Canada were wearing clothes stolen from Ray Quinn's shop at the time of their arrest. They are being tried on the Lethbridge charges and as their expenses to Tweed would be heavy. It is entirely unlikely that they will be brought here.

James Rosevear, age 68 of Cannifton, was struck by a motor car driven by Roy Rose, of Holloway, about 10:30 Sunday night when he was walking eastwardly on the Cannifton-Belle-lie highway and sustained severe injuries causing his immediate removal to the Belleville General hospital. It is alleged, by Mr. Rose that Mr. Rosevear was walking on the west side of the highway and coming towards Belleville. Mr. Rose met a car going in the opposite direction, and the lights of the on-coming car completely blinded his view from seeing the approaching pedestrian. As soon as Mr. Rose realized that he had struck something he immediately stopped his car and returned to the scene of the accident. The elderly Mr. Rosevear was found to be in an unconscious condition and the Belleville ambulance was at once summoned. Constable Evans believed the unfortunate man to the Belleville General hospital, where he was attended to by Dr. G. S. Cronk, of that city. At 10 a.m. on Monday, Mr. Rosevear was still in a critical condition and was also unconscious. Provincial Sergeant Thompson and Provincial Traffic Constable Frink investigated the case and Rose was not held on any charge whatsoever. Mr. Rose did everything in his power to try and avert the accident and also remained at the scene of the accident until the arrival of the police. He was also instrumental in the summoning of the police ambulance to the scene of the accident.

THE LATE WM. MEIKLEJOHN

One of this district's outstanding men in the person of Mr. Wm. Meiklejohn, passed away last Friday morning about ten o'clock, at the home of his son, Mr. Sanford Meiklejohn, ninth concession, Rawdon Twp. In his 87th year. The deceased had been in splendid health until five days prior to his demise, when he suffered a weak spell caused from age and from which he failed to recover.

Mr. Meiklejohn was the eldest of a family of nine and was the son of the late James Meiklejohn and Margaret Lindsay, who came from Stirling, Scotland, in 1842. He was born on August 14th, 1845, on a farm on the twelfth concession of Rawdon, where Mr. John S. McKeown now resides. When he was eighteen years of age his father met with a fatal accident at a barn-raising and the responsibility of the family rested on his shoulders. In 1870 Mr. Meiklejohn purchased a farm for himself in the thirteenth concession, Rawdon, now occupied by Murney McInroy. On the 13th of March, 1872, he married Harriett Esther Reid, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Caleb Reid, who predeceased him 14 years ago.

In 1908 he moved to Stirling and resided in the house now owned by Mr. Jos. Wilson, agricultural representative and remained here until about six years ago when he moved to his son's home where he passed away.

Mr. Meiklejohn was a prosperous farmer and a man whose opinion and advice was highly valued. He was outstanding in his own convictions and was much in demand for advice on many matters, which was willingly given. For years he was a Justice of the Peace and a staunch Liberal in politics. In religion, Mr. Meiklejohn was a Presbyterian. He was for many years an elder in the church at Rylestone, and was ordained as an elder in the Presbyterian church at Stirling, later. He was keenly interested in the cheese industry and was president of Maple Leaf cheese factory for several years.

He is survived by four sons viz: Allen, of Kingston; Sanford, of Rawdon; George, of Provost, Alta.; and Roger, of Stirling; also four brothers and two sisters: James, of Seattle; John and Andrew, Campbellford; Lindsay, Stirling; Sara, (R.N.) of Seattle, Wash.; and Mrs. James Alton (Margaret), Campbellford. Two sisters, Mrs. J. Watson, of Burnbrae, and Mrs. H. Todd, of Weyburn, Sask., predeceased him. Dr. H. J. Meiklejohn, a prominent insurance man in the northwest, and who formerly conducted a medical practice in Stirling, where Dr. H. H. Alger now resides, is a cousin.

The funeral service was held at the home of his son, Mr. Sanford Meiklejohn at 2 p.m., on Sunday, Rev. H. A. Bunt preached an excellent sermon from the words: "The Lord takes pleasure in the death of his saints." The pall-bearers were the three sons Allen, Sanford and Roger, also Grandville Meiklejohn, Will Allen and Lindsay Watson. The flower-bearers were Grant Meiklejohn, Reggie McKeown, Clarence McKeown, Clarence and Gerald Barnum. Interment took place in Stirling cemetery.

EXPENDITURES TO

BE INVESTIGATED

Ottawa—Expense accounts of the Canadian National Railways officials, the purchase by the railway directorate of a house for Sir Henry Thornton, issuing of free passes by the railway, and the renovation of the Prime Ministers' apartments in the Chateau Laurier are all matters which have been delegated for investigation to a sub-committee of the House of Commons committee on railways and on shipping. This emerged from a session of the committee on Tuesday and followed a prolonged discussion on railways expenditures generally. Dr. Peter McGibbon, Cons. Muskoka; F. R. MacMillan, Cons. Saskatchewan; and W. D. Euler, Liberal, North Waterloo will comprise the sub-committee.

blame the Post Office. Now having brought up the subject of loss, it seems an appropriate time to mention our registration system.

Registered Mail

This is a hand to hand transfer system of letters so dependable as to mean almost a guarantee of delivery. In the registration system not more than one article in sixty thousand is lost and so if you want to ensure or have delivery of your mail use the Post Office registration. A record is kept of every movement of the letter from the time it is posted until it is finally delivered. The parcel post insurance system is not intended to ensure delivery but it does provide a means of protecting yourself against loss, rifling or damage of parcels insured in the mail. When I mention that 3c will cover insurance up to $5 you realize that the rate is fairly low; protection up to $100 is afforded by a 50c fee with intermediate fees of 6c and 12c covering insurance of $25 and $50 respectively. Another service that is closely allied with the parcel post is the C. O. D. system which is almost self-explanatory. By means of this collection service bookkeeping losses are avoided and business generally is speeded up. Another money service is the Postal note and Money Order. The Post Office handles every year millions of dollars by means of Post Office Money orders and Postal notes and there is no safer method of making your remittances. The Money Order service has the additional that it extends to practically every country in the world. Having covered what the Post Office does for you let me mention what you may do for it. The first thing is to address your mail carefully and fully.

Dead Letter Office

Undelivered mail on which the senders address does not appear is sent to the Dead Letter Office and opened in order to determine if possible the name and address of the sender. The Dead Letter office does manage to get back a large percentage of the mail reaching it but there is still a lot that cannot be disposed of. Always be sure too that there is sufficient postage on letter or parcel.

At this point on the program a solo and encore was rendered by Arthur Duncan and well applauded.

Thos. Montgomery, sr., was the next speaker and spoke on the "Benefits of a Community Club." He stressed co-operation, as the success of any club depends upon team work. "It is good," he said "for men or all classes and creeds to get together. It helps a man to forget his troubles with the friendly spirit that exists and should exist in such a club. It is good for people to get together and exchange views on different questions. Why should we be so biased in our views and opinions along religious and political lines? Our views when we grow to manhood to a great measure, depend upon the environment, in which we were raised." Mr. Montgomery felt that we had not thought enough for ourselves—allowing other opinions to sway us. Nevertheless we should be tolerant. "If we" he continued, "are a part of nature as we must be, why don't we act more natural. He illustrated this remark by referring to the difference in fruit from a poorly pruned tree and a well pruned tree. If you allow a tree to grow up without attention the fruit will be anything but first-class fruit. It must be well-trained and cultivated to give the best results. So it is with a human being. In concluding his remarks, Mr. Montgomery stated that one of the greatest things in the world, and the cheapest—is common courtesy and it will get a man where nothing else will.

Alex Park gave a reading entitled "The Irishman," which was well rendered and thoroughly enjoyed even by the Scotch.

The next speaker was Rev. H. J. Farrell, who gave a most interesting description of a "Trip through the Heart of Switzerland," which he made a few years ago. Father Farrell kept the attention of his audience throughout and no doubt several had a vision of being with him as he so vividly described his tour in a clear and educational manner. The following is a condensed report of his remarks:

Starting from Victoria Station, in London by boat train for Dover thence on across channel steamer to Calais where connections were made. The all night trip to Lucerne—a city surrounded by all the charms of Swiss scenic beauty—a beautiful lake—mountain peaks, snow-capped, flow in profusion—and the attractive ease of old world splendor. A trip to the famous nearby Rigi-Kulor, one of the many summits of the Alps from which a memorable panorama can be seen. A railroad runs to the top and one marvels at the power of the little steam engine that pushes the cars up such an elevation. In Lucerne one sees traces of the great glacial age. From Lucerne the great Swiss electrical railway takes you to Interlaken—the town between two lakes as its name implies—here you are surrounded by mountains whose summits reflect a gorgeous sunset everchanging as its rays are reflected from their snowcaps. Next in order of our trip comes the city of Montreaux reached through the mountain passes by electric railway and situated at one end of Lake Geneva. It is a centre for many side trips especially that to the famous St. Bernard Pass on Mount Blanc. A boat trip on the blue waters of the lake brings you to the city of Geneva with its historic associations, and more recently its identification with international peace parleys. Back to Montreaux by train and on the morning join the Naples express for Paris passing en route the city of Lausanne. Switzerland is a tourists' paradise and well repays a visit there.

Chas. Allen rendered two enjoyable piano solos.

Following this a novelty song, prepared by Chas. Allen, Arthur Duncan and Bob Patterson was much enjoyed. Members of the club and W. I. were in the "pageant."

Before calling for Auld Lang Syne to close the gathering, Chairman Walt thanked all who had helped to make the club a success, including the ladies of the W. I. He felt it had been a good season and hoped that when the meetings resumed in November the same vigor and enthusiasm would be to the fore.

HUGE CROWD SAW TORONTO WIN HISTORIC STANLEY CUP

Toronto.—The Stanley Cup is back in Toronto for the fourth time.

First the Torontos in 1914 and again in 1918, then the St. Patricks in 1922, and now the Maple Leafs, the most popular and colorful team that ever represented this city in hockey have reached the pinnacle and captured both the historic and battered trophy and the world's championship.

The Leafs ascended the throne by defeating the New York Rangers on Saturday night before a record-breaking crowd of 11,366 in the Maple Leaf Gardens by 6 to 4 in the final for the third game of the series. This feat enabled them to make a new record in the final for the championship, as it was the first time the trophy has been won in straight games since the final series was decided by the best three games out of five. Vanquishing the Rangers with three victories in five days, in New York on Tuesday, in Boston on Thursday and in Toronto on Saturday, the Maple Leafs struck a heavy blow at those opponents of professional sport who were not backward in saying that the gate receipts were paramount. Once and for all, it has been demonstrated that there is something more than money in professional sport.

For the third time in the three games the Leafs whistled the rubber past John Ross Roach, in the Rangers nets, six times, and while the losers responded with four goals the locals were the better team by more than the margin of two goals indicates. The new world's champions were better in all but one respect than were the Blueshirts from Gotham. They had more speed both ways and were much better defensively and their combination efforts clicked with a great deal more regularity.

Roach Plays Brilliantly

The only place where the Rangers had an edge was in goal. John Ross Roach the little custodian of the Rangers, who was made the goat of the Rangers' first reverse, played a brilliant game and turned aside many attacks that appeared headed for a counter. But for his great display the locals would have piled up a total of double figure dimensions. He had the edge on Chabot because he had the greater number of opportunities, but the Leafs' goalie held the Rangers to two goals for over 57 minutes. It was not until the game was safely tucked away and the locals eased off a little in the final three minutes that Frank Boucher added two goals to make the Rangers' total more flattering than they really deserved on the play.

After their victories on foreign ice in the first two games of the series, the Leafs were favorites to win in 3 straight and set a new record, and they lost little time in demonstrating conclusively their intentions. In a little over six minutes, before many of the spectators had gained their seats, they were two goals in front and from then on they were in command of the game. It was a fast-paced encounter, and the Rangers showed more aggressiveness than had been anticipated, but they were up against a better team.

Legionaires Attend Church

A most impressive service was held in St. Paul's United church on Sunday morning, when sixty-five members of the Canadian Legion paraded to divine service headed by the Argyle Light Infantry Pipe band from Belleville. There were twenty-five men from Belleville and five from Campbellford. The legionnaires met at the local headquarters in the Coulter block. A procession was formed and led by the band marched to the service in commemoration of battles at Ypres, 1915, St. Eloi, 1916 and Vimy Ridge. Upon reaching the church a halt was made and wreaths were placed at its base by the 21st Battalion Club, of Belleville and the local branch of the Legion, and a brief ceremony was held. The parade of soldiers was headed by Major C. F. Walt, acting as Marshal. Col. Darius Green and President E. J. Dainard, of the local branch of the Legion in charge of the veterans and their comrades. Comrades S. Williams and H. Francis carried Union Jacks. The church was crowded to capacity, both auditorium and gallery. The decorations were in flags and most attractive. The minister, Rev. E. W. Rowland, preached an inspiring sermon, taking his text from I. Chronicles 5:22, "and there fell down many dead for the battle was of the Lord."

The choir rendered a special anthem and a solo, "Land of Hope and Glory," by Miss Bessie Conley was much enjoyed.

Following the church service the parade reformed and marched to the Community Hall, via Church, North and Front streets, where the ladies had prepared a tasty dinner. Speeches were enjoyed and the local Legion was complimented for their sincerity in boosting the Legion and also for sponsoring such a splendid occasion as the divine service.

Devotional night at St. Andrew's on Monday evening proved to be all that the name might suggest. The Devotional vice-president, Mrs. W. L. Anderson had taken the greatest care in the preparation of the program so that all might be conducive to the very fine spirit of devotion. The hearty manner in which the meeting participated in singing the hymns of devotion and praise testified that in no small degree the program was a success. Mrs. J. Whithead presided over the meeting and Mrs. C. Baker read the Scripture lesson. Mrs. H. Rollins led the meeting in prayer. During the business part of the meeting the names of several absent members were handed in to the secretary and the Guild authorized him to send a card to each of these and remind them that they have the Guild's very best wishes. Arthur Duncan sang "There is a Green Hill, Far Away," which was a splendid contribution to the program. Mrs. A. S. Murdoff gave the topic, Jesus, our Ideal in optimism. No one is so well acquainted with the evils of this world as He is. No one has suffered so much sorrow over the world's pitiable plight. That no human power can improve the world, only the power of God, the supreme power of God, yet He is ever hopeful.

In every age poets, teachers, historians and preachers are so impressed with the badness of things, there is no escape from doom. Many religions are colored with hopelessness. All the hope the world has had for 2000 years has come from Jesus. His gospel is full of it. He taught God is love. God is good and God is working at the problem of human redemption. He said, God is building a kingdom of righteousness. Jesus knows all the evils that are in the world. Nothing but the favorable presence of an optimistic Jesus has kept up the faith of the church. Faith is the exact opposite of the natural pessimism of mankind.

The meeting closed with the Missionary benediction.

Open Nights After May 1st

Commencing May 1st, Stirling shops will remain open Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday nights to accommodate the rural shoppers. The weekly Wednesday half-holiday does not commence until June.

WRENCHES LEG

Mr. Ira Whitton, who has been employed at the airport, Trenton, had the misfortune to fall from a scaffold, last week, while employed on one of the new buildings, being erected and badly wrenched his leg. Fortunately no bones were broken but he will be compelled to limp for some time.

A TAGGED BIRD

A peculiar bird, believed to be an English starling was killed in Mrs. Annie Green's hen-house, Campbellford road, last Thursday. What makes the bird more interesting is that there was a band on one leg with the following number "A 246563. The News-Argus would be pleased to hear from the party who attached the tag.

THIEVES ENTER STORE

Thieves broke into Mr. Roy Thrasher's store, Campbellford Road, near Hoard's, on Tuesday night, and the loot they desired was plug tobacco. About $20 worth of goods, mostly tobacco, were stolen along with about $9 in silver. The provincial police are investigating and some clues have been unearthed, and the guilty party or parties are expected to be caught.

QUICK RESULTS

That it pays to advertise in the News-Argus classified column was again demonstrated in last week's issue. A drake was wanted and a little "message" went in Thursday's paper and on Friday morning the fowl was delivered to the party requiring same. This is quick results and only goes to show the power of News-Argus classified advertisements. Try one.

S. H. S. TATTLES

We are sorry to report the absence of Laura Mason, who is confined to her home with an attack of appendicitis. Miss Burch was also absent on Tuesday afternoon.

This lovely weather has brought the pupils outdoors and they are now enjoying softball at noon. Physical training is now taken out-of-doors. We also have a splendid display of tulips springing up in front of the school.

MOTORISTS BEWARE!

The speed limit in Stirling is 20 miles per hour and 10 miles per hour when crossing intersections. Constable Harry Wickett has informed the News-Argus that this law is being violated in Stirling and he intends checking up on the same. Cars with an insufficient number of lights—two headlights and one tail light—will also be checked up. Motorists are warned that these rules must be strictly adhered to or action will be taken.

A. Y. P. A.

The missionary meeting of the A. Y. P. A. was held in the vestry last Monday evening. The meeting opened with hymn 298, followed by prayer, and roll call. The minutes of the last meeting were read and adopted. Margaret Cooke gave a reading on "Our Brother's Helper," taken from the A. Y. P. A. Monthly. This dealt with the every-day problems of humanity and also the many reasons why people at the present time are in the direst straits. A reading "Forty-seven years with the Indians," was given by Mrs. S. Dawford. This reading was a summary of the work of Venerable Archdeacon Tims, of the Calgary diocese. Archdeacon Tims has spent forty-seven years as a missionary to the Black feet and Sarcee Indians. The most important article in the essay was the accurate description of the Sun Dance of the natives. Teams were chosen by Margaret Cooke and Margaret Bateman. A contest, "Musical Bateman," was put on by Margaret Bateman. A cake contest was put on by Frances Cook. At the close of the meeting it was decided to cancel the meeting for next Monday evening as many of the officers of the A. Y. P. A. are in the castle of the play. The meeting closed with the National Anthem.

On the shipment of hogs out of Stirling on Tuesday, 4½¢ per pound was paid for bacon.

Comedy Given by Belleville Talent

"Merton of the Movies," a comedy sponsored by the Y's Men's Club of Belleville, was presented in the Stirling Theatre under the auspices of the local Bowling Club on Tuesday night. There were about 200 people present, but the calibre of the play deserved a packed house. However those who had the pleasure of witnessing this performance agree, that it was an outstanding success, and are enthusiastic in their praise of those taking a part.

The story of Merton is an appealing one, that of a likable small town boy who aspired to be a great motion picture actor. His decision to leave his home, seek fame on the silver screen, and his deep humiliation when he realizes, that his supreme efforts at tragedy result only in popular comedy provides an evening of real entertainment. The light comedy touch of the play has its distinct note of pathos and one's sympathies at all times are with the earnest Merton.

Mr. Court Miller had the title role of the play and his unusual ability as an actor justified his choice as the lead. In his characterization of the trusting Merton who won the sympathy of many officials in the motion picture industry he showed a keen understanding and his work is worthy of high standard. Miss Leona Riggs made a charming heroine, playing the part of the pretty Montague Girl. It is she, who discovers Merton's resemblance to the famous Harold Parmalee which leads to Merton's being starred in comedies rather than the serious pictures which he prefers. Miss Riggs' experience on the stage was manifest by her natural manner and her finished performance.

Bob Brown played the role of Amos G. Gashlyver, the owner of the country store in which one sees the ambitious Merton. Mr. Brown gave a splendid impersonation of the usual type of country store proprietor. Mr. Bain Currie as Elmer Huff, the small town dandy was most amusing and later as J. Lester Montague an elderly actor, always seeking employment in the casting office showed distinct ability. Miss Mildred Lloyd made an excellent casting director and Miss Helen Sulman made the most of her part as the home town girl with ambitions to be a scenario writer. Mr. Earl E. Voy, as Sigmond Rosenblatt, was splendid in his presentation of the temperamental director as was Mr. Howell Partridge as assistant director. Mr. Ewart Cather took the part of the camera man.

The big stars of the motion pictures were realistically impersonated by Miss Rose McKibbin as Beulah Baxter, "the wonder girl of the silver screen," and Roger Thompson as Harold Parmalee, Merton's idol. Mrs. E. H. Walters took the role of one of the actresses in the scene under direction and Mr. Al. Walters was the picture magnate, whose offer Merton rejected. Mr. H. Snell was seen as Jeff Baird, of the Jeff Baird Comedies which Merton despised and was crushed to learn that he was taking part in one of these performances, under the impression that he was a wonderful tragedian. Mrs. R. B. Morden was splendid as Mrs. Patterson, the board ing house mistress.

Contracts for Summer Water

The summer water system will be turned on for the season within the next week. This year all users will be required to sign a contract before they may use the water. Such action has been taken by the council because in the past a couple of supposed users refused to pay, as they claimed they had not used the water and the council had no way to check up. Another decision made by the council was that anyone who has not paid water arrangements will not be allowed the use of the system until the same are paid. A closer check will be made on residents using their neighbors' summer system, as a matter of fact on the contract a user is asked to sign for use of water for his household only. The rates may be paid monthly or at the end of the season—at the option of the user.

IS LIBERAL CANDIDATE

Dr. Faulkner, of Belleville, was chosen Liberal standard bearer, for West Hastings, at a meeting of the Liberals, for that riding, held in Trenton, last week. Dr. Faulkner is an old Stirling boy, and is a brother of Mrs. J. McC Potts.

SOME GOOSE EGG

Mrs. Pat Cain has a goose of which she is very proud. Last week this well-footed fowl laid an egg that weighed twelve ounces and measured thirteen inches by nine inches. This goose may be classed in the "golden goose" category. Who has a goose that can beat this?

MOVED TO WALKERTON

Mr. Earl Eggleton, of the Bank of Montreal staff, Nanapan, formerly of Stirling, has been transferred to the bank's branch in Walkerton, Western Ontario, and along with Mrs. Eggleton and Margaret, will move May 1st to assume his new duties. The good wishes of their many friends in this district go with them.

YOUNGSTERS BEWARE!

With Spring here youngsters are now enjoying different sports on the streets. We have noticed several playing ball on the roadway, which is most dangerous, particularly with so many cars passing to and fro. We would suggest that the boys play their games in a less dangerous spot than on the streets. Boys should also remember that the riding of bicycles on the sidewalks is prohibited.

Bones in Hand Fractured

Mr. Alex McRory, local garageman, met with a painful accident on Monday morning while repairing a car in his garage, Mill street, east. Mr. McRory had the housing of the car on a jack, when the latter slipped and the housing fell catching his left hand across the back. A couple of bones were fractured and the hand was badly gashed. He was alone at the time and had to lift the car himself before he could release his hand. The injuries are still causing considerable pain. It is fortunate that part of his hand was not severed.

ST. PAUL'S Y. P. S.

St. Paul's Y. P. S. met in the church parlors on Monday evening, under the direction of the Literary department, and with an attendance of 185, the President in charge of the devotional period. Mrs. Nora Wescott read the Scripture lesson, taken from 25th chapter of St. Matthew, emphasizing the lesson by relating an interesting story, on the little kind acts that count in life. Rev. E. W. Rowland read in prayer. Fred Joblin 3rd vice-president presided over the remaining program. A trio consisting of Messrs Ed. Pyear, Henry Farrell and E. W. Rowland delighted the audience with a sacred number entitled "Somewhere, Somewhere." Miss K. Harkness gave a very interesting address on the subject, "Early Microbe Hunters," tracing bacteriology from its infancy about 300 years ago, relating the experiments of the great scientists in their search to overcome the ravages of disease. Among many, the speaker cited the efforts of scientists to overcome these different diseases, diphtheria, typhoid, smallpox, rabies and malaria. Through the kindness of Prof. Neil McKinnon, of Toronto, the audience was privileged to view microbes developing by means of cultures under a powerful microscope. Dr. Pedley in a very capable manner continued this splendid address by describing the action of anti-toxin, toxin and toxoid, in their efforts to combat diphtheria. The Dr. minutely traced the method of securing these wonderful preventatives. The speaker also clearly showed that if these were used properly they prove one hundred per cent effective. By means of slides the Dr. showed the advance made by preventive medicine. The thanks to the large audience was tendered to Miss Harkness and Dr. Pedley for the very interesting, and educative meeting. Mrs. Harry Roberts sang in good voice a solo, entitled, "Love's Hesitation." Miss Mary Hulin put on a Name Contest, blue slide calling the honors. The mizpah benediction closed, this very interesting meeting.

Blind Musician Gives Concert

Those who made it a point to attend the lecture and piano recital given by Mr. Herbert C. Treener, of the National Institute of the Blind, in the Stirling Theatre under the auspices of the Stirling W.I., last Thursday evening were amazed and delighted beyond measure with the program. Mr. Treener, who is totally blind is at the present time organist of King street Church in Oshawa but travels the length and breadth of the province in the interests of the blind. Mr. Treener is an example of what patience and a determination to succeed can do for one who labours under such a heavy physical handicap. He is a speaker of no mean ability, and a pianist and organist of note and a finished tenor soloist; truly a man to be admired and congratulated.

In Mr. Treener's illustrated lecture reference was made to the work that has been done by the Canadian National Institute for the Blind to ameliorate the conditions under which they live. The motto of the Institute founded in 1918 is "To help the blind to help themselves." It serves and aids all classes, creeds and ages and has 6,300 persons registered in Canada. During the last fiscal year products valued at $500,000 made by the blind were sold. A library of 214,000 volumes is maintained and books are sent post free anywhere in Canada. Many blind workers are working side by side in factories with operators in possession of their sight and are one hundred per cent efficient. Mr. Treener does not look upon his blindness as an affliction and is not unhappy because he believes that happiness after all does not depend on external things. Among the selections were "Barcarolle" and "Marche Militaire" by Gounod. The vocal numbers included "Open the Gates of the Temple," "I hear you Calling Me," and "Song Birds on the Wing."

Bride and Groom Honored

About seventy-five friends and neighbors assembled at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Bennett, Ridge Road, last Thursday night to do honor to their son, Mr. Chas. Bennett, and his bride (nee Miss Irene Hulin). Mr. Nathaniel Heath was chairman for the event, and after calling the assembly to order, Mr. James Mitts presented the newly married couple with a table lamp and Mr. Phil Carr read the following address:

Ridge Road, April 14, 1932
Dear Charlie and Irene:
We, your friends and neighbors have availed ourselves of this opportunity to gather at your home to extend to you our heartfelt congratulations in this the greatest gesture of your life, thus far. We are pleased to note, that you are remembering your Creator, in the days of thy youth, in that you have hearkened unto the admonition of the Lord, "That it is not well for man to live alone," and while we are indeed pleased in that it was not necessary to go to such extremes as to remove a rib to make thee a helpmate, yet we feel in the choice you have made you shall not only have a spare rib but also a very helping hand to assist you in all the walks of life.

We feel that it is well also to harken unto the first command to our first period to be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth and while it is expedient that we should each accept our share in such responsibilities, yet it is wise to be temperate in all things and no one ramblingly feel that it is in their share to maintain a standing army.

We realize that you will now be laying the foundation for your future, and many old habits will be put in discard in order that the new structure will be one of accord and co-operation and just now will be a glorious time to assure yourselves of the richest blessing by coveting earnestly the best gifts such as, "Seek first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness and all other things shall be added unto you."

Minutes of the last meeting were read and Mrs. A. Farney dealt with the first part of the topic on Formosa; the topic being illustrated by a map of Formosa and the last part of the topic was ably taken by Mrs. Spinks. CURRENT COMMENT

This is the day of taxes and taxes, however the free air sign is still to the fore at service stations.

Russia and Japan are sparring at each other. It looks as if the Orient will be a trouble area for some time yet.

We wonder how many of us pray "cream" on Sunday and live "skim milk" the rest of the week?

Remember folks that the Stirling dollar that flies away in a mail order never comes home to roost.

If hog prices continue to fall much lower, and the present price is a disgrace, canners may find it profitable to put more pork than beans in the cans.

A local citizen states that there are two periods in a man's life when he doesn't understand women—before and after marriage.

Canada's wheat carryover is said to be the smallest in four years, which should be good news for the whole country.

The muskrat season has been extended from today until Saturday, April 30th. The catch is reported to be large and the price ranged from 80c to 90c per hide.

Horse-shoe pitching on the courts at the rear of Jeffrey's chopping mill will soon be in vogue. It is reported some enthusiasts have already had a "fling."

Bancroft Times—A mechanical man, just invented, can smoke cigars. The best time to market this robot will be just after Christmas.

What about Box Lacrosse in Stirling this year? The arena would be a most suitable place to stage the contests and no doubt a county league could be formed.

Front and Mill streets, in the business section, were given their annual spring bath on Monday, which assures us that Spring is here.

The farmers in the Oak Hill district are now at work on the land. Spring tilling of the soil will be to the fore in the entire district within the next week.

Guelph Mercury—What Canada needs more than a back to the land campaign, is a drive for greater markets for the present surplus crops.

Now that spring housecleaning time is here, soap boxes and mantels may be used to eat off, without causing a breach of etiquette.

Some softball enthusiasts are desirous of forming a local league in Stirling this year. Perhaps a meeting of those interested would decide the issue.

When incomes are on the toboggan slide, Canadians are asked to come across with more federal taxes. To him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath.

Gananoque Reporter—When one official of the Canadian National Railways draws down $180,000 a year in salary and officials' expenditures exceed a million dollars annually, it is not hard to understand how deficits arise.

Twenty-five cents per bushel for tomatoes is not very much of a return to the farmer but we have been informed that in the Coburne, Brighton and Trenton districts contracts have been quite generally signed up.

Mud has been King throughout the countryside during the past couple of weeks. However with the spring-like weather of this, week, the roads will soon be back to normal.

In 1891 the population of Canada was less than 5,000,000; today it is more than 10,000,000. In 1891 68.20 per cent of the population was rural and 31.80 per cent urban; to-day the percentages are 46.29 rural and 53.71 urban.

People in Russia are being charged $2.50 for a bar of soap. If that were in Canada, Saturday night would be just another evening and the weekly "plunge" would be anything but.

With cheese selling at 10c a lb., veal calves at $2.00 each, eggs at 10c a dozen and other things in proportion the cost of living should be much cheaper. That is, for everyone except the farmer, who finds it difficult to make ends meet.

It is reported that more radios were produced and sold in Canada last year than in any other years in the country's history, in spite of the static, the crooners and the advertising "shots." Apparently many people are quite satisfied with the present system.

Peterboro Examiner—Mr. Bennett and Mr. King do not seem to have the slightest trouble in working up a controversy over technicalities, but it is doubtful whether they are contributing anything of any general service in their frequent arguments.

The town of Dundas has $10,000 government relief money and does not know how to dispose of it. Send it to Stirling we can handle it. Funny some municipalities can get more relief money than they need while others, like Stirling, cannot get even a cent

One of the many things we have learned in the newspaper business is that people who kick because something splotchy does not appear in print change their tune wonderfully when the something splotchy is about themselves.

Tillsonburg News—Every time a wage-earner is laid off several stores lose a customer. As customers disappear production is lessened, and as production is reduced more men are laid off. And so the vicious circle continues, whirling around until the whole world becomes dizzy.

The News-Argus welcomes Mr. M. W. Bailey, of Jasper, Ont., to the weekly field in this district. Mr. Bailey has purchased the Norwood Register from J. G. Keefer & Son, who have conducted that paper for years. We are pleased to note that Mr. Keefer will not sever his connections with the Register at present.

A writer in the Shelbourne Economist makes the following observation that seems very apt in any community: "Funny, isn't it, how much quieter a man keeps about money he loses by trusting a stranger than he does about the money he loses by trusting someone in his own community."

The farmer must get more for his produce if good times are to be returned. General business is greatly handicapped while farm prices are so low. It is essential to prosperity that farmers can afford to buy, because they represent a great part of the population and agriculture is easily the nation's major industry. Until they can buy other industries' products, prosperity's return will be retarded, but they will not be able to buy anything but the bare necessities of life while their work brings such poor returns. We cannot understand why the farmer should get the "butt end of the stick," when he is engaged in the basic and most important industry in the country.

A few years back a hue and cry went up when the question of consolidated schools was raised by the Hon. Howard Ferguson, Minister of Education. It was something new and the people did not take to it any too kindly. It was a too advanced step and the Minister, shrewd politician that he was, decided not to press the bill. But an amendment to the act passed at the last session of the Legislature says that "the council of a township may by by-law passed with the consent of a majority of the whole number of members of the council, before the first day of July in any year, set apart the whole or any portion of the township as a township school area, and may declare that thereafter the school section included in the township school area shall cease to exist, and that the boards, having jurisdiction therein shall be dissolved."

Britain and Her Budget

Great Britain has balmaced her budget. When the books for the fiscal year were closed, they showed a surplus of $1,820,000, a considerable sum, it seems, for a nation which last fall was faced with a huge national deficit, although it is not considered large in proportion to the amounts of money involved in the British budget. There is a splendid story behind this magnificent result of Britain's effort to rehabilitate her national finances. It was achieved only by the stern sacrifices made by the British people. Increased income tax levies, equal to 25 per cent, were paid promptly and cheerfully, because the British people have realized the situation, had tightened their belts and determined to see the thing through to success. Reduced salaries for all departments of public service made drastic cuts in expenditure possible. Thus, by increasing revenues very substantially, even more than had been estimated, and by reducing expenditures, the nation was able to complete its fiscal year on the right side by a substantial budget. By balancing her budget, Britain has given the world another demonstration of the inherent stability of her people. There are few countries to-day which have paid their way in the past year, and Britain is the outstanding example. The national government is deserving of credit, of course, for its achievement, but the main share of the credit belongs to the rank and file of the people who, in order to save the situation for their country, have been willing to exercise a spirit of self-sacrifice such as has rarely been exemplified by the people of any nation.

Mud-Slinging Politicians

Men in high places are expected to lead the way in the exemplification of the spirit of brotherly love. If they fail to do so, how can they be of any encouragement to those whom they represent in the lesser walks of life to be true disciples of Him who taught men to love one another? During the past month or two Canadians with no small amount of regret mingled with disgust have read in their newspapers the unparliamentary, to say the least, remarks used by members of the various political parties in the House of Commons at Ottawa toward each other. During the debate on the blank cheque proposal for the relief of unemployment, the speaker of the House referred to some of the bitter words spoken by some members in a prolonged debate as brutal. Politicians too often in their political zeal, represented sometimes as being born of a desire to "serve the constituents" resort to bitterness uncalculated for and certainly not in the best interests of Canadian national life or the cause of brotherhood. Some of the addresses made in Canadian parliament by members of all of the political parties during the past few weeks are anything but edifying because they breathe the very spirit of hatred, call it political hatred if you will. And if bitter references such as the type referred to continue to be made, it will become more difficult for the ministers and laymen, who are not in public life, but seeking to teach the principles of the Golden Rule, to make lasting impression, particularly among the young.

SPRING HATS

Saucy hats at jaunty angles, Grace the springtime air; Planting joy in varied colors, Hats are everywhere! These pert affairs, Lend dainty airs, To each adoring girl, The hats are gay, And seem to play, Above each gleaming curl. I want to wear a new hat too, And decorate my head! But, what use would it be to me When I'm here ill, in bed?

MITCHELL—In Rawdon, on Thursday, April 14th, to Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Mitchell, a daughter.

SOUR STOMACH

JUST a tasteless dose of Phillips' Milk of Magnesia in water. That is an alkali, effective yet harmless. It has been the standard antacid for 50 years. One spoonful will neutralize at once many times its volume in acid. It's the right way, the quick, pleasant and efficient way to kill all the excess acid. The stomach becomes sweet, the pain departs. You are happy again in five minutes.

Don't depend on crude methods. Employ the best way yet evolved in all the years of searching. That is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia. Be sure to get the genuine.

It's a ideal dentifrice for clean teeth and healthy gums is Phillips' Dental Magnesia, a superior tooth-paste that safeguards against acid-mouth. (Made in Canada.)

VALUABLE papers—agreements, deeds, stocks, bonds, policies—all these things are subject to constant danger from loss if kept on your farm. Fire and theft, too, are always a menace.

There is no need to run these risks when a Safety Deposit Box costs as little as $3 a year to rent, yet gives you every protection.

The Modern Version
Mother, may I go out to swim?
Yes, my darling daughter,
But if that's the suit you're gonna wear,
You'd better stay under the water.

There is one thing to be said about this depression. At least it has silenced the chorus of rising young financial geniuses who used to brag about the stupendous amount of money they were making.

Wife—Paul, this suit is very shabby. May I give it away?

Hubby—Heavens, no. That is the suit I go in to protest against my taxes.

Modern Version—"What the Lord giveth, the installment man taketh away."

The famous "golden horseshoe" was filled, as usual, with gorgeously gowned and bejewelled women, immaculately togged men, with their emerald wraps, diamond brooches, necklaces, tiaras.—Toronto Daily Star.

Hero—Cur! Where are those paper-ers?

Villain—They are at the blacksmith's.

Hero—Ha! So you're having them forged?

Villain—No, I'm having them filed!

The guards went about their tasks of affixing the electrodes to the body of the doomed man in the electric chair. The chaplain bent over him and asked:

Chaplain—Have you any final request, my poor mortal? I am here to do anything you ask.

Doomed Man—Yes, parson, it will comfort me a whole lot if you will just hold my hands.

"Burglars are usually gloomy men, obsessed with a writer. You certainly never find them singing at their work."

and when mother returned with a friend she noticed Mary had the tea strained.

Mother—Did you find the lost tea strainer?

Little Mary—No, mother, so I used the fly swatter.

Mother was nearly swooning, so Little Mary completed it with: "Oh, don't get excited mother, I used the old one."

A train was approaching.

Dennis—Here she comes.

Caesey—Here it comes, you mean.

Murphy—Yes, is both wrong. It's a mail train.

That man's fashion expert knew his unions when he predicted that there will be little change in men's clothes this Spring.

A young Ontario lawyer who had been taken into partnership with his father soon got the idea that he was the whole firm, and fell into a habit of saying at the conclusion of every successful case: "Well, father, I won that case all right." Finally, the old man, becoming irritated, protested:
"George, it seems to me that whenever this firm does anything you might give me half the credit. Don't put on so many airs." The youth took the advice to heart, and a few days later rushed into the office: "Father, I—I mean we—are being sued for breach of promise."

Little things the boy friend does warm a girl's heart, but after they're married, it's the little things that make her blood boil.

Old Gent (observing small boy loaded down with newspapers)—
Don't all those papers make you tired?
News Boy—No, sir, I don't read them.

Lady—"But don't you find that horseback riding gives one a headache?"

Instructor—"No, Madam, just the reverse."

ENCOURAGING NEWS

FROM WEST

News from the western provinces is decidedly encouraging. Crop prospects, even at this early stage are good. There is plenty of moisture in the land, and the west is hopeful of a much better crop year than has been experienced for the last few years. Given good weather conditions during the growing season, there is no reason why Canada should not have a bumper yield of grain. That is what the reports from the west have to say.

There are other considerations, too, which enter into the picture. A bumper crop would be of little use without a market for it at good prices.
Prospects for better prices are also good. Already it has been mentioned that European countries are short of wheat, and will have to do some heavy buying from Canada and the United States. On top of that, there are reports that the United States crop will be far below the average this year, there being an estimated decrease of 300,000,000 bushels.

One does not like to gloat over other people's misfortunes but a short crop in the United States means bigger markets for Canadian grain. Thus conditions are all pointing to better days in Western Canada when the new crop is harvested.
And, as the west goes, so goes the rest of the country.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Question: "What is added to whipped cream to make it stay firm like other icing when added to the top of a cake?"

Answer: There are two additions which can be added to whipped cream to make it firm. A—The white of an egg. B—Gelatin.

Method (A): Beat white of egg very stiff. Add gradually to cream which has been whipped very stiff until right consistency is reached.

Method (B): Cover a little gelatin with cold water. Add scant cup of boiling water. Stir well. When this starts to thicken, mix with whipped cream. This is what some bakers put in their cream for filling cream puffs.

To Keep Meat Moist

If ham or corn beef are allowed to cool in water in which they are boiled they will keep moist for a long

Days We'll Never Forget

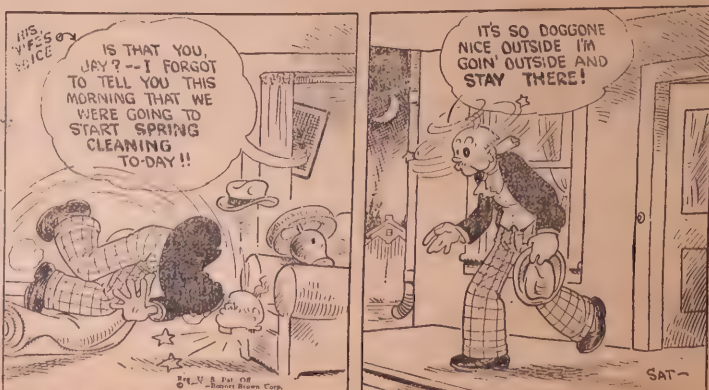

Odd---but TRUE

The Family Next Door

Who Said "Glorious"?

Here's A Game

For all the Family (or Your Guests)

SOME night, when the family is complete, or when you are giving a party, ask everybody to give answers to these questions:

Question	Fill in Answer	Question	Fill in Answer
1. What product would you use for gargling, to kill throat and mouth germs?	7. What toothpaste bases its appeal for use on its declared ability to remove the film which forms on the teeth?
2. What brand of cheese is best known to you?	8. "No matter how much housework you have to do, you can easily avoid the embarrassment of Domestic hands—so say the half-century-old makers of a skin cream. What kind of cream is it?"
3. "French women rarely allow water to touch their skin, but prefer cold cream for cleansing." What cold cream is said to be the purest and best for skin-cleansing?	9. A certain advertiser says that when you are constantly tired and overworked, Fatigue Poisons accumulate in your system. He makes a drinking cereal which fights fatigue poisons. What is the name of this beverage?
4. It is said that Canadian women are using more white soap for all cleaning and dishwashing. What white soap was named?	10. After 30 years of experience in ham-curing a meat packer says that "Four great improvements came dramatically from a new method of smoking the hams"—improvements in (1) flavor, (2) tender quality (3) pinkness of color, and (4) firmness. The new way is called "Ovenized." What hams are "ovenized"?
5. If you wished to color your finger nails to match the color of your gown, what preparation is available for such a purpose.
6. There's a certain floor wax giving a surface which neither pounding feet nor scraping chairs can mar. What is its name?

You can make your own questions by studying the advertisements in this and other newspapers.

Write out the questions, and pin the sheet of paper on the wall. Offer a small prize to the one who gives the most correct answers inside 30 minutes.

You'll have an evening with lots of merriment—and some useful instruction—in it

Friday evening and Mr. Manson Mc-Connell took charge of the Devotional. Mr. Kenneth Holmes then presided using hymn "I am Thine, O Lord," and Mrs. A. H. Bailey offered prayer. Mrs. Roy Thrasher read the Scripture lesson. Miss Olive McConnell rendered a very pleasing solo,
"My Task." Mrs. Will Potts outlined the topic dealing with Temperance and Prohibition. By request, Mrs. R.
Hoard gave an instrumental "Humoresque." Miss Helen Smith told of the famous women of the bible and Mrs.
Kenneth Weaver gave an outline of famous women of to-day and yesterday. Mrs. L. C. Locke sang a pretty solo, "Love Alone." Rev. Joblin took charge of the discussion period. This being "Women's Night," all the ladies sat in the centre aisle and at this period they sang, "I know not why God's wondrous grace," and all repeated the Mizpah. During the business period it was decided to have Wellman's come down and stage their play, the date to be definitely arranged next Friday evening. This week's meeting will be in charge of the 4th vice-president.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Reid, John and Gordon were dinner guests on Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Reid.

On Saturday morning, Mr. John Mulherson experienced some difficulty in getting over MacMullen's hill and later, Mr. Fargy, road supervisor, came along and was given some assistance before he eventually climbed over the bad spots. Mr. Fargy says many of the back concessions are in a terrible condition. It's certainly too bad that we all can't live along the highway.

Mr. Kenneth Holmes attended service in St. Paul's United Church, in Stirling, on Sunday morning, when veterans held their annual church parade to commemorate the battle of Vimy.

Mrs. Edward Montgomery spent the week-end with her daughters in Foxboro.

On Sunday, May 1st, the annual Sunday school test examinations will be held immediately after Sunday school in the morning. The tests will be given on the lessons from October until March inclusive. On April 24th the service will be held here in the afternoon. Plans are being made for the Mother's Day service on May 8th.

Miss Winnie Sharp is spending a couple of weeks in Picton at the home of her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Miller.

The Bible Study Class was held on Wednesday evening, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes.

Mrs. John Johnson spent last week at Gardenville. Her sister, Mrs. Mar-ed away early Tuesday morning and shall Young, (nee Vina Merrick) pass the funeral was held on Thursday.

Mrs. Young will be remembered by many as her home was formerly in our locality.

On April 10th the pastor began a series of sermons on the Beatitudes.
Sunday morning he continued with the second, "Blessed are they that mourn, for they shall be comforted."
Mr. John Coggins gave an appropriate solo "God is now willing, are you?"

Mission Band

The Sunbeam Mission Band met at the home of Mrs. Allen Bailey on Saturday afternoon with an attendance of sixteen. The President, Miss Isabel Turner, presided using "I love to tell the Story." Miss Agnes Sharp read the Scripture lesson. Sentence prayers were then offered followed by the Lord's prayer in unison. The leader, Miss Edna Thrasher, took charge of the business period. It was decided to take a special collection to buy the new Study Book, "The Trail of the Korea Kite." Roll call is to be answered at the next meeting with the name of missionary and her field of work. The secretary, Miss Marguerite White read the minutes of previous meeting and called the Roll.
Watch tower was given as follows:
Africa, Eileen MacMullen; Japan, Winnie Phillips; China, Anna Sharp; Canada, Faye Andrews; Duet, "The World is growing better every day," by Marguerite White and Betty Locke; Story by Edna Thrasher,
"The Little house you live in yourself." Gladys Summers gathered the collection. Miss Betty Locke was appointed pianist for the balance of the year. The collection and membership fees for the day amounted to 99c.
After the Mizpah the girls enjoyed community singing.

W. M. S.

Mount Pleasant Women's Missionary Society met at the church on Thursday afternoon with an attendance of twelve. Owing to the illness of Mrs. Joblin, the pastor presided using hymn, "The whole world was lost," followed by an earnest prayer for guidance and then all repeated together the Lord's prayer. Miss Edna Thrasher read the bible lesson found in Luke 12, 22-31. Mrs. Frank Smith read the Devotional Leaflet,
"What if they had quit." This was the story of five disciples telling how they changed their plans and went forward to carry on the Master's work. After minutes and roll call, the treasurer reported $41.50 remitted to Branch for the first three months.
Several letters of business were read and accepted and the following officers were elected by ballot to fill the vacancies: 1st vice-president—
Mrs. Ross Hoard; 2nd vice-president—
Mrs. A. H. Bailey; Mission Band Leader—Miss Edna Thrasher; Asst.
Mission Band Leader—Mrs. Elwood
Johnson; Secretary of Christian Stewardship—Mrs. George Weaver; Strangers' Secretary—Mrs. Thomas McKeown; Pianist—Miss Edna Thrasher; Asst. Pianist—Mrs. John Holmes. A motion was carried that Mrs. T. McKeown collect the balance of the money which will be used for supply, temperance and flowers. At the December meeting it was decided that each member pay 25c to this fund. Flowers were sent to Mrs. Jackson at Belleville Hospital and some supplies for temperance have been purchased. The May program will be arranged by Mrs. McKeown and her group. It was decided to hold an executive meeting at an early date to plan for the balance of the year. After singing two verses of "See how great a flame aspires," half of the 4th chapter of the Study Book on the subject "Better Health," was given by Mrs. L. C. Locke, Mrs. Arthur Phillips and Mrs. George Weaver. The latter gave a splendid paper dealing with "Modern Medical Missions." In a land that had not known surgery, these early physicians to Korea were considered almost miracle workers.

Surgery was the great magnet that drew the people to the Mission Hospitals. Mrs. Bailey offered prayer for the medical missionaries of Korea, and Mrs. Ross Hoard rendered a very appropriate solo. Mrs. Percy MacMullen outlined the recent Presbyterian held in Belleville. Many items of interest were passed on, taken from the department's reports as well as a brief outline of the addresses given by the two missionaries and the farewell address given by the President.
Mrs. Gay said, "recognizing that there is truly a great depression still isn't it strange that retrenchment first begins in God's work. From the reading of a poem "How much are you thankful," the thought was also brought home to all that giving a life is but small payment to our Heavenly Father. In Belleville Presbyterian we have 95 auxiliaries with a total membership of 2295, twenty-one being new life members. 1028 meetings were held, 1436 Missionary Monthlies and 237 "World Friends"; $20,400 remit-ed to Branch; 236 associate helpers, twenty-three of whom joined the auxiliary and they contributed $259.64;

16 C. G. I. T. groups remitted $28.50;
43 mission bands with membership of $42 remitted $1396.14; nine baby bands with 87 members sent in $30.39; two Y. W. A.'s with 80 members remitted $658.20; circles having membership of 400 raised $1562.59.
The chairman voiced the thanks of the auxiliary to Mrs. McMullen for her splendid report. Giveings systematically for the three groups amounted to $3.01.

Following are two items from the recent Presbyterian we thought our readers would be interested in:
Mrs. W. L. Smyth, of Pembroke, the president of the Bay of Quinte Presbyterian branch, sent a letter containing warmest greetings and best wishes of the season, and said, "may your Presbyterian be a deeply spiritual inspiration, and long stand out in your memories as a milestone marking definite progress in your work with God.
Co-laborers with Him; it is a wonderful privilege is it not, 1932 is going to call us to bigger and better things than have been ours in the past. Closer communion with our Lord; more earnest living and serving, more sacrificed giving. May we through all these be brought to a deep understanding of the love of Christ which passeth knowledge, and be filled with the entire fullness of God, only thus shall we really be His disciples."
2. This Memorial was passed on to eventually be handed to Premier Henry, re temperance; "whereas the liquor traffic is making itself a hindrance in the spiritual life of the church, whereas it is proving to be a decided menace to the community, and whereas under present legislation the people have no medium through which they may express their desires on the prohibition question, we,
the members of our Women's Missionary Society of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, memorialize the executive of the Belleville Presbyterian to memorialize the Bay of Quinte Conference Branch of the Women's Missionary Society and through them to memorialize the Dominion Board to send forward to Premier Henry, a petition, to take the measure out of politics and submit to the people of Ontario a plebiscite.

FULLER

Another winter seems to be here by the snow storm while writing.

Rev. W. H. Truscott spent Tuesday in our midst.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Geen, of Thomasburg, spent Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. John Geen.

The roads are drying up fairly well only in a few spots where it is springy but say all honor to those who keep their cars off the roads until they have dried a little. The frost going out makes it almost impossible to do anything with them. Bolders and gravel alike go way down—well to China I guess. A word to the wise is sufficient.

Mr. Frank Kellar is busy on the Fuller gravel hill these days, getting ready for big business before long, many are wishing.

Mr. Albert Mitts, Sr., is on the sick list.

Our Front street garageman is very busy these days.

A large number attended the sale
in our burg on Thursday.

Mr. Borden Redcliffe met with a painful accident one day recently slashing his foot, making it necessary to have several stitches.

It is better to smile
Than to scowl anytime,
It makes life pleasant,
And keeps it in rhyme.
To scowl and to grumble,
Will make you feel worse,
It is better to smile
Than your worries rehearse.
It is better to smile
When things seem wrong,
To drown old depression
In a flow of song.

North Bay—Hon. William A. Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests

the Department of Northern Development received word countermand-ing the order. The camps will remain open as a straight relief proposition.
The men have been offered the option of remaining at the camp for their board and $5 per month wages, or getting off the job. They will be notified today of the new condition.
There are at present 550 men at the

VILLAGES GIVEN NEW POWER IN MUNICIPAL ACT

(Havelock Standard)

Under an amendment introduced in the Legislature on March 16th last by the local member, T. P. Lancaster, incorporated villages are now empowered to pass by-laws, as cities and towns may do, to license, regulate and govern hawkers and peddlars.

Under section 422 of the Municipal Act, villages did not have power to pass by-laws affecting hawkers and peddlars but now by this amendment, they may do so.

Village merchants and citizens of villages will welcome this amendment, as the large army of hawkers and peddlars was becoming an intolerable nuisance generally, and no relief or control was possible on the part of the village councils.

CHILD need REGULATING?

CASTORIA WILL DO IT!

When your child needs regulating, remember this: the organs of babies and children are delicate. Little bowels must be gently urged—never forced. That's why Castoria is used by so many doctors and mothers. It is specially made for children's ailments; contains no harsh, harmful drugs, no narcotics. You can safely give it to young infants for colic pains. Yet it is an equally effective regulator for older children. The next time your child has a little cold or fever, or a digestive upset, give him the help of Castoria, the children's own remedy. Genuine Castoria always has the name:

General News of Interest

Campbellford—Handing down decision in the case of a claim by G. A. Ironside, of Campbellford against Dr. P. W. Loucks, of the same place, the result of a motor car collision on Saskatoon Avenue, Campbellford, on the 14th of December, 1931, and in which a counter-claim was laid, His Honor Judge E. C. S. Haycke, of Peterboro found that the plaintiff was guilty one-third and the defendant two-thirds. The case was heard before Judge Haycke in Division Court at Campbellford on April 8th. N. Alex MacColl, of Campbellford, represented the plaintiff, and G. N. Gordon, K.C., of Peterboro, appearing for Dr. Loucks.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Bray and Ruby, of West Huntingdon, narrowly escaped what might have been a serious accident when driving to church a week ago last Sunday morning the shafts broke away from the buggy, throwing Mrs. Bray and Ruby out of the buggy in the mud. They received a number of cuts. Mr. Bray was able to stop his horse and thus prevent a very serious accident.

Belleville—Found walking about with his head on his chest and never looking up Lucien Boismert was arrested on a vagrancy charge by Provincial constable Stringer at Latta eight miles north of here. Boismert appeared recently at Cobourg and he was examined. Doctors claimed he was sane, so he was sent to Belleville. Boismert walks in a straight line, and unless directed, will bump into everything in his path.

Campbellford—Answering to a charge of unlawfully having taken from her legal guardian without their consent, a 15-year-old Campbellford girl, Jack Laws, aged 26, of Campbellford, appeared before Magistrate G. A. Payne in Police Court here on Saturday and was remanded until yesterday on $3,200 bail. The charge was laid by Chief of Police G. C. Bromley, following complaints from the parents that the girl was missing from her home last week. Toronto police are alleged to have located the girl at Laws' home in that city and sent her back to Campbellford, arresting Laws on an abduction charge, which was later altered to Section 315 of the Criminal Code. Laws went bail for himself of $1,600, his mother $800 and his uncle in Toronto $800.

Vankleek Hill Review—This office has received its copy of the Municipal Statistics from Provincial Secretary's Department which includes reports of Municipal Waterworks, Gas Systems and Provincial Municipal Audits. In the report of Municipal Waterworks, Alexandria and Hawkesbury Waterworks were both conducted on a paying basis, Alexandria clearing $2,020.50, and Hawkesbury $3,224.01.

About twenty years ago a ban was placed on the sale of fire-crackers in Trenton. At the last Council meeting, W. R. Hand, of Hand Fireworks Co., Hamilton, gave an address and as a result it was agreed to allow the sale of them but they must not be set off in the business section.

Arrangements for the construction of the Foxboro-Madoc highway were revealed last week when it was learned that a number of surveyors from the department of highways had arrived in Foxboro to engage in a tentative survey of that district. The men are at present boarding at the home of Mr. Harry Carter, district road foreman, who lives some distance outside of the village. It is expected that with the final report of the surveyors to the department work will be commenced in that section without delay.

Colborne Express—The Colborne representative of the Campbell Soup Company, of New Toronto, Mr. W. A. Downing, has been busy for a week or ten days getting contracts signed up by growers of tomatoes. The acreage this year will be over 600 in this district. The growers are to be paid 30c a bushel for August deliveries, and 25c after. The acreage contract is about double last year's acreage at Colborne.

MADOC JUNCTION

If some of our delegates could send in a few of their experiences it would make interesting items for our editor. If he could have stood in the hall as the different delegates arrived and heard their opinion of the roads as they waited for others to register, and by the way we were among the first arrivals and some Stirling ladies were first to register; it was a case of "In honor preferring one another," as Miss Hume was one of the first to register, and by the way, Miss Hume's report is always one of the best with here and there a little joke, for instance, one stranger's Secretary reported visiting fifteen newborn babies, as now Canadians. And one minister in paying tribute to Mrs. Stillman Gay, said they always referred to Mr. Gay as the husband of Mrs. Gay, of the W.M.S.. Also a description of John St. church would be interesting to those who have never been in it. The class rooms upstairs were a source of pleasure to the delegates and the dining room lovely with its tables decorated with spring flowers in yellow and mauve. It is hard to describe the impression. It is hard to describe the Quiet Half Hour the Holy Communion and in Memoriam Service. The wonderful addresses by the returned missionaries both of whom are known to many of our older people. We are told Miss Rourke's father was at one time minister here and Miss Claydie's mother was a relation of Mrs. George Clarke and others who live here. Delegates could not describe the inspiration in joining with others in singing, "Lead on, O King Eternal." The early hours the late hours, the weariness. The kindness of the hostesses, most of them "dressed immensely superior to anything we ever had or expect to have," homes with polished floors, marble and tiled bath rooms, dazzling fixtures also superior to anything we ever expect to have, made us think regretfully of our inferior edition at home with paint peeling, no brass taps, but with affection on our collection of dear home pictures and home-made things with our terrific "accumulation of half empty tins of talcum powder," bottles and jars of cream, mostly empty, etc., etc., and we are sure the weary ones will say with us, "Be it ever so humble, there is no place like home. Were you weary Mount Pleasant? Glad you too feel a "mysterious satisfaction," in reading of other writers. In our case it must be old age creeping on, as, like yourself we used to be complimented by our teachers, but as you say there is the funny side in this same.

Thanks to the W. M. S. member who wrote up the April meeting for us this week. There were several little folks present and one of them tried hard to sing especially when it came to the line "and infant voices shall proclaim their loud hosannas to His name."

Little Rosella Fitchett celebrated her second birthday one day last week and received some lovely gifts. Mr. Grover Kerr of the C.N.R. Kingston visited Mr. and Mrs. Andrews one evening last week.

Mr. Harry Faulkner has a number of new pupils Kindergarten age.

Miss Lenora Stapley has returned home from spending a week or two in Stirling.

Some of our people had the pleasure of hearing the organist, Mr. McCormick, one day last week, who is now playing in Belleville, at the Belle Theatre.

The enclosed poem will appeal to some of our older people who love "the hills" here, where they have spent their whole life some of them seventy and eighty years, also to those who are far away:

These old hills are mighty pretty
When the spring sits in the skies,
And their slopes are just a picture
Fallen out of paradise.
Like a cloak of emerald fragrance,
Where their contours sway and swing—

These old hills are mighty pretty,
Mighty pretty in the spring.
These old hills are mighty pretty
When the summer's arms enfold
Every tree and shrub that's scattered
On a background turned to gold
And they seem to sit enraptured
At the beauty Time has planned.
When the tints of autumn hold them
In the hollow of its hand.
And when winter seems to grasp them

With its mists of storm and cloud
Oh, somehow they seem majestic
As they face it calm and proud Changing all their robes of purple.
For the white serene, sublime—
Oh, these hills are mighty pretty Mighty pretty any time.

By A Member Who Attended
The April meeting of the Eggleston W. M. S. was held at the home of the President, Mrs. A. Andrews. The meeting opened with hymn, "Jesus shall Reign," followed with prayer by Mrs. George Clark. Scripture lesson read by Mrs. Oliver Stapley. Hymn, "Lead on, O King Eternal." Several short readings were given by Mrs. George Eggleston, Mrs. Harry Clark and Mrs. C. Fitchett. Hymn, "O, Master, let me walk with Thee," was then sung. Mrs. Andrews, the delegate to the W. M. S. Presbyterian held at Belleville then gave a concise and interesting report. Mrs. Clark gave a Temperance reading and took charge of closing. Business was then dealt with and some of the Thank-offering envelopes were handed in. The May meeting to be at Mrs. Clarence Fitchett's. Meeting closed by singing the Doxology. A social half hour was then enjoyed. The hostess served a delicious lunch of sandwiches, cakes and jelly with a refreshing cup of tea, and the words of cheer and appreciation by the members who assisted were encouraging to the hostess who would love to entertain more if her health permitted.

A WORTHY DECISION

(Picton Gazette)

The Legislature's decision not to reduce or discontinue the grants to the hospitals was a wise one, if the Prince Edward County Hospital can be taken as a criterion of the demands upon such institutions throughout the province. As long as there are sick folk, the demands will continue, and to hamper the work of the hospitals by tightening the Provincial purse-strings, could never be considered a wise or popular step.

Hospitals as it is well enough known, are not money making institutions. They exist merely to serve the public. If their grants were to be reduced, not only would their capacity for such work be curtailed, but the rates would have to be raised, thus inflicting a hardship on those who are already burdened with expense from the dozen and one of the sources with which every person who has had sickness in the family is familiar.

Any person can get some idea by glancing through the columns of almost any newspaper of the never-ending demands upon hospitals, which like doctors, when they are needed, the need is urgent and to impair their usefulness or efficiency would be to endanger the lives of a large percentage of the citizens.

The Government's decision to leave the hospital grants alone, merits approval.

"WAR" TAXES A MISNOMER

(Financial Post)

The Dominion Budget shows "war tax revenues" of $122,000,000 out of total tax revenues of $273,000,000. Annual expenses arising out of the war amount to more than $122,000,000 annually yet it may be questioned if it is proper to continue the use of the phrase "war tax revenue" to designate those tax sources that were first initiated during the war. The income tax will probably remain for many years a source of federal revenue and the sales tax too may remain although rates should be steadily reduced in both cases. Calling such taxes war taxes provides an implied blind fold for continued extravagance.

Special News For Farmers

Canadian Bacon Leads

The current issue of the Live Stock Market Report contains a particularly interesting item with respect to the comparative prices of bacon in the British market. It shows Canadian bacon selling at a price of 44 to 60 shillings per long cwt. for the week ending March 24th, as compared with a price of 43 to 56 shillings per long cwt. for the Danish product. It also shows that during the previous week the price range on Canadian bacon was from two to four shillings per long cwt. over the Danish product. It should be noted in passing that the Canadian product is now selling only second only to the finest Irish bacon which is holding steady at a price from 64 to 82 shillings per long cwt. of 112 lbs.

Get The Right Fertilizer

Never in the history of Canadian agriculture has it been more important for the farmer to be absolutely sure that he is getting the right kind of fertilizer for his crops than at the present time. One authority observes "In many parts of Canada the farmer is still sold fertilizer as recommended by local agents instead of buying on the basis of his own knowledge of its proper use. As never before this would appear to be a good time to consult the soil and crop authorities at the Agricultural College and also your local representative before making substantial purchases of fertilizers, because with proper care their use, even in these times of low farm prices, may be made profitable.

Farm Loans

The number of applications granted for farm loans by the Agricultural Development Board in 1931 was 3,361, an increase of 20 per cent over 1930. Applications refused totalled 876 as against 906 the previous year. In presenting his report, the chairman, W. Bert Roadhouse, stated: "Collections under present conditions are difficult both for the Board and for the borrower. The season has been one of good crops and very, very poor prices. Faced with returns cut in half or less and yet little decrease in the things they have to pay for farmers have carried on with commendable courage and steadiness. We have been able to reduce arrears outstanding more than two years less than 15 per cent. Arrears for the years 1930 and 1931 are very substantial. Appreciation of the loan service is shown by a determination to 'catch up' just as soon as possible."

During the year the Board completed sale proceedings on 31 farms, and it also sold 49 other farms which were previously taken over. An interesting summary of the ten years of operation by the Board is provided in the pamphlet, copies of which are obtainable from the Department.

Have Your Seed Graded

The Seed Branch of Ottawa calls attention to the facilities which are available throughout Canada for the inspection and grading of seeds, more particularly alfalfa, clover and grass seed.

In every district where these seeds are grown there is a Seed Branch inspector who inspects seeds offered for sale for seeding purposes and he furnishes information relating to the cleaning and grading of seed, and, under some circumstances, he performs grading himself.

Seed of course must be properly cleaned to remove the weed seeds and dirt before submitting it to the Inspector for grading. In a large number of localities this could be done best perhaps at the local power cleaning plant designed for small seeds. Where such is not available, however, the hand mill on the farm, when equipped with suitable screens should do reasonably well.

Tribute to Farmers

That the Department will do all in its power to find markets for the products of Ontario farmers was the pledge given by Hon. Thomas L. Kennedy, Minister of Agriculture, in an address to sugar beet growers at Chatham recently. Representatives were already at work in England, the Maritimes and the Canadian West. The Minister paid glowing tribute to Ontario farmers, claiming that in the point of intelligence and all-round ability they stand higher than in any other country. He declared that other lands were beginning to emulate Ontario's methods in agricultural training. In optimistic vein he predicted: "I look forward to greater prosperity in this province than we ever dreamed of. Those who have learned to grow good crops will reap the harvest of the new prosperity. Ontario will be in the van of the new era."

Strawberry Root Weevil

Experts of the Federal Entomological Branch provide a timely summary with respect to the strawberry root weevil, as follows:

1. The strawberry root weevil is a native insect abundant everywhere. The larvae live on the roots of the grasses, clovers and other plants. The strawberry is a favorable food plant. The insect makes its appearance wherever this crop is grown.

2. Control measures consist in the adoption of a suitable system of rotation of crops so that the plantation can be started on a clean field, and the application of a poisoned bait twice a year, commencing when the plants are first set out.

3. The proper time to apply the bait is in the middle of April for the first application to destroy the overwintering weevils, and from the middle to the end of June for the second application, to destroy the summer generation which appears about that time. The second application is the one which is most important.

Grading Potatoes

"An axiom of trade is that the demands of the consumer control not only what the producer grows and raises, but how he packs products," said J. A. Carroll, secretary Ontario Marketing Board. "As an example of this," continued Mr. Carroll, "I would point out the most recent development in the marketing of Ontario potatoes. The Central Ontario Potato Growers' Association are now marketing a 15-pound sack of Tee-Pee Brand, fancy grade, potatoes. The quality of these potatoes is infinitely superior to that of Canada No. 1, hitherto the top grade being marketed. That such a quality of potato may now be secured is a direct result of consumer demand.

"It occurs to me that the next step will be a demand for potatoes to be as clean, as the homemaker to handle, as a head of lettuce for example. This will call for potatoes being washed before being packed. I happen to know the washing of potatoes is already being done in certain sections of the United States.

"In brief," concluded Mr. Carroll, "the best defence against competition, in addition to the grower receiving a premium for his product and the consumer being satisfied, is that of lifting the Ontario potatoes into a class by themselves for quality and pack."

Sales of Ontario Apples Increased in Western Canada

Ontario apple sales, largely due to the efforts of the commercial representative of the Ontario Growers' Markets Council, have greatly increased in Winnipeg and Western Canada this year.

In 1930 some 43 cars of apples were shipped to Winnipeg, while in 1931 at least 150 cars have been sent to the Prairie markets. The chief service of the Markets Council, however, did not lay in developing this business, although this was valuable, but in adjusting claims for shippers. Owing to the unusually long, hot season claims were frequent and often in excess of the annual damage done to the shipment. It is conservatively estimated that at least $10 was saved to the shipper on every car shipped West last season through having the Council's representative on the spot to act as an intermediary between shippers and jobbers. Where necessary a car would be repossessed by a representative and resold when the claims were too high or could not be settled. This service, alone, for which no charge was made this year by the Council, meant at least $1500 in the pockets of Ontario apple growers. Plans are now on foot through the co-operation of the Ontario Marketing Board to maintain commercial representatives in the Prairie Provinces, the Maritimes and, if possible, on the Montreal market.

HASTINGS COUNTY WARDENS

During the past 60 years there have been only 58 Wardens of Hastings County Council owing to the fact that two, namely, the late Messrs. A. F. Wood, of Madoc village and W. R. Aylesworth of Deseronto, were selected twice as the chief executive officers. Two Wardens were entitled to add M.P. after their names, the late Mr. T. H. Thompson, of Madoc village, and Dr. A. T. Embury, of Bancroft, the present member for Hastings-Peterboro. Three became members of the Provincial Legislature, A. F. Wood, B. Rose and J. W. Pearce, the latter at present residing in Belleville. A number of the Wardens were unsuccessful candidates for parliamentary honors.

During these sixty years the township of Sidney leads by one the number of Wardens from that municipality with eight, and Thurlow township, with seven, including the present incumbent.

The various municipalities in the county which have been thus honored and the number of times are as follows:

Sidney Township	8
Thurlow Township	7
Rawdon Township	5
Tyendinaga Township	5
Marmora Village	4
Madoc Village	4

Wollaston Township	2
Bancroft Village	2
Mayo Township	1

Carlow Township	1
Tweed Village	1
Limerick Township	1
One ex-Warden, Mr. Judson A. Gunter, is a member of this year's County Council, being the Reeve of Bancroft village. He was Warden in 1919.

The list of Wardens and the municipalities they represented are as follows:

MADOC HOCKEY TEAM HONORED

Madoc Senior hockey boys were the guests of the Madoc Community Club at Blue's hotel, that village last Thursday evening. An attendance of thirty-eight at the banquet assured much interest.

Reports were received regarding the proposed ladies' rest room and other business transacted.

The president, Mr. George West, welcomed the members of the hockey club and other visitors. The speaker of the evening was Rev. Father Meagher, who spoke in glowing terms of the work of the past winter, and enlarged on the courage shown by real sportsmen, in contrast with the kind of courage that wants to get out to get the other fellow.

Mr. William Hawthorne gave an original solo, "He tried to Play Hockey but He Couldn't Make It Go."

A hearty vote of thanks was moved by Mr. Walter Whytock, Reeve and presented to Father Meagher for his address and his work with the hockey club during the past seasons. Mr. Whytock said the parents were always willing to have the boys playing on a team under the management of Father Meagher, as they always knew they were in good hands and would benefit by the sport.

The president of the hockey club, Mr. S. S. Ashley, thanked the Community club on behalf of the boys for the invitation extended to them to this banquet.

STIRLING BOY SCOUTS

Scout meeting to-night, Thursday, April 21st. A very interesting program has been planned. The usual degree work will be given as well as the tests. Plans have to be drawn up as regards the Jamboree in May. Registration cards will be given out. Every Scout try to be on hand.

DELORO BOY SCOUTS

April 13th—The Deloro Boy Scouts held a successful dance in the Hall, on Wednesday night. Their object was to make enough money to buy a tent for camping purposes. Their many supporters had kindly donated the refreshments. Music was provided by K. Doyle and Jack Grant for round dancing, and by Miss Doyle and Mr. F. Mathews for squares. There was a large attendance of local people, and the Scouts wish to thank them for their support.

April 16th—Meeting opened by repeating the Lord's Prayer. Those present were Wm. Kerr, Jr., A.S.H., Patrol leaders, Wm. Simmonds and Percy Gray, Second Jack Reynolds and Scouts, Ray Loveless, Floyd Loveless, Harry Haacke, Wm. Burke Norman O'Neill. A report was given by Mr. Kerr on the proceeds of the dance, and the bank balance to date. The boys then had target practise with an air-rifle, and Mr. Kerr lectured them on the safe usage of any gun. O'Neill proved to be the best shot. The horseshoe was then formed and the meeting closed with God Save the King.

DELORO WOLF CUBS

April 14th—The regular meeting of the Wolf Cubs was held in the Hall, on Thursday evening. The meeting opened with the Grand Howl. This was followed by a discussion of the tests. One of the boys has just passed his twelfth birthday, but wishes to stay with the Pack at least until next fall. Some new games, Circle Catch It, Butter Fingers, and Rats and Rabbits were introduced. There were three recruits who have not yet passed their tenderpad test, but we expect them to do so shortly. The meeting closed with the Grand Howl.

DELORO GIRL GUIDES

April 12th—The meeting opened with the 9th Guide Law Prayer, read by Capt. Regan. The log was then read aloud by P.L. Doris McInroy and a half point given that patrol for the week. The girls were then dismissed to patrol corners, and attendance and dues marked by the Patrol Leaders in their new Roll Books. They then reported to Capt. Regan and Lieut. Haacke. Audrey Mantle passed 2nd class Morse and knots. Marion Mumby passed knots. The girls were recalled to horseshoe formation and the two recruits, Lois Buskard and Patricia McCall were enrolled. They were also presented with their enrollment cards. Games were played in preparation for the coming social evening on April 26th. Frankford's acceptance was reported. Further plans were discussed and the meeting closed with Taps and dismissal.

April 18th—Meeting opened with the 9th Guide Law Prayer read by the Lieut. in the absence of Capt. Regan. Attendance and dues were reported by the Patrol Leaders. Tests passed, Hilda Mumby and Audrey Mantle, Legends of the Union Jack; Georgina Stewart, Barbara Wright, Patsy McCall, and Marion Mumby knots; Lois Buskard, Patsy McCall and Iris Smith, good carriage and skipping; Grace Hemphill, Morse flag. This makes six girls who have completed their second class tests. Further plans were made for entertaining Frankford Guides on the 26th of April, and the meeting closed with Taps.

MARRIED

McKENZIE-BUDD—In Foxboro, on Wednesday, April 20th, by Rev. Mr. Mutton, Doris Budd to Raymond McKenzie, both of Belleville. The bride is a sister of Mrs. Oakley Gough, Stirling.

On behalf of your friends and neighbors — Bryson Reid James Mitts

Mr. Bennett responded in an appropriate manner and thanked all for the splendid gift. A solo by Mr. Arthur Duncan followed, which was quite humorous. An evening of dancing and merriment followed after which lunch was served.

Here and There

Forty British sportsmen will make up five parties which have arranged to fish trout and salmon on the Miramichi River, N.B., during 1932, according to information received by the provincial director of information and tourist travel.

Canada shipped more than 5,000,000 pairs of rubber and rubber-soled boots and shoes valued at approximately $4,408,100 to more than 80 countries during 1931, according to information given out by the Dominion Department of Trade and Commerce.

Travelling Canadian Pacific across the Dominion from Detroit and visiting Niagara Falls, Toronto, Ottawa, Montreal and Saint John prior to sailing by S.S. Melita for their home countries, eight European Ford Motor dealers were lavishly entertained at all cities they stopped at.

S.S. Montclare, the ship that inaugurated Canadian Pacific ocean passenger service at Halifax this winter after a lapse of twenty years, saluted the port with a shrill blast of her whistle Good Friday evening, when she ended her last visit to Maritime ports for the 1931-1932 season.

Scotland will send an official Trade Mission ship to Canada this spring with a view to developing closer business relations with the Dominion. Over a hundred Scottish firms have already booked space on the ship which has been fitted out for the purpose by the Corporation of Glasgow.

Her Majesty, Queen Mary, and her two sons, the Duke of York and Prince George, showed great interest in the Canadian Industries section at the British Industries Fair at Olympia, London, on the occasion of their visit. The Royal party was received by Hon. G. Howard Ferguson, High Commissioner for Canada.

The highest Canadian mountain ski ascent was made in March when Russell H. Bennett of Minneapolis, Clifford White of Banff, and Joe Weiss of Baehar, accomplished the unprecedented feat of climbing to the peak of the Snow Dome, centre of the vast Columbia ice fields. The peak is over 11,000 feet above sea level.

Bargain rates are forecast for western lines of the Canadian Pacific Railway, said C. B. Foster, passenger traffic manager of the railway, on his recent arrival in Winnipeg after an official visit to the Pacific Coast. The successful experiment in popular low rates excursions in Eastern Canada this year has invited consideration of extension of the project to the West, he added.

In continuance of its policy of inter-city visits between the major centres of population in Eastern Canada, the Canadian Pacific Railway will on April 8 operate one of the most ambitious of these projects by running a round trip excursion from Toronto to Montreal at a cost below one-fourth of that of the ordinary return fare. There is every indication of heavy participation in the excursion.

LUMMISS—In loving memory of our little darling, Marie Lummiss, who fell asleep three years ago; April 23rd, 1929.

She was just a pure white bud
A dear little flower from birth,
But God called her home to heaven.
Before she was soiled on this earth.
When we reach the heavenly garden
And see her in full bloom,
Oh, then we shall know the reason,
Why our darling went so soon.

IN MEMORIAM

ROSEBUSH—In loving memory of Hiram L. Rosebush, who passed away April 20th, 1931.

One year has passed since that sad day,

That called the one we loved away;
Forget him, no, we never will,
For in our hearts he liveth still.
The blow was great, the shock severe
We little thought the end so near;
And only we who knew him well,
Can of the pain of parting tell.
He bade no one a last farewell,
He said good-bye to none;
The heavenly gates were opened wide,
A gentle voice said, come.

Sadly missed by wife and family.

its time of presentation was somewhat lengthy, interest was sustained to the end and the plot was well worked out. It was an admirable vehicle for an amateur presentation, and with a cast representative of the finest talent of Belleville, guided by Miss Tuttle as directress, its success was assured. Between the acts musical numbers were provided by Miss Leora Riggs who sang "Pale Moon," and an encore; violin solos by Miss Dadds and piano solos by Mr. Alex Gordon. Mr. C. R. Local Play
Well Acted

The three-act comedy "The Human Alarm Clock," presented in the Stirling Theatre last night under the auspices of the A.Y.P.A. of St. John's Church was a successful event in every way. A full house greeted the presentation which, from beginning to end was full of action, fun and exciting climaxes and kept the audience well entertained. Those who were unable to attend missed one of the best shows presented in the local theatre for some time. Throughout the play situations arose which created much merriment and the mirth-provoking manner in which Jud Fenton carefully avoided any action on his part which would involve any work served to build up the story of high-pressure salesmanship around the leading character of the play, Jimmy Samson, (The Human Alarm Clock). Samson was one of that sort of salesmen whose actions are just bound to be crowned with success, and as the story went on and the facts were disclosed, his arguments were well proven and he showed the natives that as the agent of Binkley, the Town Builder, he was the salvation of the city of Eureka, and the one and only promoter of enterprise who could put that place on the map.

The cast was well chosen. Peggy Acton (Hazel Danford) was good. The fact that she was marching under false colors, and in reality was the niece of the scoundrel John Wargrim, (Reg. Coombes) who swindled the populace of Eureka for his own betterment and crushed any movement that would have helped the town, was cleverly concealed until the very last of the play. Wargrim who had a difficult role, was well received. Bob Manion, the editor of the Eureka News carried out his duties in that position with dignity, and although he too was under the power of Wargrim he showed that after all it was only financial obligations that made him cater to the swindler. This part was taken by Harry Morrow. Mrs. Nelson Dodd, (Alice Morgan), the leader of the Uplift Society found that any attempts to uplift Jud Fenton and get him to work were of no avail. Try as she might, her uplifting work was unsuccessful when it came to Jud. She was the right person in the right place. Her manner of approaching the people with the benefits of her Society was very convincing. Virgy Mannion (Margaret Danford) the cute little office girl, was not exactly pleased with the way in which the Editor let Wargrim overrun him and it was with joy that she helped publish the edition which gave Wargrim his just deserts. Marla Wargrim (Kay Harkness) daughter of John Wargrim, had her mind made up to the fact that Bob Manion was her property and with the help of her father, she succeeded quite well in forcing him to carry out her wishes. Stars in the cast were a minus quantity. Each individual member had a difficult part to play it was done with care and precision. Although there were no stars, and perhaps no one actor in particular should be mentioned, Jud Fenton and Jimmy Samson were especially good. Jud could certainly think up excuses for not doing certain things and his humor was sparkling. Jimmy had an idea worth consideration and he did everything possible to make the natives of Eureka consider it. Jimmy was played by Jerry Craven, while Arthur Gould expertly supported him as Jud Fenton.

The story opened in the office of the Eureka News. Jud was seated in an easy chair reading the latest edition of the local paper when Jimmy Samson the big man with a big idea, burst into the room and tried to sell Jud the idea that Eureka could be made into a thriving centre with booming industries. Jud refused to believe that Eureka would ever be anything but a nice quiet place for anyone to come when they needed sleep. During this act Wargrim asserts his authority and dictates to Bob Manion just what will be published in the News. Peggy tries to show Bob that he is making a mistake, but does not know that Bob is tied up financially to Wargrim and under obligations to him for a period of two years, due to the fact that he cannot raise two thousand dollars to pay off

SUCCESSFUL DANCE

The ladies of St. James' church held a successful dance in the Community Hall on Monday evening. Chas. Allan and his orchestra furnished enjoyable music and many enjoyed the "grant fantastic" until the early hours. A special door prize was given and Mr. Gordon Burns, of Mar-mora, was the winner.

FRACTURED ANKLE

Mr. John Ashley, of the Montreal Bank, at Picton, formerly of Stirling, had the misfortune to fracture his ankle while playing ball on Wednesday afternoon last week. He was taken to the Belleville hospital where an X-Ray of the limb revealed a bad fracture in the right ankle. The ankle was put in a plaster of paris mould and on Thursday he was taken to the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ashley, at West Huntingdon.

MOTORISTS! GO SLOW!

Unless several motorists — and some of them local residents — develop the habit of driving their cars twenty miles or under an hour, in the village and not more than twelve miles when crossing Stirling danger corners, Front, North and Mill streets, they are going to be compelled to donate some money to the village coffee. Constable Harry Wicket desires to be fair with motorists, but has been instructed to check up on car drivers who use Stirling streets as a speedway. On Sunday night he "clocked" a few at the Corners and red numbers were taken for speeding. However, it is doubtful if a summons will be issued to those guilty, but what the future holds in this matter depends solely upon motorists and their control of their car's acceleration.

DIED

I.O.O.F. Lodges
Attend Church

About seventy-five Oddfellows and Rebekahs celebrated their 113 anniversary, by attending divine service in St. Paul's United Church on Sunday afternoon. Visitors were present from Madoc, Thomasburg, Springbrook and other points, and along with members of the local Societies assembled at the lodge room at 2 p.m. At 2.30 a parade was formed with Marshalls J. W. Scales and E. R. Carlisle in charge and proceeded to the church, where service was commenced at 2.30 o'clock. The church was well filled and the Minister, Rev. E. W. Rowland, preached an inspiring sermon from the subject "Man—God's Greatest Creation". He divided his subject into three parts, viz: Physical, mental and spiritual. Man is not a mere mechanical machine, wonderful though his body may be. Man has a mental capacity, hence his ability to recall and live over again events of the past—power to achieve. God breathed into man the breath of life and he became a living soul. Man is eternal. He must develop the spiritual. The speaker urged the members to go out and remember that man is divine, no matter how low he has sunk.

Two or three hymns rendered by the choir were greatly appreciated. Following the service the members returned to the lodgeroom and were disappointed.

Rebekahs
Entertain

On Tuesday afternoon a district meeting of Rebekah Lodges was held in the I.O.O.F. Lodge rooms and a large attendance was registered. The meeting was held under the auspices of Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211. Sister M. Wallace, P.N.G., of Tweed Lodge, No. 236, was appointed D.D.P. of District No. 39, for the ensuing year. When the business of the afternoon was concluded, the P.N.G.'s of the following lodges—Glenford, No. 230, Frankford; Tweed, No. 236; Tweed; Crescent, No. 139, Thomasburg; Quintana, No. 133, Belleville; Oakdale, No. 134, Madoc, were invited to the dining room where a sumptuous banquet was served by the P. N. G.'s of Laurel Lodge.

In the evening D.D.P. Sister Cecelia Smith, of Glenford Lodge, assisted by the P.N.G.'s of all the lodges in the district participated in a memorial service. During the service Sister Maud Butler rendered a vocal solo, "My Task", after which several fine addresses were given by the following members: "Duties of Committees", by Sister McBain; "Fraternity", by Sister Downing; "How to Increase the Interest for Membership", by Sister Richardson; "The Three Links" by Sister Carter; "The Heroines of the Bible" by Sister Chishire; "What the Emblems on our Banner mean", by Sister Chishire. The D.D.P. is to be congratulated on her session. She presided with dignity and graciousness of manner. After the meeting was closed refreshments were served and all returned to their several homes a tired but happy bunch of Rebekahs.

51ST ANNIVERSARY

Last Saturday was the 51st anniversary of the Canadian Postage Stamp. The first stamp was issued on April 23, 1851. It was of threepence value.

CHILDREN BE CAREFUL

In last week's issue this paper warned the boys of the danger in playing ball on the streets. Since then the writer has seen several youngsters, mostly girls, scooting over the streets and roads on roller skates. On two occasions motorists had scares in their efforts to avoid striking the children as they skate and play oblivious to the speeding cars which approach them so dangerously close sometimes. Parents should warn their children against this practice.

ADMISSION IS LOWERED

On and after May 1st the evening admission to Stirling Theatre will be 23c plus 2 cents tax. In the past it has been 35c plus 2c tax. However the new budget has increased the amusement tax, so the theatre management decided to lower the admittance fee, which no doubt will be greatly appreciated by the patrons. There is no change in children's or matinee prices. The attendance at the talks has been gradually increased and last week's show had more in attendance than for several weeks previous. This week's picture is in the A1 class. See advt. on page eight.

FARM HAND FLEES ON SHORT NOTICE

Mr. Albert Ashley, a well-known farmer of West Huntingdon district desired some help and thought he could extend a helping hand to one of the many unfortunate young men now on the road and went to Belleville to secure one of the unemployed. He was introduced to about fifty transients by an official who announced that Mr. Ashley would give a summer's employment to any willing young man with fair wages and a home. Would any volunteer? Out of the fifty only two volunteered. One was selected and after a few words of bargaining, the young man flatly refused to come. The other young man was consulted and after a little hesitancy consented to accept and was driven home by Mr. Ashley. Everything seemed quite comfortable, but in less than twenty-four hours this man had made himself conspicuous by his absence. Such a thing is not only very disgusting to the farmer who would give employment to men, but embitters them against these men when asked for help to feed them. Apparently they prefer "begging" or "beating" their way through life.

WITH THE BOY SCOUTS

STIRLING BOY SCOUTS

The usual Scout meeting was held last Thursday night in the School. A good number of Scouts were present. After usual ceremonies, plans were started for a Jamboree to be held in Stirling the latter part of May. It was also decided to hold a concert to raise funds. Games brought the meeting to a close.

On Sunday 12 of the Scouts, chiefly Eagle Patrol went on a hike. The weather was ideal. The generosity of P. L. Joblin and some of the other Scouts provided for a marshmallow roast in the woods during the afternoon.

Another hike will be held in the near future.

Next meeting (tonight) Thursday, April 28th. Usual place at 7.30 sharp. Tests will be given, so boys "Be Prepared".

T. Ward, S.M.

DELORO WOLF CUBS

April 29—The Grand Howl was taken by Cubmaster Wm. Kerr, Jr., in the absence of Miss Haacke, A.C.M. Discussion of a baseball team resulted in the boys repairing to the public school grounds for practice. After nearly an hour's strenuous practice, attendance and dues were marked. Mr. Kerr then conducted about ten minutes of organized physical culture. The boys marched back to the Hall, where a game of stool ball was played. The Grand Howl closed the meeting about 8.45 p.m. Another ball practice was held on Saturday.

DELORO BOY SCOUTS

April 22—The meeting opened with the Lord's Prayer. Nine boys were present, there being eleven on the roll. All the Scouts then paced to the corner and back. Norman O'Neill, Wm. Burke and Harry Haacke passed with 12½ minutes. Burnett Buskard then passed First Aid, completing his second class tests. Wm. Burke, B. Buskard, H. Haacke and N. O'Neill passed Observation tests. The meeting closed with God Save the King.

DELORO GIRL GUIDES

April 20—Frankford Girl Guides visited Deloro Guides at a social evening in the Hall. Com. Haacke conducted the program, opening with a Guide prayer. Lieut. Haacke then welcomed the Frankford company, introducing to the assembled companies Comm. Ketcheson and Capt. Harry-ott, of Frankford; also Comm. Haacke of Deloro; Capt. Regan of Deloro was unavoidably detained due to the illness of her baby. Comm. Haacke then presented Lieut. D. Haacke with her warrant as Lieutenant of the First Deloro Company. The ceremony of presentation of service stars by Comm. Ketcheson to the Frankford Guides followed. During the evening the following Deloro Guides began their test for their Entertainers' Badge: Audrey Mantle, piano solo and song; Bernice McIntyre, recitations; Jean O'Neill, contrasting songs; Grace Humphries, piano solo and song. Frankford entertained Deloro with a selection of Guide songs, closing with the Guide marching song, set to a march drill. Games, Maze Tag, Rats and Rabbits and Stations were played during the course of the evening. Mary Hemphill very kindly played for dancing. Lunch was served with the much-appreciated help of Mrs. Mumby, Mrs. Foster and Mr. Wm. Kerr, Jr., C.M. The Guides wish to thank them for their assistance. Taps and God Save the King closed the meeting and ended a very enjoyable event for all concerned.

He (as they drove along a lonely road): "You look lovelier to me every minute. Do you know what that's the sign of?"
She: "Sure. You're about to run out of gas."

A REAL OPPORTUNITY

On page seven in this week's issue appears a special contest announcement for Good Year Tires. Turn to it now and then get in touch, as soon as possible, with the local dealer, Mr. D. A. Burditt, who will be pleased to give full particulars. $3,000 in prizes are offered. It's worth a try. As well as handling the Goodyear tires, Mr. Burditt also carries the well-known Dunlop tires, and has a stock of accessories for all motorists, including Hart Batteries.

A LOW-COST LETTER

To write one letter a week to that relative or friend from this district who is now far away, would cost you $1.56 in stamps alone, to say nothing of the paper and envelopes and the trouble one has in thinking up something to tell them. Why not send them the Stirling News-Argus at a total cost of but $2.00 per year in Canada and $2.50 in the U.S.A., and no worry. One issue of The News-Argus contains more news of this district than a hundred letters.

Two men met in a village and after a few minutes' conversation one remarked: "You've heard what they are saying about Smith, do you suppose it's true?"

"I don't know," replied the other, "but I do know this, if you set a feather free at one end or the village it'll be a feather bed before it gets to the other."

CURRENT COMMENT

What's wrong at Ottawa? Things have been very quiet—perhaps it's the calm before a storm.

You may not believe it, but every time you hurt another you hurt yourself worse—but in a different manner.

In the United States there are three sure ways of attracting attention—be a politician, a gangster, or go nutty.

Bancroft Times—The woman who drives from the back seat is no worse than the man who cooks from the dining room table.

Canadians must be champion sneezers. The total consumption of snuff in the Dominion is now 1,008,733 pounds a year—Snuff sed.

The price of gasoline has taken a jump, but pedestrians report no relief as yet, as they claim there are still as many horseless carriages to dodge.

Peterboro Examiner—Perhaps the C.N.R. directors overlooked Sir Henry Thornton's income tax. They might have arranged to pay that for him too.

This is the time of year when grass fires should be closely watched. There has been much damage caused already this spring by such fires getting out of control.

Protests have been made about our governments not paying their bills. However, it must be admitted they show no lack of speed in collecting their "accounts".

The trout-fishing season opens on Sunday. We wonder how many Isaac Waltons will "break" the Sabbath by parading the banks of creeks carrying a fish pole?

Red and white stripes are to be the vogue in women's dresses this year. Thus the flapperish platinum blonde, in all probability, will be taken for a revolving barber pole.

We read where the gangsters in Chicago were endeavoring to control the Windy City. This was a surprise, as we were under the impression that they were already in control.

Whitby Gazette and Chronicle—Is there any significance in the fact that Old Man Reform in the cartoons always carries an umbrella of the type that formerly hooked on to a bar.

Pictou Gazette—"Hold your heads higher and don't be ashamed of your calling," is Hon. T. L. Kennedy's advice to his fellow-farmers. No class of people has more right to follow that suggestion.

Commencing next week Stirling stores will be open for business Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday nights, and will continue open nights throughout the summer. The weekly Wednesday half-holiday will not be observed until the first of June.

Marmora Herald—It is said many farmers owing to the high cost of auto licenses are putting their autos away for the present and are resorting to the use of horses, instead. Horses, evidently, have been overlooked by the government, when imposing taxes. Their turn may come next.

Starting last Sunday American broadcasting stations went on daylight saving time, hence the broadcasts scheduled for a certain hour will be shown listed an hour earlier in Canadian programs. Let's hope this will make an hour less to listen to the three C.C.C.—Crazy Crooning Crooners.

SLOW PACE

(Financial Post)

A mystery to many business men who do business with the Dominion government is why they cannot obtain prompt settlement of their bills. Mr. Bennett, answering a question in the House, the other day stated that the counsel appointed by the government to serve with the Stamp Grain Commission had not yet been paid for his services. Mr. Bennett did not say whether or not a bill had ever been presented but since the commission concluded its labors ten months ago it may be taken for granted that the bill has been in Ottawa's possession for some time.

Recently a group of advertising agencies, who did some work for the government, were kept waiting about six months for their money. As the newspapers with whom they placed advertising had to be paid promptly this means that the advertising agencies acted as bankers to the government. Their moderate margin of profit, after their overhead expenses, would do little more than pay the interest on the bank loans they had to negotiate to carry the account while the government was making up its mind to issue the cheques.

POSTAGE ON LETTERS

Postage on letters, local delivery, 2 cents for first ounce, and 1 cent for each additional ounce.

For rural delivery and to all other offices in Canada, 3 cents for first ounce and 2 cents for each additional ounce.

To Great Britain and all places in North and South America, 3 cents for the first ounce and 2 cents for each additional ounce. Other countries, 5 cents for first ounce and 3 cents for each additional ounce.

Have you learned all there is to know about your job?

We have come to the conclusion now that Spring is here, that about the most forehanded man in the community is the one who never removed the screen door last fall.

Eggs are certainly low in price and there is little profit in them for the producer. We are surprised that the chicken raisers have not petitioned the government to stoke an election, so that there would be a greater demand for the "old stock" during the campaigns and thus improve the market.

The report that Canadian currency may be expected to return to par soon on the New York market, gives fresh evidence of the faith in the stability of Canada held by American financiers. This evidence is heartening, even though there may be no immediate desire to see an end to the discount on the dollar, which helped to build the favorable trade balance that is now bringing currency back to parity.

In Nova Scotia the auto speed limit has been abolished by the Highway Department. Motorists will be severely penalized if they are proven to be the cause of an accident. In Ontario many motorists have abolished the speed limit too, themselves, but the Department of Highways claims it is still thirty-five miles per hour, and a few fines are imposed to help impress same on minds of the speedsters.

There was one highway rule the Editor noticed in Montreal while attending the Ontario-Quebec Press Convention on Friday and Saturday, that should be adopted by the Ontario Highway Department. During our trip to Beauharnois, a la bus, the driver stopped at every railway crossing. Upon inquiring we learned that all bus drivers and taxi pilots were compelled, by law, to bring their vehicles to a full stop before crossing a railway. If this law were in force in Ontario, no doubt the railway crossing fatalities would be greatly decreased.

There is one great danger about the present unemployment situation—that is some men may become so infected by lack of work that they will never recover stability. A Huntingdon farmer went to Belleville last week and offered a job to a "transient" there. It took some persuasion to get a man to accept. However success was attained, the man taken to the farm, but inside of twenty-four hours he had vanished. This goes to show that many of those out of work desire to remain so and travel from town to town where they are assured of free meals. Unfortunately there are several of these "out-of-workers" who deserve little sympathy.

Some of our correspondents have been referring to the late spring and state that farmers are delayed in getting to work on the land. There is no longer any question about the lateness of our spring. It is easily a fortnight behind time and possibly longer. Snow and rain storms have marked the early part of April and left the fields submerged in water. It only began to get warm last week and it will take a little time before the land dries out enough to be cultivated. April is an uncertain month, and it is probably only by chance that we get to sowing and planting any year before May 1st. When the good weather comes, however, it is likely to march in with a rush. Spring flowers in the woods are in the making and the birds are back from their long winter sojourn in the sunny south. Spring may have a late start but it will make up for it once it gets under way, we hope.

Depression and Courtesy

If you travel at all you note the many changes in human conduct in those who serve the public. If you have had occasion to travel by train in recent months, the depot ticket agent most likely said "Thank you" when you purchased your ticket. If you had a meal in the dining car, the dining car steward probably greeted you with a friendly smile and a hearty "Good morning"—in fact, that's likely the attitude of every railroad employee. We noticed this on our trip to Montreal last week when travelling on both of Canada's outstanding railroads. Of course, that's just as it should be; but not as it was in our days of great prosperity. As hard as it was and is to swallow the depression pill, it has certainly made people more human. Speaking of the railroads, they, too, have made mistakes. We must have them; but today they stand on the corner with their tin cup asking the government for help, we cannot forget the fact that in time of their prosperity they did not lie awake at night wondering how they could best serve the public that contributed to their prosperity.

A Way to Enjoy Shopping

Relax for a moment and turn the pages of your newspaper. Let the advertisements help you to make your shopping plans. Do you need a dress, or a coat, or a hat? Perhaps a new blanket for the guest room, some curtain material, or even a few new pots and pans for the kitchen? Of course, there are many things you want and need...but you may be letting many of them wait until you see in a store or a window exactly what you have in mind, at an especially alluring price. Those are the very things you will find in advertisements from time to time. Attractive articles, new and improved ones, prices that make quick action an economy. Think how many steps it can save you to hunt out these things, and find them, in comfort at home! If a special opportunity is offered, you'll know about it in time. When articles are announced, you can have them before they are the least bit out of date. And you can save hours of waiting and asking, miles of steps—and money too! These are but a few of the ways the advertisements in this paper can serve you. If you read them every week, you are sure to grow wise in the ways of purchasing...and saving.

Twenty Years Ago

(Issue April 25th, 1912)

Hubble - Mills

A very quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. E. Mills, Springdale Farm, Sidney, on Wednesday, April 10th, at high noon, when their youngest daughter, Lucille, was united in marriage to Mr. Lorne E. Hubble, of Frankford.

Local and Personal

Mr. Wm. Kerr has resumed his duties in the Department of Agriculture after spending two weeks at his home at Bronson.

Mr. S. J. Roy, an auditor of the Grand Trunk Railway, and his wife, of Montreal, spent several days visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robt. Roy, Stirling.

Miss Florence Bissonnette returned home from Queen's, Kingston, last Saturday, and began her new duties as fourth teacher on the staff of the Stirling High School on Monday.

Mr. Jas. R. Lowery, son of Mr. John B. Lowery, of Frankford, and a student of Queen's University, returns to the west this week and will spend the summer at Edmonton, Alberta. He was in Stirling calling upon friends on Saturday last.

The engagement is announced of Miss Ruth McDermid, only daughter of the late Dr. D. W. McDermid and Mrs. McDermid, to Mr. George Allen Martin, of Saskatoon, son of Mr. W. S. Martin, of Stirling, Ont. The marriage will take place at the end of May.

The snowstorm last Tuesday morning was an additional evidence of the strength of last winter. Did you ever see a season take so long to die, or give such vigorous kicks in its death throes?

Thus far this spring the weather has been very cold, with much rain and snow, and up to the present farmers have been unable to do any work except in a few places on high land and light soil.

This is the sad time of the year when high school graduates are hunting for a job and are beginning to realize that their learning does not seem to be fully appreciated.

The Lawn Mower

Go get the old lawn mower out, And polish off the rust; Put oil in all the little holes, And clean out all the dust. Do all you can to soften down That irritating click, And sharpen up the cutting knives— You'll need them pretty quick. The emerald whiskers on your lawn Will soon be getting long, The exercise of trimming them Will make your muscles strong. So get the old lawn mower out— But make this gentle mom.: Don't ever try to cut your grass Till after 7 a.m.

Doctor—But surely, my dear good man you weren't so mad as to look at escaping gas with a match?

Patient—Well, doctor, it was a safety match.

Some Sense o' Humor

"My scrap with her Was funny," said Pitt; "When she threw that ax I thought I'd split."

Scotchman (singing) — "I'm dancing with tears in my eyes 'cause the girl in my arms is costing me ten cents a dance."

Conductor—Your fare.
Coy Flapper (blushing) — Thank you.

The bustle is coming back. It is suggested in fashion circles, but surely no girl who has ever seen pictures of the women of another generation can believe that.

A man walking along a country road found an Irishman perched upon a sign post which pointed north, with the inscription: "This will take you to Malvern."

The Man—Why are you up there?
The Irishman—Faith, I've been sitting here for two hours and I'm wondering what time it starts.

There still are a few girls who remind one of a talking doll, forever yelling "mama" when they are squeezed.

It's hard to laugh at your own expense when your bank account is exhausted.  Many statements sound untrue, incorrect or of small consequence due to the warped opinions of the listener.  Women lie about their age; men lie about their incomes.  A stitch in time may save nine, but it's just as well to not contract the first stitch if possible.

Some Stirling people are making such thorough preparations for a rainy day that they can't enjoy today's sunshine.

Legislators are at a loss to know whether they should cut California into two states or let an earthquake do it.  Don't question your wife's judgment—look who she married.  Punishing the boy who tells the truth is putting a premium on falsehood.  It may be possible to live on love, but a square meal occasionally will help.  Two Brooklyn N. Y. men traded wives and now each thinks the other is a swindler.  So live that you won't be scared to death when your wife tells you that you talk in your sleep.  By helping the fellow ahead to make a good showing or to get a better job is the best way to get his job—not by making him look bad.

On a voyage of one of the New York to Liverpool liners, a Major H. Reynolds, of London, was registered on the passenger list. The purser assigned to the same stateroom as fellow travellers, this Major Reynolds and a husky cattleman from Texas. A little later the big Texan, ignoring the purser, hunted up the captain:

Texan—Look here, skipper. What kind of a joker is this here head room clerk of yours? I can't travel in the same stateroom with that there Major Reynolds. I can't and I won't. For as that goes neither of us likes the idea.

Captain—What complaint have you? Do you object to an army officer for a travelling companion?

Texan—Not generally, only this happens to be the Salvation Army. That there Major's other name is Henrietta.

"I wish I had a nice little girl, with a nice little car," said a certain (name withheld by request) young bank clerk one evening, a month ago, when the guests in a fashionable week-end place were gathered around the fire-place.

"What do you mean?" inquired the boarder, who is engaged to a girl as poor as himself, does not expect to own a car, and has not patience with such goings-on.

"Well," said the certain one, "here I am with a fairly good social position, sufficient income to live comfortably and go out a bit, but I cannot afford a car. Why shouldn't I link up with some unattached girl who drives a car and would enjoy my companionship, while I would enjoy the privilege of occupying a seat in her car?"

For answer the boarder gave a grunt that might be interpreted as meaning anything from disapproval to envy.

Last evening I saw the handsome young bank clerk in a smart car on Front St., with a pretty brunette. They were headed for the —???— and she was driving the car.

Isn't it marvellous how the younger generation manages things these days? Isn't it marvellous?

Hints for the Household

For the Month of April

A kitchen shower is a nice event to give for a bride-to-be. And really a girl later is apt to be more grateful for a kitchen shower than any other kind of a party.

Have each guest bring a present for the bride-to-be, suitable for a kitchen. Have them write an appropriate verse to go with each article.

It's nice for the hostess to give a clothes basket, blue bird clothes line and clothes pins. She can stretch the line in room, porch or yard. And, as guests bring in their presents, she can pin them on the line.

When all is ready—give the bride-to-be the clothes basket and tell her to sit in the middle of the room and open presents and read verses aloud. If verses have been cleverly written, this will be great fun.

If there is more time before refreshments, pass each person a sized square of cheese cloth and some colored yard or thread. Have them hem these cloths. They may button hole, overcast or outline them. When finished—fold, place in a neat pile and present the bride with a practical and welcome gift of pretty dust cloths.

COOKING HINTS

Spring Fruits

Use as many fruit dishes as possible from now on. There is nothing like fruits to keep the Spring menu healthful, tempting and economical. The most popular fruits are strawberries, rhubarb, pineapple, prunes and raisins.

Strawberries, of course, are wonderful.

Rhubarb is at its best in the Spring and is considered better than a tonic. Pineapple is economical and is classed as a most valuable Spring fruit.

Prunes are always good and beneficial.

Raisins—do not forget the raisins. In food value they are very high. Use them in bread, muffins, salad, cereal and desserts. They are fine when cooked with rhubarb.

So beginning now and during the coming months eat fruit in some form—three times a day.

Fruit Whip (Uncooked)

1 egg white.
1 cup of fruit pulp.
1 cup sugar.
Little salt.

Method: Beat egg white stiff. Add fruit and sugar. Mix well. Pile lightly in sherbet glasses. Chill. Serve topped with whipped cream, cherry or strawberry.

Fruit Whip (Baked)

1 egg white.
3 tablespoons fruit pulp.
Sugar.
Little salt.

Method: Beat egg white stiff. Add fruit and sugar. Sometimes a little vanilla. Mix well. Pour into greased baking dish or individual molds. Place in pan of water and bake until set. Serve with whipped cream, or custard.

BAKING HINTS

Old Fashioned Ginger Cookies

1 cup brown sugar.
1 cup molasses.
¾ cup of lard.
1 egg beaten.
1 teaspoon salt.
1 teaspoon soda.
1 cup sour milk.
4½ cups flour.

Method: Cream lard, sugar and salt together. Add molasses and ginger. Then egg. Dissolve soda in sour milk. Add—mix thoroughly. Add flour. Drop teaspoons of batter on larded baking sheets. Bake in moderate oven. This makes about 50 cookies. Drop cookies far enough apart to keep them round.

BONARLAW MAN CELEBRATES 88TH BIRTHDAY

Mr. John Webb, presumably the oldest resident of Rawdon Township, celebrated on Thursday last, at his home near Bonarlaw, his 88th birthday. He has lived there 75 years, first in a log house and for the past 49 years in the present brick structure. Mrs. Webb died three years ago and he now lives with his youngest daughter, Mrs. Chas. Benson.

Mr. Webb was born near Cork, Ireland, and was one of a family of five boys and five girls, all of whom are dead except himself. His father, Christopher Webb, his mother and the ten children landed in Canada 81 years ago. He remembers passing through Quebec, Montreal, etc., and finally arriving at Belleville, from where they started to walk to West Huntingdon. The eight children walked the entire distance, but the parents were given a lift by a man driving a team of horses. Sufficient money was brought from Ireland to purchase 200 acres of land. This money was all in silver and was carried in sacks on their backs. After living at West Huntingdon about 12 months they purchased the 200 acres of land on the 11th line of Rawdon, which is now owned by Mr. John Burditt and Mr. P. Tobin. At that time and the land was cleared by the father and four of his sons. Wild animals of all description now found only far north of Rawdon Township were very plentiful then in this vicinity. Even the wolves were seen after sundown. Mr. Webb recalled one incident that seemed to indicate that wolves were a real menace at times. When a lad of 10 his father had been burning some logs in various piles. As darkness drew on the wolves came past the burning heaps and were seen by him and two other boys. They started to run for home and were chased almost to the very door. One boy, Joseph Bateman, fell in a well and had to be extricated later.

Deer were very plentiful. Asked if he ever shot deer he replied that he remembered well shooting one just back of Springbrook school house. The school house there was of logs. Afterwards a small brick school was built, but as this was found to be too small, some years later the larger wooden building was put up which is still used. Well does he remember when the Springbrook Methodist Church was built, 49 years ago. St. Mark's Church, 12th line Rawdon, of which Mr. Webb is still a member, was built the same year as was also the house he now lives in with Mr. and Mrs. Benson.

When a young man he joined the Orange Order and received the Blue, Purple and Royal Arch Degrees. Lodge was held in Jas. Haggerty's log house on the 7th line.

Horses were very scarce in the early days. All had yokes of oxen. The driver would walk with his whip in hand on the left side of the oxen, thus the left hand ox would be the night ox and the right hand animal the off ox. If the boys and girls of today will remember this they will know something of what is meant when their grandfathers speak of the right horse or the off horse. A good yoke of oxen in those days was worth $120.00 and horses nearly two hundred. One thing was cheap, that is good liquor, which sold for fifty cents a gallon. The weary traveller could stop in front of a tavern and have it brought out to him in pails at the above price. This, however, did not interest Mr. Webb as he has always been a teetotaler and has never used tobacco.

Mr. Webb's father owned the first lumber wagon in these parts and neighbors would come for miles to borrow it to draw grain. Much grain was drawn too. Thousands of bushels of wheat barley and oats were drawn to Belleville and Trenton. They received as high as $1.00 per bushel. Sixty years ago often as many as 80 wagonloads of grain would be seen on the road to Belleville at one time. Another source of making ready cash in the early days was the making of potash, which was made from the ashes of elm, basswood and other trees, being boiled down in large iron potash-kettles until in a hard cake; then broken up and put into oak barrels. The finished product brought a good price but great care had to be exercised to get it right.

Mr. Webb remembers speeches made by Mackenzie Bowell and knew Billie Flint when he was in Bridge-water, now called Actinolite.

Wages sixty years ago were anything but high. He has often swung a cradle, cradling grain, from daylight until dark for fifty cents. When still young he became expert at binding wheat. It was a proud day that he was offered 80 cents for this class of work, and did so well that his employer insisted that he take $1.00 per day. He helped to open the 11th and 12th lines, and nearly 50 years ago helped to build part of the Central Ontario Railway, now C. N. R.

When asked about some of the winters he remembers, with a twinkle in his eye he replied that of all the 81 Canadian winters he has seen, the one just ended was the queerest of them all. He has a vivid remembrance of his seven weeks on the Atlantic Ocean in the old sailing vessel, although only a lad of seven at the time. The Captain of the ship used to remark that they seemed some nights to drift back as far as they went ahead during the day, and it was only by a great deal of "tackling" that they reached this side of the pond. At one time a whale followed the ship for two days. The Captain seemed to think that there was danger of the animal upsetting the ship.

Mr. Webb does not look his 88 years. His form is erect and his eyes bright. He walks like a boy and Mr. Benson saw him running quite swiftly a few days ago. He thinks nothing of carrying a bag of grain on his shoulder. Soon he will be attending to flower gardens as he is a lover of flowers. He tapped trees this spring, cut his own fuel, and made 10 gallons of maple syrup.

He is of an optimistic nature, loves a good joke, and apparently has no grievances whatever. We wish him continued good health for years to come.

Y. P. S.

The regular meeting of the League was held in the church on Monday evening with an attendance of about eighteen. Meeting opened with Geo. Williams, the president, in charge and Mrs. Gordon Webb at the organ. Hymn "All Hail the Power" was sung. This was followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison. Hymn "Glory to God for His Sunshine is Free" was sung. The minutes, given by the secretary, Evelyn Bailey, were approved. Business consisted of further discussion of plans for the banquet. Clarence Bailey then gave a short talk on the Executive meeting of the Young People of Belleville Presbytery, held in Belleville on the previous Friday of which he is vice-President. Suggestions were offered to try and have the "Rally" for October to be held in Springbrook United Church. Scripture lesson was read from Matthew Chapter 8. This was read responsively. Miss Helen Chute then gave the Topic of the evening "What Art can do". This was very interesting. Mrs. Carman Sine gave a very pleasing paper on "Things that happened fifty years ago in Springbrook", was given by Miss Hazel Bateman. An impromptu debate was then given, the topic being "Resolved that Women are of more help to men than men are to women" Mrs. C. Sine and Mrs. A. P. Williams succeeded in convincing the audience that this was true. The men's side of the question was very ably upheld by Mr. Sine and Rev. H. A. Bunt. Meeting closed by all repeating the Mizpah Benediction.

BURNBRAE

Members of the Epworth League of Wellman Corners staged a fine entertainment in St. Andrew's Church last Friday night. The program featured the three-act play "Welcome Home Jimmie". The cast was composed of the following: Leatha and Lulu Hoover, Miss Dracup, Miss Dayman, Florence Dunham, Albert Case, Omer Dracup, Burton Morton and Ernest Baker. At the conclusion of the first act the audience was favored with music by Mr. Fred Jones and Miss Grace Williams; a humorous reading by Miss Dayman and a solo by Ernest Baker. Between the second and third acts there was an enjoyable interlude consisting of songs by Mr. and Miss Dracup and Mr. Case; reading by Miss Dayman and music by Mr. Jones and Grace Williams. The third act was a fitting climax to a fine play. Rev. D. A. McKenzie welcomed the visitors and extended congratulations. The program was enjoyed and concluded with the National Anthem, after which refreshments were served to the visitors.

ANOTHER VIEWPOINT ON TREASURER'S HOUSE DEAL

Re the Action of Whitton vs. Hastings County

To the ratepayers of Hastings County:

It may seem presumptuous and unnecessary to again open public discussion on a question of which so much has already been said, but in the interest of the general public and, following comments on the above action which we can only infer must emanate from a very uninformed source, we believe that an unembellished concise statement of the best interest of all concerned.

In order to clearly elucidate the circumstances and the ultimate action of the court, and the decision rendered, it will be necessary to reiterate certain statements which have already been brought to the notice of the public through the press.

First—The Cause of the Action

On the 19th day of June, 1931, the following resolutions were passed by the Finance and Public Property Committee of the County Council, namely: "That this committee concur in Mr. Haggerty's proposition to erect a house on the County property for the use of the treasurer, he to finance said construction and work to be performed under the supervision of a committee appointed by the Council money to be refunded at the Council's pleasure and when refunded a reasonable rent to be paid by the treasurer."

By proper legal procedure the said resolution was referred to the committee of the Whole on Ways and Means with the result of the following:—"That the Committee of the Whole on Ways and Means concur in the proposition made by Mr. Haggerty to construct a residence for his personal use for $3750.00 and the working out of the details be referred to the Finance and Public Property Committee with power to act."

On or about July 7th, 1931, the Finance and Public Property Committee dealt with the foregoing resolutions as follows:—Moved by Mr. Marrett, seconded by Mr. Malley:—"That the Warden, Chairman of Finance, and Mr. Wesley Gray, with Mr. Haggerty be a building Committee to construct a dwelling for the Treasurer."—Carried.

Now, the point of dispute. The provisions of the Municipal Act of the Province of Ontario specifically stipulate that there shall be no dwelling or housing accommodation provided built or maintained for the personal use of any County official with the exception of a Jailor and Trunkie, who severally shall be provided with such accommodation erected and maintained at the expense of the County.

Now, as the above resolutions specify, the house was to be erected for the personal use of Mr. Haggerty, Treasurer, under the direct supervision of the County Council, tenders received and approved by the Committee of the Council, the architect was provided and pay guaranteed by same Committee, both for plans and for supervision of the construction. Therefore, as the Municipal Act is enacted for the special guidance of subsidiary municipal bodies, and is part and parcel of the Statutes, it is not hard to see that the foregoing resolutions, and the consequent erection of the house for any such purpose and upon County property is absolutely out of order and against the statutes, and therefore illegal.

Hence the action of Whitton vs. County of Hastings, in the interest of the ratepayers of the County, in the following form:—"That the County in no way shall be responsible for, or guarantee payment for the said dwelling, either to Mr. Haggerty or to any contractor employed to erect any dwelling for such purpose or upon said property of the County of Hastings."

Because, outside the fact of the procedure being illegal, at any time another treasurer, who perhaps had his own housing accommodation, might be appointed, and said house would become a burden of expense and maintenance upon the ratepayers of the County.

The action of Whitton vs. Hastings came before Chief Justice Ross at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on March 24 and contrary to what has been said and written, there was no trial, but why?

Because of the following, which are an exact copy of a portion of the minutes of the January session of the County Council, and which incorporate a resolution in which the above resolutions, viz:—those authorizing the erection of the house and payment for the same; were ultra vires, illegal, null and void, in the following:

"And whereas the Corporation of the County of Hastings has been advised that the said resolutions of the said Committee of this Council are ultra vires and said resolutions could not be legally passed by resolution or By-law of the said Corporation.

"Be it therefore Resolved that the said resolutions hereinbefore recited are hereby rescinded."

What more can be said? The Council themselves rescinded their own resolutions, declared their own action illegal and by so doing gave the Plaintiff his case without further action, and when the case came up for hearing the defendants filed as part of their defence, their action of the January session. Therefore as the case now stands, there is no by-law or resolution enabling the County to pay the money to Mr. Haggerty, therefore there is no need for an injunction. And, when the Council themselves rescinded their own resolutions, we leave it to the ratepayers to decide whether Whitton's action was successful, because it was directly as a result of his action that said resolutions were rescinded.

We are now at the question of costs. The Judge always exercises his own prerogative in this matter, and in the consideration that the defendants had proclaimed their own deficiency, thereby saving the expense of a trial, each side was ordered to pay their own costs. But there are always some costs which are entailed, and as a vindication of public support, the costs for the plaintiff were previous to the action, guaranteed, subscribed and paid for out of the private pockets of more than 300 signed ratepayers of the County. As herein before stated, the defendants had also to pay their own costs, but in case anyone should have been misled by any written or oral statement, it will only be necessary for them to make a detailed study of the next financial report of the County Council and they will very probably find that the costs of defending the action will be paid from the County taxes. We only ask, why was any such procedure allowed to go through, when it was fully known that said procedure was ultra vires and illegal, thereby saddling these costs upon the County for no purpose.

Apropos of the Following

Should any ratepayer wish to take legal action against the County, he must first submit his claim to the Supreme Court of Judges at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, whereupon his claim is investigated, and if found justifiable, the injunction is accordingly served upon the defendant, if not, then he has no further right of action. But when the injunction is allowed to stand (which it was) the procedure of the defendant is already adjudged questionable and it only remains for the Chief Justice to affix the blame and apportion the costs.

The Plaintiffs, viz: the ratepayers of the County through their representative, Whitton, gained their point by the Council's own action in rescinding their own resolutions, which procedure they would have been forced to take, when the injunction was allowed to stand. The defendants by their own action having nullified the case the plaintiff consented that the case be dismissed in order to save further costs.

To sum up. The injunction was allowed to stand and was only terminated by the Council rescinding their own motions, thereby cancelling the necessity for it.

MADOC JUNCTION

Spring follows winter as joy after grief—
Such a short span and a whole life is done.

Cultivate joy as the journey is brief.
Cultivate joy and come out in the sun.
Trouble is sure, but it cannot remain
When you determine, whatever betide
Joy is a buddy in sunshine or rain—Cultivate joy! Keep her close by your side.

Cultivate Joy! If you do she will come Bringing you sunshine to trade for your gloom.

Deep in your heart like a song she will hum, Flooding with melody your heart's dark room.

Cultivate joy, bring her into your life,
Sorrow may linger, but chase it away,
Joy will bring gladness to your long day.

Some of our Oddfellows attended the L.O.O.F. service in St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, on Sunday afternoon. An inspiring sermon by the Rev. E. W. Rowland, also inspiring music by the choir, under the leadership of Mr. G. Clute. The subject of the sermon was "God's Greatest Creation" and the lesson Matt.
21: 1-20.

The late Mr. Geo. Cadman, of Holloway, was buried here in Clarke's cemetery one day last week. Sympathy of friends here is extended to the bereaved wife and small son.

Mr. Russell Stapley and daughters, Keitha and Lenora attended service at Sidney Baptist Church on Sunday evening.

Friends here were shocked to hear of the death of the late W. Faulkner in Belleville. Many here remember the days when he was storekeeper at Holloway and was always popular and beloved by his friends.

Several of our people attended the evening service at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Stirling, and report uplifting sermon and music.

Mr. and Mrs. George Eggleton visited their niece, Mrs. Harry Jones, in Stirling, on Sunday, who is seriously ill.

Mr. and Mrs. T. Eggleton, Stirling visited the former's sister, Mrs. Geo.
Clark, during the week-end.

Rev. Mr. Truscott conducted the service here on Sunday. Mr. Pitman, Mr. Bray and Mr. Foster Wilson, of West Huntingdon attended the service.

Mrs. Sarah Stapley, Mr. and Mrs. R.
Stapley, Ralph and Baby Helen, took dinner with Mrs. Ethel Danford in Belleville on Sunday.

During the last week twelve large snakes have been killed near Mr. G.
Eggleton's mail box. Evidently the lovely warm days last week had brought them out of an empty post hole nearby. The latest report was that they were still coming.

Rev. W. H. Clarke, of Shannonville, with his little son, visited Mrs. George Clarke on Monday.

Rev. T. P. Bennett writes to friends here and this week mail was received from Jerusalem.

WELLMANS

Miss Edna Thrasher, of Mount Pleasant, is spending a few days with her aunt, Mrs. Paul Sharp.

er, Miss Hazel Elliott, Messrs Hamilton and Leari Humphries, of Norwood, were guests of Miss Dayman at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Johnson on Sunday evening.

ily visited at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dracup on Sunday.

Miss Vera Watson, of Stirling, was a week-end visitor at her home.

The funeral of the late James Thain was held here on Thursday afternoon. Rev. Mr. Hind assisted Rev.
Mr. Joblin, who had charge of the service. The pallbearers were Messrs
Howard Finch, Willis Irwin, George
Gibson, Arnold Wellman, Edward Todd and John Snarr.

Rev. F. G. Joblin took tea at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Watson on Thursday evening.

Our factory began operations for the season on Monday, with Mr. Wilfred Johnston as cheesemaker, assisted by his brother, Walter.

Miss Aleatha Sharp, of Stirling was a week-end visitor at her home here.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Mrs. Frank Smith is spending this week in Toronto with her parents.
Her mother, Mrs. J. A. MacMurchy, is recovering from a fall.

Nurse E. Heath is attending Mr. T.
McKeown, who is very ill, suffering from an inward abscess.

Mr. and Mrs. James MacMullen, Bossie and Malcolm, of Campbellford, were supper guests on Sunday evening at the home of his brother.

The remains of the late Paul Sharp were interred in Mount Pleasant cemetery on Friday.

The Bible Study class was held on Wednesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Manson McConnell.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Brown, of Carmel spent Sunday in our midst.

Mr. Morley Richardson, of River Valley visited Mr. and Mrs. Ray Cooney on Wednesday.

Mr. John Coggins is preparing the program for Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. George Montgomery and Douglas were guests on Sunday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Montgomery.

The farmers are busy preparing the land and a few report some seeding finished. The warm days last week aided materially in drying the fields.

At the time of writing the weather has caught a chill. The northern lights were very conspicuous on Sunday evening and that foretells more cold weather in the future.

Messrs Gerald and Ernest Sharp, of Frankford spent an evening last week in our midst.

Central Cheese Factory commenced operations on Monday, with Mr. Morris Rose in charge.

Friends here were sorry to hear of the serious illness of Mr. Arthur Wescott, of Oshawa.

The Provincial Police paid our burglar visit last week, investigating the robbery at Thrasher's store.

O yes, Madoc Junction, we were weary. We expected to be of course, after writing steadily through four sessions, but after we had all the vast accumulation of notes all written up for the press we were soon restored again to normal. Now since we have read our ten-column report in the Picton paper, we can see several places where we could have improved the write-up. However, we hope some of the delegates did find something helpful and we were told that two or three not in attendance enjoyed reading our report. We wonder if you wouldn't let us nominate the press secretary of Eggleton W.M.
S. for the office next year as she made a very creditable showing in her home auxiliary during 1931.

Friends and relatives here received word last week of the death of Mr.
John Henry Patterson, of Newburgh in his 83rd year. He was visiting his daughter, Mrs. C. H. Tapum, Napanee, at the time of his death. Besides his daughter, he leaves to mourn one son, Dr. W. E. Patterson, of Westbrook, Minn., and a sister, Mrs. Margaret Hagerman, of Stirling. Mrs.
James Linn and Mrs. Fred Jeffs are nieces and Mr. Wilbert Hagerman is a nephew.

Little Carleton Phillips is recovering from his recent accident.

Y. P. S.

The President opened Y.P.S. on Friday evening with "Jesus, Lover of my Soul," and Mr. George Weaver offered prayer. The Secretary, Miss Mildred Sharp read the minutes. It was decided to have Wellmans present their play the first week of May.
The President used as the subject for the devotional period "Sportsmanship" using as an example the life of Billy Sunday. Miss Edna Thrasher then presided with hymn "True hearted, whole hearted" and Mrs. James Sharp led in prayer. Mrs. Percy MacMullen read the Bible Lesson, found in II
Chronicles 5: 11-14 and 15th Psalm.
Mr. John Coggins sang "Lullaby" very effectively. Miss Marguerite White read a beautiful poem containing much food for thought, entitled "Keep Smiling". A duet by Mrs. Cyrus Summers and Miss Ruth Gibson, autoharp and guitar, with vocal accompaniment was heartily applauded and they responded with an encore. Mrs. Frank Smith outlined the topic "What can Music do for me?"

and she depicted a true story of a little girl who was lost on the prairie and picked up by a band of Indians and after three years her mother eventually found her. The little girl realized it was her mother when she heard her singing old lullabies. The speaker referred to the old-fashioned sing-songs which take place at Toronto Exhibition and said everyone should be willing to sing forth praises unto the Lord. Miss Betty Locke followed with a pretty solo, which was well received. Closing hymn 'Upward ever Upward' and a contest on "Different kinds of Paper."

On Sunday afternoon Mrs. L. C.
Locke rendered a very appropriate solo "The Lord is my Shepherd" and the pastor outlined the sermon on the Mount, explaining "Blessed are the meek for they shall inherit the earth."

Mr. and Mrs. James C. Linn were guests of Mrs. M. Pitman on Sunday.

We submit the following lines in memory of Mother who passed away April 21st, 1929:

Our Mother's Grave

Oh softly, most softly, bend over the bed,
Let mirth all be hushed as around her we tread.

'Tis a calm, hallowed spot, a mother
most dear,
Is laid 'neath the sod and now slum-bereth here.

Bring flowers and scatter upon the low mound,
The fairest and brightest that e'er can be found.

Fit emblems they are of the good and the best,
'Tis meet they should bloom where one loved one doth rest.

'Twas eve when the Angel of Death hovered nigh,
And closed, aye forever, her soft,
beamy eye.

Thén left there his impress upon the fair brow,
The spirit had fled, she is happler now.

Then tenderly, gently, we laid her to rest,
And kindly hands placed the dark earth on her breast.

While many an eye wept the sorrowful tear
As we left her asleep 'mid the solitude here.

RYLSTONE

Another of our pioneers has passed on to the Great Beyond in the person of James Henderson Thain. Mr.
Thain had been ailing for some time although he had not been confined to his bed. He spent the past few years house owned by Tom McKeown, and from there he was taken a few hours before he died on Tuesday. He passed away at the home of his brother,

Mr. Robert Thain, on the 8th line, where he was born 82 years ago. As ed for the coming year and a report

APRIL

Rain from the spring skies,
And the winds wooing!
Buds in the tall pine,
And birds, cooling!

Warmth from the spring sun,
And plants, growing!
Joy in the new moon,
And earth, glowing!

Rose in the spring dawn,
And streams crooning!
Mirth in the wood-folk,
It's Spring tuning!

WEST HUNTINGDON

Well we are all here, but we don't know for just how long. The way our farmers are being pressed down reminds us of those old older presses, when every now and again someone would come along and give them a twist or two down until all good was pressed out of the apple pulp. Our prophecy now is that if this keeps up much longer there will be a great number of high salaried men and po-litionians going around with only one ear, for the way our people are talking, their left ear must surely be nearly burned off. However, we do not believe all the depression can be laid at their door. Each and every individual can trace a small part of it to themselves. And we are wondering if it would be a very good idea, if instead of going around crouching about it, we would smile and be thankful we are as fortunate as we are.
Let's try it anyhow.

Mr. E. T. Saries, County Master for Centre Hastings L.O.L. attended a Committee meeting at Madoc on Saturday evening to make plans for a big Orange Rally to be held at Madoc

Mr. John Ashley had the misfortune to break his ankle while playing ball at Picton last Wednesday.

Wilson is greatly improved in health

The farmers are having an occasional holiday due to cold wet weather. The horses are wearing the lar-

WAS BORN AT WELLMANS

The following obituary of the late Mrs. W. T. Whitton, a native of Wellman's Corners, and aunt of Mrs. H. C. Martin, Stirling, appeared in April 14th issue of the Hoxie (Kansas) Sentinel:

Mary Totton, daughter of William and Agatha Totton, was born at Wellman's Corners, Ontario Canada, May 16, 1849, and took her departure from this earthly life April 8th, 1932, after a pilgrimage here of 82 years, 10 months and 23 days.

She was united in marriage to William Thomas Whitton, of Kingston, Ontario, in 1869. In the early 70's they moved from Canada to the United States and united in the movement westward. They located and founded a home in Lancaster county, Nebraska, where they, with other pioneers, helped to build the community the commonwealth and the west.

In 1902 they came to Sheridan County, Kansas, locating on a farm south of Hoxie where they resided until 1910 when they moved to Hoxie where they made their home until her husband's death in 1922. Since then she has made her home with her daughters, Mrs. Jessie B. Holdren, of Sallina, Kas., and Mrs. Eva
M. Rose, of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Whitton was a pioneer mother, knowing the difficulties, hardships, and trials of that life, and proved by her own life and character that she was able to meet the demands that came with being a mother and helping to raise a family in those conditions. She was always a true and devoted mother and wife.

For her patience, love, kindness and nobility of life, "her children rise up and call her blessed." She was a member of the Hoxie Methodist Church and was a true and consecrated follower of her Christ and Lord. Her many friends here still speak out of their remembrance loving tributes because of the influence of her beautiful life.

She is survived by her two daughters, two sons, Fred A. Whitton, of Topeka and Robt. E. of Leavenworth, Kas., two brothers, Robt. To-ton, of Swift Current, Saskatchewan, Can., and Isiah Totton, of Kansas City, Mo., one sister, Mrs. C. E. Vandervoort, of Olympia, Wash., five grandchildren and her many friends.

The funeral services were held in the Methodist church in Hoxie, Monday afternoon, conducted by the pastor, Rev. O. G. Brown. A quartette composed of Mrs. Jay Steinhauer, Mrs. R. W. Mahanna, H. C. Humphrey, and L. E. Steinhauer, sang four hymns with Miss Edith Davidson accompanying them on the piano. Her body was laid to rest in the Hoxie cemetery beside that of her husband.

Reduce the Acid

SICK stomachs, sour stomachs and indigestion usually mean excess acid. The stomach nerves are over-stimulated.

Too much acid makes the stomach and intestines sour. Alkali kills acid instantly. The best form is Phillips' Milk of Magnesia, because one harmless dose neutralizes many times its volume in acid. For 50 years the standard with physicians everywhere.

Take a spoonful in water and your unhappy condition will probably end in five minutes. Then you will always know what to do. Crude and harmful methods will never appeal to you. Go, prove this for your own sake. It may save a great many disagreeable hours. Be sure to get the genuine Phillips' Milk of Magnesia prescribed by physicians in correcting excess acids.

Farmers! — Spring is here; according to the Calendar. How are your implements? Look at them now and if they need repairs bring them to us. You are assured of a satisfactory job.

RELIEF

from HEADACHES
COLDS AND SORE THROAT
NEURITIS, NEURALGIA

Don't be a chronic sufferer from headaches, or any other pain. There is hardly an ache or pain Aspirin tablets can't relieve; they are a great comfort to women who suffer periodically. They are always to be relied on for breaking up colds.

It may be only a simple headache, or it may be neuralgia or neuritis; rheumatism. Aspirin is still the sensible thing to take. Just be certain it's Aspirin you're taking; it does not hurt the heart. (Made in Canada.)

G. K. Reid, who lives in Laforest, Ont., where Mr. Reid is employed as a telegraph operator by the Canadian National Railway. Laforest is a rather lonely place 114 miles west of North Bay, near Capreol, and without many of the advantages enjoyed by residents of this district. The most serious disadvantage, however, is the lack of schools. This does not mean, however, that their two bright little boys, Max and Douglas, just starting to school, will be deprived of an education while there. In addition to home instruction they will be able to receive instruction every few weeks from a "Government School Car" teacher. It is of this school car that Mrs. Reid is writing and as she has the happy faculty of being able to write interestingly and in flowing style the letter is given just as it was received. She writes: "It has seemed quiet since the school car left. It came last Thursday and went away on Tuesday. Had school for 2½ days. Mr. Sloman is a splendid teacher, but it isn't long enough. I called on Mrs. Sloman Sunday p.m. She took me through the cutest thing out, and she has it arranged so nicely.

"The car has been a superintendent's car. Half of it is taken up for the school. Individual seats and desks. One side is nothing but books. He has everything in it. He is very handy and has everything for the little kiddies. Up above one blackboard there is a little village he has made, and at night he turns the lights on it. Also airplanes lit up. On one wall I noticed the words '27 trees of Canada go in their bedroom. In it she has her bed, in the daytime covered by a lovely blanket and about six blue and rose covered cushions to match her curtains. A walnut chiffonier and cedar chest, a small walnut rocker and a pretty little rug. Then you go into the little girl's room. It is sweet looking.

There was not room for two beds so Mr. Sloman made a small bed and one above it. A little ladder swings down when the older girl goes to bed. It is all white enamel. He has made a cute little dresser and two chairs, puts mirrors on the walls and has white curtains on the rose over-curtains to match the floor covering. It is just like a house itself. Between the two bed rooms there is a table that lets down when they eat. Then you go on out to the kitchen. On one side there is the cupboard above, and below it, part sink, and part table. Also the stove and her sewing machine. Farther out is the furnace and large refrigerator. The toilet is between the school and bedrooms.

"They are lovely people and have the sweetest kiddies. They are clever and certainly know how to act. No slurring. You hear the last letter as plainly as the first. This is their sixth year on the car. They like it. She taught in Toronto. Sunday night he showed the picture 'Robinson Crusoe.' Max could tell me all about it next day. He has a moving picture machine and camera. On Monday he showed pictures he had taken on his travels. They were good. He also had a picture of Italy where a lot of the Italians from here came from. He said he wrote the Eastman Co., asking if there were any rich Americans touring Italy from whom they could get pictures for his car. He heard nothing from them for a long time. Then along came these pictures as a gift to him, omitting any name.

"The picture was interesting and the Italians when they saw it went crazy. Their Italian tongues were sure warbling, picking out people they knew on the streets. The section foreman here saw his home and a farm. Talk about kids. There were swarms of them in the picture. Queer looking houses, all stone, and joined together, and long winding streets. Women carrying baskets on their heads, and donkeys with their loads. The Italians here were tickled to death to see it. The teacher took pictures of Max and Doug and the other two kiddies climbing rocks, etc. We will see it when he comes again, if we are here. They will not be here again for six weeks.

"In one picture he showed up the line there were castles and monuments he built for the kiddies of snow. I wish you could have seen it. Another one of an engine he built out of barrels and boxes. It looks real.

At another place he took a bunch of squaws. He said they were proud to have their pictures taken but you would have a good laugh at the look on their faces. She gave me some lovely flower slips of all kinds. She has lovely flowers in her car. He gave Ken some magazines. Ken liked him and was up a lot talking to him. He said he gets a film every month. Said he had pictures of the girls he wouldn't part with for anything."

Special News For Farmers

Clipping the horse that has a heavy coat makes work easier for both horse and attendant. Grooming is not always as thorough as it might be even with a clipped horse to say nothing about the one with a long, heavy covering of hair.

Too big a rush the first day of seeding may break the heart of the young horse that is unaccustomed to work. Even the mature horse that has been idle all winter feels the strain of the first few days on the soft ground. Bring them to a full day's work gradually.

School Fairs

School Fairs are being continued throughout Ontario by the Ontario Department of Agriculture. This spring, however, the pupils of the rural schools will not receive seeds as they have formerly and special judges will not be provided, but the Department expects School Fairs to be carried on much the same as in the past. The Agricultural Representatives, therefore will require the co-operation of various people to assist in the planning of any necessary changes and to assist with the judging at School Fairs.

Plant Raspberries Early

When starting a raspberry patch or plantation the planting should take place very early in the spring, before the canes have budded out. This enables the plants to go forward without much shock. It is important that the soil be carefully prepared and well fertilized if one is to secure abundant crops.

Two general systems of planting are equally popular. With the hill system the plants are set about four feet apart each way, while if the hedge row system is used the distance between the rows should be about six feet, in order to provide plenty of room for cultivation. If the plantation is of considerable size, the best method to adopt is to run a furrow and set the plants in this. For a small plantation the hills may be opened with a spade with equal success.

As a rule there is greater danger of shallow planting than of setting the plants too deep. The crown should be at least four inches lower than the level of the ground in such a manner that the row of plants is in a depression. Cultivation later on will level up the soil. In setting the plants the earth should be trampled firmly above the roots so as to ensure proper contact between the soil and the small roots.

Farm Horses Come Back

The present low price of oats and other feeds in contrast with the higher costs of gas and oil required in tractor operation combine to indicate that the horse is rapidly regaining favour as a medium of farm power. The next few years will likely see a revival in horse breeding and the use of heavy draft horses on the farms of Canada, both east and west. Under present conditions horses can be bred and reared cheaply and when they have reached the working age, the charges for depreciation, fuel and repairs are surprisingly low, for the self-oiling engine has nothing whatever on the self-starting heavy draft horses.

How to Use Fertilizers

Experience shows that fertilizer broadcast on top of the soil will not give nearly as good results as will the same fertilizer drilled into the soil. The exact placing of fertilizers must be determined for each class of crops and for each general type of soil. Fertilizer drilled into the soil for grains gives better results than an equal quantity of the same fertilizer broadcast and worked into the soil. For grain, the tube application, as accomplished by the ordinary grain drill fertilizer equipment, gives satisfactory application up to 400 pounds to the acre. For potatoes fertilizer should be sown on either side of the seed pieces, but not in contact with them, and on a level with the seed pieces, neither above nor below them. For turnips and mangels grown on the drill, broadcast and fertilizer on the land just before drilling it up. For beans and peas special care should be taken to prevent seed and fertilizer coming together. Two very important points in fertilizing all crops are: 1. Get the fertilizer down into the damp soil. 2. Don't let much of it come in contact with the seed or seed piece.

Perth County shipped a carload of purebred Holstein cows to the U.S.A. recently, selling around the $100 mark. A Grain Club in Oats has just been organized for the Junior Farmers of Perth and has a membership of 72.

Preparations in Kent and Norfolk Counties indicate that the tobacco acreage this year will be about on a par with that of 1931.

Allison branch of the Central Ontario Potato Growers' Association marketed a quantity of Canada Fancy potatoes recently. These are being put up in 15-pound bags and are retailing in Toronto at 18 cents each which nets the growers about 45c per 90 pounds.

A report from Temiskaming district states that approximately 200 herds of cattle have been tested for T.B. during the past winter with less than 1 per cent reacting.

Farmers in Wellington County are worried about their seed oats and many will use seed oats from the 1930 crop, which is most unusual. A similar scarcity is reported in other counties too.

There appears to be a more general interest in the sowing of registered seed and the growing of registered grain this year than ever before. Down in Renfrew County last year they had the largest number of registered seed growers on record and the number will likely be increased in 1932. Most of the seed-cleaning plants have been running steadily for some time and one or two of the plants running nights to keep up with the demand for cleaning.

Improving the Appearance and Value of Farms by Planting

A farmer can improve the appearance and increase the value of his farm in 10 to 20 years by spending a few days in the spring planting trees and shrubs around the farm buildings. A cash outlay is not necessary, as he may procure native trees and shrubs in neighboring woods and along the fence rows.

The trees should be placed to give a setting for the buildings rather than hiding them. Their ultimate size should be kept in mind in order that they will be spaced properly, and will not be too close to the buildings.

As the root hairs that take up food from the soil are at the end of the roots, care should be taken to preserve as many of these root hairs as possible. When moving trees in dry weather, the roots should be protected by wet burlap or blankets.

In planting, the hole should be sufficiently large to take the roots without cramping. Rich loam should be well worked in around the roots. Some of the branches should be removed to offset the loss of roots and in pruning, the final desired shape of the tree should be kept in mind, such as the distance the lowest branch should be from the ground.

The white elm, sugar maple, red maple, red oak, white ash, and white oak are fine trees for planting in all parts of Southern Ontario. The soft or silver maple should not be planted extensively as it has very brittle wood which breaks badly when exposed to heavy winds and ice storms.

The native sumach and dogwood make attractive shrubs for planting around the grounds.

Early in the spring is the best time to plant trees in Ontario. Chances of success will be lessened greatly if left until late spring, as growth will be quite active and the moving will be a greater shock to the tree.

Increase Endurance

THERE ARE WAYS AND WAYS TO BUILD UP THE HEALTH THAT MAKES FOR ENDURANCE

But one method unerring is through a simple diet. And a simple diet means plenty of the best food—

WRIGHT'S BREAD

Cut to a minimum your rich, highly stimulating foods that over-tax and under-nourish. And in proportion as you cut down on these, increase your Bread-eating.

Bread gives you far greater energy-value than any other food. And it will never drive you to a doctor to be dosed for toxic poisoning.

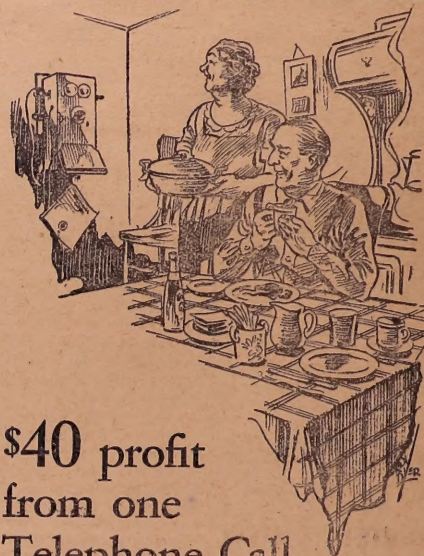

Always insist upon Wright's Bread, the Loaf with the Big food value.

The local dealer had offered Jim Ross a price for his fat steers, but Jim was canny. He thought he ought to get a better price.

So he telephoned in to the stockyards — and found that beef had gone up two cents. He took his steers in that day and made $40 extra profit. The telephone call cost him 35 cents.

No wonder Jim said to his wife that night when he got home for a late supper: "It's lucky we've kept our telephone."

General News of Interest

Midland—Mrs. W. G. Cave, wife of the proprietor of the Midland Argus died suddenly here Friday night, shortly after she had attended a meeting. Her husband and two daughters survive.

West Huntingdon—All regret to hear of the death of Mr. Cadman, who died in the Belleville Hospital a week ago Saturday last. He is the brother of Mrs. F. Ashley and the sympathy of the community goes out to the mourners.

Frankford—Believed to have become depressed over business conditions, Gilbert Lohnes, aged 55 years, ended his life shortly after noon on Monday with a bullet, in a garage on his farm, one mile and a half from Frankford on the Glen Ross Road. His family was in the house at the time and were unaware of his intention to commit suicide. Lohnes appeared to be in poor health of late and to his friends he seemed to be growing worse. He had always farmed but had been living in the village for a time and just moved back upon his farm a few weeks ago.

Deseronto—A fire doing approximately $100,000 swept Deseronto early Tuesday morning. At one time it was thought the entire business section would be wiped out. Fire brigades from Belleville and Napanee were called to assist and greatly aided in checking the conflagration.

Ottawa—Emphatic denial was given in Government circles on Saturday to a rumor published in a Toronto morning paper to the effect that Sir Henry Thornton was resigning as president of the Canadian National Railways, to be succeeded by Sir Henry Drayton. "There is nothing whatever in the report," it was officially stated.

Norwood—The dam at the big pond broke away about four o'clock a.m. Wednesday, last week. The old bridge on the provincial highway adjoining the dam was completely destroyed and the hydro lines narrowly escaped disaster as one of the big poles had its foundations almost swept away by the rushing waters. Fortunately no one was hurt and little damage, beyond flooding, was done to the property in the flats below the dam.

Marmora—Raging dangerously close to the village a bush fire of large proportions was brought under control only with the greatest difficulty after a fight of nearly eight hours. The fire started on the 2nd concession of Marmora Township on lot 13. It is thought that bush was being burned and that the fire had got into the scorched grass in the fields. Small bushes, dry as tinder spread the flame until it covered an area of 10 acres. Its spread was halted temporarily but it sprang up again aided by a wind before being finally subdued.

Cornwall—Announcement was made here last Wednesday of the purchase of the Cornwall Standard by the Cornwall Freeholder. The two papers will be amalgamated and known as the Standard-Freeholder, with the first issue April 30. The purchase follows the recent death of the pioneer publisher, W. Gibbons, who, for 44 years, conducted the Standard. The Standard-Freeholder, will be under the management of C. J. McAvish and will be identified in ownership with the Owen Sound Sun-Times. The Freeholder was established in 1846 and the Standard in 1886.

Rev. Alex Rainnie, B.A., of High River, Alberta, preached in Hoods United Church on Sunday afternoon, April 17th, to a large attentive congregation. Rev. Rainnie has come east as the President of Alberta Conference to confer with the Home Mission Committee of the United Church regarding missions in the West. The Committee met last week in Toronto. Rev. Mr. Rainnie is a native of Seymour and widely known in Ontario, having held charges at Roslin, Bishop's Mills, Aisla Craig, Parkhill, etc., and all feel justly proud of the position which has been conferred upon him unsought as it was by Rev. Rainnie.

Campbellford—Threatening the complete destruction of the Hydro-Electric Power Pulp Mill situated in the south of the town, fire on Saturday raged through a large stack of pulpwood. Believed to be due to internal combustion, the outbreak first occurred in one of the smaller stacks of wood at 5 p.m. on Friday and was got under control within a space of 45 minutes. Shortly after noon Saturday the outbreak was renewed in a large pile which adjoins the mill, and raged throughout the night, destroying, it is said, between 12 and 15 thousand cords of peeled pulpwood. The fire raged furiously, fanned by a strong northerly breeze. A call was sent to Stirling fire brigade to be ready if summoned. However, it was unnecessary for the Stirling firemen to make the journey.

Deloro—Ten days at hard labor in the county gaol was the sentence meted out by Magistrate Casement to Fred Hawara, of this place, in the county police court held at Marmora on Friday afternoon, when accused was found guilty of common assault. Hawara, a native of Poland, appeared before His Worship being charged that he did unlawfully commit common assault against one Pete Steffon, another Pole, on April 7th last. Both men are employed at the smelting plant here. Steffon accused Hawara of trying to hit him over the head with a hammer but due to his (Steffon's) agility, he evaded the blow and was only hit on the shoulder. It was also proven that there had been considerable hard feelings between the two men for quite some time past and that the assault was the climax of their feud, which had been quite long lived.

Ottawa—Foreshadowing, it is believed here, many important changes in the Royal Canadian Air Force personnel and the development of Trenton air base as the premier airport of the West, Wing Commander L. S. Breadner was appointed officer commanding the new base at Trenton. Wing Commander Breadner, who has been Acting Director of the force is a veteran flier and has a brilliant World War record. He served with the Royal Naval Air Service in the early days of the conflict, and continued as an active flier when the Royal Air Force was formed. He saw service in both France and Belgium and was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross. Although in its early stages of development, Trenton is looked on in aviation circles here as the future "Croydon" of Canadian aviation. It is considered ideally situated and has facilities for handling both land and sea planes.

Belleville—J. Sinclair of Smith's Falls, engineer and driver of the Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train No. 19 which struck a car driven by Everett Mastin, Point Anne on the evening of March 22nd last, was arrested Monday morning by Provincial Police on a charge of criminal negligence. Sinclair appeared in the local police court, held before Magistrate Mikel, being charged that he did, while engineer of C.P.R. passenger train No. 19, by the negligent operation of his train cause bodily injury resulting in the death of Renota Storr, Miles Cummings, Dorothy Darlington and Everett Mastin contrary to section 284 of the Canadian Criminal Code. Sinclair pleaded not guilty to the charge and upon advice of his counsel, Mr. A. W. Roebuck, K.C., of Toronto, elected trial before the next court of competent jurisdiction of the General Sessions of the County Court. Mr. B. C. Donnan appeared for the Crown.

Campbellford—Pleading not guilty to a charge of unlawfully taking from her legal guardians, a 15-year-old girl without their consent, Jack Daws, 25, of Campbellford, appeared before Magistrate G. A. Payne in Campbellford Police Court last Wednesday afternoon and was sentenced to a term of six months in Cobourg gaol. The charge was laid under Section 315 of the Criminal Code, Col. F. G. Boggs, K.C., Crown Attorney, handling the prosecution. N. Alex McColl represented the defendant. The case was heard in camera on the order of the magistrate. The warrant for the arrest of Laws was issued by Chief G. C. Bromley of Campbellford on complaint of the girl's parents when it was found she was missing. Laws was located by Toronto police in that city and was brought to Campbellford for trial, coming before Magistrate Payne on April 16, when the case was adjourned until last Wednesday, bail set for at $3200. The date for the act was set as April 11, Laws being apprehended by Toronto police on April 14.

PHILLIPS — DAFOE

A very quiet, but pretty wedding took place on Saturday, April 23rd., at the parsonage at Stirling, when Miss Norma Phillips, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. E. Phillips became the bride of Mr. Bert Dafoe, both of Gunter. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Mr. Rowland, of Stirling. The bride looked very charming in blue and grey georgette dress, with hat, shoes and coat to match. Miss Helen Gunsolus, cousin of the groom, acted as bridesmaid and Mr. Bert Twiddy, another cousin of the groom, was best man. Immediately after the ceremony the bridal party motored to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gunsolus, where a lovely wedding dinner was served. BOB PATTERSON

MARKED PROGRESS BY PRESBY- TERIAL W.M.S.

The eighteenth annual meeting of the Ontario Provincial Society of the W.M.S. of the Presbyterian Church of Canada, which met in St. Paul's Church, Peterboro, last week, was pronounced by the two hundred and sixty delegates to be the very best yet held. Every presbyterial of the twenty-four was represented. Mrs. W. A. McLennan, president, presided at every session.

The prevailing note of all the meetings was "God is Able" and "Be Still and Know that I am God."

Throughout the entire programme Divine Power, love, long suffering and authority were the themes stressed and the devotional periods beginning each session lifted the thoughts of all to the spiritual and made all realize that indeed it is the "Lord's Work" that is being undertaken.

The evening session on Tuesday began with hymn and chorus by the junior organization where a large number of girls and boys marched in to the hymn "Onward Christian Soldiers". An interesting feature was "Jesus Loves Me" by some of the small girls, sung in Chinese.

At this session also was the presenting to the meeting by Miss Ferguson of the Deaconess' Training School of five graduates: Miss Bessie McMurphy, honor graduate nurse; Miss McMurphy, honor graduate nurse; Miss McMurphy, honor graduate nurse; Miss McMurphy, honor graduate nurse; Miss McMurphy, honor graduate nurse.

Reports from Presbyterials were very optimistic and all expressing the idea that the times are a challenge to the best.

Provincial secretaries in speaking to the reports urged all to a renewed effort in the year to come. The Y. W. secretary claimed the distinction of increasing in both membership and giving as this department is growing greatly.

Miss Mitchell, recording secretary, in honor of her mother, presented the society with a beautiful banner inscribed with the motto: "The World for Christ and the burning bush."

ST. PAUL'S Y. P. S.

St. Paul's Young People Society met as usual on Monday evening with an attendance of 90. The devotional exercises were conducted by the President. Scripture lesson was taken from the 5th chapter of Isaiah, read by John Munro. In his comments the speaker emphasized the disappointment of God because He expected man to bring forth grapes, and instead He brought forth wild grapes. Prayer was then led by Rev. E. W. Rowland.

Mr. Maurice Bell, 4th vice-president, presided over the remaining program. Miss Evelyn Davidson delighted the audience with a violin solo entitled "The Sleigh Ride" accompanied at the piano by Mrs. E. W. Rowland. Another treat was an accordion solo, given by Mr. Archie Scott. The main feature of the evening was a splendid address on the subject "What is Man?" By illustrations the speaker showed that taken physically, man was a very insignificant creature. The actual commercial value of the constituents of a man was placed at 88 cents. From the astronomer's view point man in comparison to the vast universe is a mere speck. Considering man from the scientist's view point, he is a marvellous creature because of the wonderful inventions he has perfected, citing such men as Marconi. The speaker then referred his audience to the Bible and here it was found the true value of man was that he is a little lower than God. In a very fluent manner the speaker showed that man was a very dependent creature, a fallen creature, but a redeemed creature. The Sunday School orchestra gave a splendid selection to the delight of all present. Mrs. S. Williams put on a "Kitchen shower" contest, white and kahki groups gaining equal honors. The Mizpah benediction closed this very helpful meeting.

The Missionary meeting of St. Andrew's Guild proved helpful and interesting to a large attendance and was held under the able direction of Miss Smith, on Monday evening, with Miss Georgia Green in the chair. Mr. Furlival favored the gathering with a trombone solo and Mrs. A. Hammond led in prayer. Several of the younger girls then appeared on the platform representing Dollars, Dimes, Sympathy, Prayer and Love, bound together by a great chain of Friendship. These were the essentials in missionary work. While this group were on the platform everyone joined heartily in singing "Blest be the Tie that Binds". Harold Baker then read the Indian version of the 23rd Psalm. Miss Gena Sperry read the Scripture reading. This was followed by a very cleverly arranged pageant "For Christ and the Church". The following took their parts as representing: the Guild, Miss Iva Chambers; the Church, Miss Trevelde Eggleston; China, Helen Ward; India, Phyllis Mitchell; Japan, Eileen Chambers; Siam, Mary Tulloch; S. America, Leslie Chambers; Mexico, Marguerite Rosebush; Africa, Leslie Eggleston; Syria, Jack Tulloch; Persia, Gerald Ward. Each of these were attired in the picturesque costumes of the country they represented and took their respective parts exceptionally well. Mrs. Murdoff then sang a very well chosen solo that fitted in nicely with the topic of the evening, which was taken by Arthur Duncan. He emphasized the need of home missions among the foreign districts of our cities. In order to bring these foreign speaking people up to our standard of citizenship we must mingle with them and this is missionary work. We must persuade them to take an active part in the affairs of the church and community and this through the medium of the "down town" mission. We can all do our bit to support this great work. Mr. Duncan gave a vivid description of the activities of one of these missions with which he was closely associated while in Toronto. He brought out the great influence they had over the lives of these strangers within our gates. The meeting was brought to a close with the Mizpah Benediction. It was an evening well spent, and much enjoyed by all.

THE LATE JAMES HENDERSON THAIN

In Rawdon, on April 19th, there passed to Eternal Rest an aged resident, in the person of James Henderson Thain in his eighty-second year. Deceased was born in Aberdeen, Scotland, the son of Jonathan Thain and Mary Henderson and came to Canada with his parents when a small child. He spent his boyhood days on the farm where his nephew, Fred Thain and family, and his brother, Robert Thain reside. Mr. Thain was a musician by trade and never married. He never wandered far from the Old Hill, the homestead from where the funeral took place. Deceased was a member of the Brethren, attended meetings and enjoyed fellowship at the Gospel Hall on the tenth concession of Rawdon. The funeral took place on Thursday afternoon, service being conducted in Wellmans United Church. A soul-stirring sermon was delivered by the Scottish Evangelist, Wm. Hynd, of Hamilton. Rev. F. G.

Johlin, pastor of Wellmans Church, rendered his services in a sympathetic Christian manner. Mr. Hynd chose for his text part of the third and eighteenth verses of the twentieth chapter of first Samuel, "Truly as the Lord liveth and as thy soul liveth there is but a step between me and death". "Tomorrow thou shalt be missed because thy seat will be empty." During the service Wellmans choir sang appropriately "No shadows in the Valley". Left to mourn his loss is his brother Robert, only surviving member of a family of twelve. The bearers were Messrs. Howard Finch, Willis Irwin, George Gibson, Arnold Wellman, John Snarr, Edward Todd. Interment took place in the family plot at Wellmans.

RIVER VALLEY W. I.

The River Valley Women's Institute held the annual open meeting at the River Valley Schoolhouse on Friday, April 15th. The attendance was good and the number of visitors which included a majority of men, gave full evidence of the interest taken in the Women's Institute. The meeting opened with the singing of the "Maple Leaf" followed by the Lord's Prayer. Minutes of the March meeting were read and adopted. The President stated that an invitation had been received from the Stirling Branch to join them at the Delegate meeting in the Community Hall on June 10th. It was moved and seconded that this invitation be accepted. A program followed which was thoroughly enjoyed. Mr. Wm. Heasman very capably carried out the duties of Chairman. A special feature of the evening was a paper excellently prepared and given by Mrs. J. Sager on the history of River Valley, commencing with various customs, situations and tendencies of about a century ago, also giving a descriptive account of every portion of land in the vicinity, the origin of farms and the subsequent owners and tenets up to the present date. Most of this information was received from Mrs. S. A. Dix (nee Miss S. A. Hanna)—a life member of the R. V. W. I., who was born and raised in River Valley and has now attained the grand old age of nearly "four score years and ten". The reminiscences proved of great interest to a very attentive audience. Program: Community singing; humorous recitation, Miss Adeline Bush; Impromptu Music by Miss Gladys Rosebush; Reading, "Think before you speak the fatal hasty word", Mrs. Frank Carr; Piano-forte solo, Mrs. C. Chard; Paper, "Local Pioneer Days", Mrs. Sager; Mouth organ selection, Master Glen Morrow; Reading, A Story with pathos, demonstrating that harsh and hasty word with ultimate results, Mrs. Lansing; Song and encore by Mr. Bob Findlay; Community Singing; Contest "Musical Romance", arranged and supervised by Mrs. N. and Miss G. VISITS BEAUHARNOIS town of Georgetown every morning, rain or shine. This meeting was the high light of the writer's visit in Montreal, as it had been fifteen years since we had handclasped each other.

The afternoon session was taken up with weekly newspaper questions, etc. Also an illustrated talk on Beauharnois (Bo-harn-wa). At 6.30 p.m. a dinner was served in the Mount Royal Hotel, with President A. W. Marsh, of the Amherstburg (Ont.) Echo as toastmaster. An outstanding part of the program was folk songs by the Sagenay Singers, who are heard over the C.N.R. broadcasts from Montreal. The guest speaker was Gratton O'Leary, special editorial writer on the Ottawa Journal, and former member of the Press Gallery, at Dominion Parliament. The speaker's subject was "Memoirs of Parliament" and was most interesting as well as educational.

On Saturday the party was taken by bus on a tour of inspection of the Beauharnois Power plant construction, which is about thirty-five miles south-west of Montreal. It is difficult to describe the magnitude of this project; one has to see it to realize what a great undertaking it is. The canal is fifteen miles long and is being built across country in a similar way in which a highway would be staked. Railway tracks and farms are not considered an obstacle. The canal will be approximately one mile wide. At present there are over 2200 men employed and 700 more will be taken on within the next three weeks. As many as 4500 men have been employed. Arriving at the project about eleven o'clock. The party was guided through the mammoth power house, which will develop 500,000 h.p. when completed. Following this tour we were guests of the Beauharnois Co. at luncheon, in one of the dining halls near the power plant. It was here we were introduced to Mr. Sweezy, the man who fathered the project and who has been greatly condemned. He was most congenial and extended a welcome to the party. After meeting some of the directors and getting first-hand information, we are led to believe that the Beauharnois scandal was sponsored by the financial interests of Montreal, who were or are provoked because someone else had "scooped" them. When the entire project is completed—if it is—it will cost sixty-one millions of dollars and will develop a maximum of two hundred millions horsepower. After a trip along the canal, the busses started the return journey. In the journey a ferry trip had to be made from Lachine to Beauvais, and when getting off the ferry on the return trip, the bus was damaged and the balance of the journey had to be made by taxi, and we arrived at our hotel about 6.45 p.m. after a most strenuous day. During our ride in the bus and taxi we noticed that the drivers of both stopped before crossing a railway track and upon enquiring learned that the law in Quebec compels all commercial vehicles to come to a full stop at railway crossings before traversing. This should be adopted in Ontario.

After a clean-up and supper the publishers said good-bye to each other and entrained for their different home towns.

Special mention should be made of Mr. Geo. Legge, of Granby and Mr. Adam Sellar, of Huntingdon, Quebec, for their efforts in making the convention a success. Nothing was left undone in this regard. Also the two railways, C.N.R. and C.P.R. were most courteous and only too pleased to accommodate a member of the Press in any service on their lines.

All in all it was a most enjoyable trip, but we much prefer good old Stirling to Montreal as a place of residence.

LOCAL PLAY WELL ACTED

a debt. Virgy is very doubtful if this idea of Samson's will go over very big and Peggy also is in doubt, but a little more sympathetic. Marcia forces Bob to break a date with Peggy and this, the last straw, as far as Peggy was concerned, makes her decide that the Wargrims have bossed things long enough. She later agrees to give Samson the necessary money to put Eureka on the industrial map and upset Wargrims plans. Wargrim has business so well under control that he practically owns Clinton, a neighboring town and want to keep Eureka down. Wargrim gives Jimmy warning to move out of town.

In the second act Jud also gets his walking ticket from Wargrim, with orders to take the next train out of town. Wargrim, not knowing Peggy's real name, is anxious to find out why she is so interested in the affairs of Eureka and with all the rest, except Jud and Jimmy is blissfully ignorant that she is behind the rejuvenation scheme. Peggy gives Jud the $2,000 and later Jud intends giving it to Bob.

in order that he may be free from Wargrim. Just then the word comes in that Bruener's mill is burning, and this is the last remaining factory in the town. Incendiary is suspected. After some thought, Bob accepts the money and gives the entire edition over to articles pertaining to the mill fire and telling the public in general just what kind of a man Wargrim is. Peggy very willingly helps write the articles. Of course, just at this time Wargrim has left town for a few days, and everything, including Jud, expects fireworks when he returns and sees Samson's billboards up on every lot available and reads the evening edition of the Eureka News.

The third act opens with activity in all sections. Wargrim is about to return to town and poor Jud is seeking out a hiding place until the expected storm passes over. Bob, in the meantime, cannot figure out who has been kind enough to forward the money for all this. Later Wargrim arrives and tells that he is going to crush the paper and when told that Bob's $2,000 has been left with his secretary, Wargrim goes into a regular tantrum. Peggy takes the blame for the articles and later gives Wargrim a dose of his own medicine. She informs him that he was responsible for the burning of the mill. She also reveals that Wargrim was left in charge of the holdings of his brother in Eureka, after the death of the latter. These holdings had been swindled by John Wargrim until he had made a great deal of money out of them, keeping it all for himself, and at the same time keeping the town of Eureka down to make his own property in Clinton worth more. She simply gives the whole works a thorough airing, letting Wargrim know that she intends putting him in the hands of the law unless he restores the stolen real estate and the profits therefrom, restores the destroyed mill, pays for the Samson advertising idea, and apologizes to Bob and her. As well as all this, she informs Wargrim that she happens to be his niece, the rightful heir of the real estate of the deceased brother, and that her intentions are to take it all from him. Marcia also comes in for her share of justice and Peggy turns the wheels of fate when she orders Bob to cancel a date with Marcia. All through this play Jimmy Samson has been busily engaged in trying to put some life into Eureka, at the same time taking the credit for everything that happened. The Uplift Society leader, Mrs. Nelson Dodd gives up hope of every making anything out of Jud and all the members of the cast expertly portrayed the roles in which they played. It was truly a success.

Before the entertainment began and between acts excellent violin solos were rendered by Miss Alice Calow, accompanied by Miss Jean McCubben.

Those in charge of the play are to be congratulated. The very fine programs, which they had prepared for the convenience of the patrons, containing full details of the performance, as well as thirty-eight advertisements of local business places were indeed a novel idea. Mr. G. L. Clute and Mrs. Buttmer Belshaw directed the performance which showed careful and expert guidance.
